

INJURIES FORCE CHANGE IN TIGER BACK POSITIONS

Dogged by persistent backfield injuries, Coach Bowerman threw his Red and Black football squad into a tough hour and a half of scrimmage last night with a new backfield combination of Doy at quarter, Smith and Bob Ettinger at halves, and Leo Sakraida at full, to offset the loss of Bayless with a bad charley-horse, and Lewis with a toe of the same. The combination clicked nicely for a first night performance.

Bayless will definitely not start the game, and may not even dress, when the Tigers meet the powerful Marshfield Bonersushers at Van Scoyoc field Saturday. Lewis may not start but will probably see action.

To add to Bowerman's woe, injuries are also knocking all along the line, with Edon Crow, right end, suffering from a bad ankle. Blair and Santo at tackles both injured, and Wilson, regular center, out with a badly cut hand.

To offset these injuries the coach was trying new men, with Fraley looking particularly impressive at right end. New to the position, Fraley was playing the position like a veteran last night. Kunzman, at the other end, was snagging passes in a way to warm the cookies of the coach's heart, and was leading the fight in the line.

Evidently Bowerman is going to rely on surprise as well as power in his attack against Marshfield, for he had the men working on a fast breaking, crashing play into the center of the line, starting on the first signal instead of on the fifth, from the T formation. Smith was carrying the ball, and the play was going for long gains against the reserves.

Reports from Marshfield indicate that the coast team relies strongly on power, and on a spectacular passing attack. In preparation, the Tigers will go through an intensive pass-defense drill tonight, combined with a light signal drill. No pads will be worn, and there will be no more scrimmages until game time.

The Tigers will take the field arrayed in new headgear Saturday, with a sombre black style having been ordered. The black headgear, matched with black jerseys and black pants give the team an ominous look in contrast to the gay orange outfits worn by the Marshfield team.

Interest in the game is high. It will be the first regular high school game on Van Scoyoc field this year, the second game for the Tigers, and the third for Marshfield.

TROJAN EDITORIAL DEFENDS MENTOR

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 17.—(AP)—The Daily Trojan, official campus publication of the University of Southern California, took sharp editorial issue today against an attack on Coach Howard Jones by Charles Paddock, one-time Trojan sprint star. Paddock, now business manager of two Long Beach, Cal., newspapers, wrote a column in one of the papers in which he attacked the football team "must begin to show results again," criticized the Jones system of play as "obsolete."

In reply, Tom Lawless, editor of the campus publication, declared that "the students of S. C. are satisfied with the head man as a football coach." If Mr. Paddock thinks that the student body is dissatisfied with Coach Jones, if he thinks that any other person could possibly replace the head man in the hearts of thousands of Trojans, then Mr. Paddock should pay a visit to the campus (if he dares) and talk to the student body and see the team on the football field.

SIMPSON GETS EVEN WITH MEXICAN PUG

OAKLAND, Oct. 17.—(AP)—George Simpson, of Spokane, today had squared the account of Nash Garrison, Mexico City light heavyweight. Two weeks ago Garrison knocked out Simpson in nine rounds, but last night Simpson flattened the Mexican four times and won on a technical knockout in the sixth. Simpson weighed 174½ pounds, Garrison 176.

WEBFOOT'S STAR GUARD

Rosa Carter, star guard of the University of Oregon's football eleven, is considered one of the coast's outstanding linemen. He plays from Lakeview and is playing his final year on the Webfoot varsity.

ON THE FOOTBALL FRONT

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 17.—(AP)—With its best halfback, Bud Goodin, on the sidelines with a chipped ankle bone, University of Oregon may depend on a percentage game when it meets University of Idaho here Saturday.

Riordan, Oregon end, has averaged 36.5 yards from scrimmage in 30 kicks this season. His understudy, Jerry Donnell, sub fullback, has an average of 38.4 yards for seven punts.

Against California Oregon's attack through the middle of the line was strong with fullback Mischek leading the way. However the plays outside of tackle yielded little yardage, particularly without Bud Goodin on the carrying end.

King, Lasselle, De Pittard and Kestley will be called upon at left half until Goodin returns in a few weeks.

CORVALLIS, Ore., Oct. 17.—(AP)—The Oregon State Beavers, whose defense has been sufficient the past two seasons to hold the University of Southern California attack in leash, took their new wide-open offense to Los Angeles today to hurl against the Trojans Saturday.

Two years ago 11 "iron immortals" of Oregon State college held Southern California to a scoreless tie and broke Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Hamilton Law, Pacific coast amateur champion, has agreed to devote a large portion of his time to helping the new recruits in getting their games started.

There are a number of membership still available, but these are expected to be closed out in another week. Those interested in signing with the new club should get in touch with Hamilton Law, Medford Badminton club, or by addressing the sports editor of the Mail Tribune.

ODDS LISTED ON SATURDAY GAMES

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(UP)—Football betting this season is reaching the highest mark since the 1929 stock market crash, according to Ryan and Company, commission brokers.

From present indications, the company believes that an all time peak will be set before the 1935 campaign is over.

Odds for Saturday's games: Army 2½ to 1 to beat Harvard. Pennsylvania 6 to 5 over Columbia. Purdue 8 to 5 over Chicago. California 8 to 5 over Santa Clara. The following games are 2 to 3, and take your own: Vandervelt vs. Fordham; Pittsburgh vs. Notre Dame; Yale vs. Navy.

MRS. MOODY AND PERRY ARE TOPS IN TENNIS RANK

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Mrs. Helen Willis Moody, the "comeback" queen of the Wimbledon courts, and Fred Perry of England are rated the world's best tennis players for 1935 in the authoritative rankings of A. Wallis Myers, British court expert.

