Some Foods Are Susceptible To Moisture -- Buy Them FRESH -- Keep Them FRESH

WITH Autumn come the fall rains and the beginning of the Winter moisture which quickly affects many foods. Once exposed to moisture the original goodness of these foods can never be fully restored. Crackers, Cookies, Cereals, Macaroni—and many other foods must have their goodness protected by warm dry storage at all times otherwise their freshness—the first essential to goodness in any food is destroyed. The freshness of all foods is amply protected by our well-heated stores.

Time for Hot Cakes and Sausage

There is no finer breakfast than Sperry Hot Cakes and Real Country Sausage—but be sure of country sausage.

While we don't make our sausage out on the farm we do exactly as the farmer does—use good fresh cuts of fine quality pork—grind it as he does and season in exactly the same manner.

Satisfy yourself of this by serving a good old fashioned Sunday morning sausage breakfast.