Mrs. Moody, who probably won't receive any ranking in the United States because she failed to play in the women's national championship, was placed above her California rival, Helen Jacobs, on the strength of her victory in the Wimbledon finals.

Myers, whose "world's first ten" is generally accepted as the "official" selection, admitted having considered giving equal rank to the two Helens. Her great performance at Wimbledon, where she trailed Miss Jacobs 2-5 in the third set then rallied to win, finally availed him in favor of Mrs. Moody. Until she retired from competition in 1933 because of an injury, Mrs. Moody held the top rank for seven years.

Perry, Jack Crawford of Australia and Baron Gottfried von Cramm of Germany retained the first three places in the men's list.

Wilmer Allison, American champion, was placed fourth, followed by H. W. (Bunny) Austin, England; Don Budge, California; Frank X. Shields, New York; Vivian McGrath, Australia; Christian Bousass, France, and Sidney F. Wood, New York. Budge and McGrath were newcomers to the world rankings.

Following the two American Helens in the women's list were Kay Stammers, England; Frau Hilda K. Sperling, Germany; Mrs. Sarah Palthey Fabyan, Brooklyn, Mass.; Dorothy Round, England; Mrs. Ethel Burkhart Arnold, Los Angeles; Mme. Mathieu, France; John Hartigan, Australia; and Peggy Kirtven, England.

Pacific Fruit To Build Warehouse In Portland Area

PORTLAND, Ore. (Sp.)—A modern jobbing warehouse, occupying a full block and representing an investment of approximately $200,000, is to be constructed here by February 1. It is announced by Russell Miller, vice-president and division manager of the Pacific Fruit and Produce company, and F. N. Finch, general manager of the Union Pacific. The warehouse, to be erected at Southeast Second and East Stark street, and leased to the Pacific Fruit and Produce company, was designed by the Union Pacific's engineering department and will be built by the Portland Terminal and Investment company, a subsidiary of the Union Pacific. It will be served by Union Pacific tracks on Southeast Second and also by trackage on Southeast First avenue.

The second of the fall and winter series of CCC fight cards will be held Thursday evening, October 24, at the Elks' temple. While the first card last week was a lethargic affair, with mostly new scrappers, the next one promises to get back into the blood-and-thunder class that has characterized the CCC battles in the past.

Only three of the battlers on last week's card were old timers, the rest entering the ring as dark horses. With the experience gained in those bouts and the elimination contests being conducted in the camps, Captain "Billy" Ryan is assembling a card that should provide plenty of duck bumps for the spectators.

Gordon Houston, 157 pounder from Diamond Lake, who knocked out Al Daigneau, 165, Upper Rogue, in the second round of last week's main event, will find an opponent more worthy of his steel when he meets Tiger Curran, crafty ring general and knockout artist from Oak Knoll, at 160. Lieutenant "Hank" Phelan has been grooming Curran for the winter season, and states that he's now ready to "go places." Since Curran has never dropped a fight on an Elks' smoker, the statement sounds reasonable enough.

Chuck Knight, 162, of Upper Rogue, is being lined up for a bout with Bill Shupek, 158, from Coos Head. Shupek was runner-up for the district middleweight title, having lost the championship bout last year to Rudy Lear of South Fork, who has now left the CCC organization. The title being open again, Shupek is favored to take the elimination contests for the crown, but Knight, Houston and Curran all have a hungry eye cocked at the award themselves, and all will not be asleep in letting Shupek take the honors without earning them.

The Elks-CCC combination has proved a happy one so far as the matted fist is concerned. Under the lodge sponsorship the district has been able to develop many outstanding scrappers, and the elimination and finals have developed a healthy diversion in the camps of the district.

The Cincinnati Reds, after several years in the National league cellar, last year climbed out to sixth place. Manager Larry MacPhail attributes the promising rise to the fact that the club signed several promising cubs out of the California circuit last year, at least two of them (Grissom and Slaughter) hurler, and Scarsella, first baser) proving real finds. Because of the success of the 1934 crop, the Red farms tried a novel experiment last year in California. In October, 1934, a camp was held at Stockton to try out players willing to pay their own expenses for the chance to show their wares. In February another camp was held, at which regularly signed players were tried out at club expense. Over 200 boys received tryouts at the two camps, and several will eventually be seen in Cincinnati.

uniforms, just as Grissom and Scarsella were this fall. The experiment last year was so promising that it is going to be tried out this year by Wilmington (N. C.) club of the Piedmont league and the Monessen (Pa.) club of the Pennsylvania league. While various scouts and players will be on hand to instruct the boys and assist them with the camp, the project will be handled by Micked Shader (828 Central avenue, San Francisco), who was the manager this year of the Mt. Airy (N. C.) club, named all-star manager by the vote of the clubs.

Boys from Medford between the ages of 17 and 22, willing to pay their own expenses for a trial, can obtain information by addressing Shader or Charles E. Chapman, Box 769, Orinda via Berkeley, Cal., Pacific coast agent of the Wilmington and Monessen clubs. The camp will be held in Stockton, commencing November 1 and continuing for a week or 10 days. Those who survive these camps will be signed to contracts. Arrangements have been made so that boys can get room and board at Stockton for $8 a week. Applicants should write to Shader or Chapman, stating age, weight, height and record, with position played, and, if possible, should submit the recommendation of some manager with whom they have played. Upon arrival in Stockton players should go to Jack O'Keefe at Philipson's, 119 East Main street, for information and directions.
