

SHANGLE WINNER OF SWEEPSTAKES ON PHOTOGRAPHS

RED BLUFF, Oct. 21.—(WNS)—Oregon photographers and Oregon scenery stole a march on Californians today with the announcement of the winners in the annual photographic contest conducted by the Shasta-Cascade-Wonderland association in conjunction with the fifth annual convention of that organization.

Cash prizes were awarded in eight different classes and J. Verne Shangle, Medford photographer, was the grand sweepstakes winner of the competition with W. C. Bushnell of Ashland as second high winner. Many amateurs also placed. The winners in each of the eight classes were as follows:

Recreation (class 1): J. Verne Shangle, Medford, first, "Up and Over Big Boy"; also second, "Hoover Fishes the Rogue"; Mrs. Eva Hoover, Redding, third, "McCloud River Fun." Scenery (class 2): W. C. Bushnell, Ashland, first, "Lake O' the Woods"; Shangle, second, "Peacefulness of Diamond Lake"; Bushnell, third, "Lightning Rod of the Cascades." Snow sports (class 3): Henry C. Lind, Mineral, first, "Skiing at Mt. Lassen"; Shangle, second, "Start of Ski Race at Crater Lake"; Miss Marje Smith, Klamath Falls, third, "Taking the Jump—Crater Lake." Wild life (class 4): Harold Platt, Redding, first, "Bucks Fighting"; Bushnell, second, "Child and Pawn"; Bushnell, third, "Silver Grey Squirrel"; Forrest Cooper, Lakeview, honorable mention, "Coyote at Rest." Collection of five prints (class 5): Shangle, first, "Views of Rogue River Valley"; Miss Veronica Satorius, Redding, second, "Views of Shasta County"; Henry C. Lind, Mineral, third, "Views of Lassen Park"; Arthur Holmes, Yosemite National park, honorable mention, "A Winter Tour Up Lassen Peak"; M. E. Dittmar, Redding, honorable mention, "A Trip Through Castle Crags." Colored photos (class 6): Shangle, first, "Crater Lake"; Jarvis Eastman, Susanville, second and third, "Burney Creek"; and "Lassen Daisies"; Shangle honorable mention, "Crater Lake in Winter." Smiles (class 7): Shangle, first and second, "Hello, direct all traffic..."; and "That Fortunate Wonderland Smile"; Harold Platt, Redding, third, "A Wonderland Boy." Wonders of the Wonderland (class 8): W. C. Bushnell, first, "Crater Lake"; Miss May H. Southern, Redding, second, "The Top of Mt. Shasta"; Mrs. A. H. Bosworth, Fall River Mills, third, "Burney Falls." Many other attractive photographs are also on display.

The committee of judges making the awards included Byron S. Dome, commercial engraver; Art Strader, commercial artist and Harold J. McCurry, commercial photographer, all of Sacramento.

REPEAT BALDPATE AT SONS TONIGHT

A sold-out house accommodated the boldest audience, which witnessed "Seven Keys to Baldpate" Friday night at the Southern Oregon Normal school. The customary performance will be given tonight at 8:20. Tickets may be obtained at The Toggery. During the initial showing Director Angus L. Bowmer added to his already impeccable record of finished productions and excellent performances. His interpretation of William Hollowell McGee, hero of George M. Cohan's melodramatic comedy gave a far-from-amateur atmosphere to the play. Without a doubt those who did the most outstanding acting were, in addition to Mr. Bowmer, John Harr as Peters, professional hermit and rabid woman-hater; John Barker as Elijah Quimby, aged caretaker of the inn; and Bob Stedman, bombastic small-town police chief. The others in the cast proved themselves regular trouper with their fine work.

GLEEMEN TO POINT FOR FALL CONCERT

The Medford Gleemen meet tomorrow night for rehearsal beginning a series of practice sessions preparatory to the fall concert which will take place in the near future. Keen interest is being taken in the coming event and the members of the club are bending every effort to make the presentation the best in the Gleemen's history. The roster of the singing organization boasts a membership of 37 this year, which is a material gain in numbers over the previous years. A complete program of new numbers has been secured by the director, James Stevens, and it is expected that a full turnout will be on hand to break them in.

County Council Holds Regular Session Oct. 16

The Jackson county council of P.-T. A. met in regular session Wednesday, October 16, at the Christian church in Medford. The meeting was called to order at 11 o'clock by the president, Mrs. Walter Young of Eagle Point. After several sessions, led by Miss Lois Young of central Point, the roll-call was taken, with representatives from nine units out of 16.

An interesting report in membership showed six units having a decided gain in membership. Mrs. Madeline Cool, president of the city council, talked on the state convention to be held in Medford this week, and invited all the members to attend.

A covered dish luncheon was served at 12:30, at the close of which a quartet composed of the following pupils from the high school sang: Mary Ann Gates, Franklin Jones, Marvin Burke, Betty Paske. Announcement was made by Billy Wilson and the singers were accompanied by Edyth Hodgkins. After finishing business, the council went over the suggested amendments to the state by-laws. The meeting was adjourned and will convene again in Ashland the third Wednesday in January.

Miss Carlton speaks for P.-T. A. The Jackson school P.-T. A. met in regular session Friday afternoon. Miss Mildred Carlson, president of the Jackson County Health association, gave a very interesting talk on how the social security act will affect the Medford children. Children of the 6R class sang several songs, and Roger Wolf was presented in two piano selections. The meeting was in the form of a round party, with each member bringing a pound of some staple grocery for the lunch room. Delegates were elected for the state convention to be held here this week, namely Mesdames Allen Smith and Charles Thompson.

Meeting of Auxiliary Chanted Announcement is made that the meeting of the auxiliary of St. Mark's church, scheduled for tomorrow at the home of Mrs. J. C. Mann, has been postponed until Oct. 29 at the same place.

P. T. A.—with cut and box head Mrs. Hugh Bradford, past president of the national congress of P.-T. A., who will speak Tuesday evening, opening day of the state convention of the organization here.

CROSS APPEAL IS NIEDERMAYER AIM

Notice of a cross-appeal to the state supreme court has been filed by Niedermeyer Inc. in their interpleader suit against Earl H. Fehl, his wife, Electa A. Fehl, and his mother-in-law, Corinthis E. Stanley. The cross-appeal is based upon one section of the findings of Circuit Judge Carl E. Wimberly of Douglas county, to-wit: "The failure to award the plaintiff reasonable attorney's fees."

The Fehl last week filed a high court appeal attacking the findings of Judge Wimberly, in all particulars. In the decree, Kelly and Kelly, attorneys, were allowed $2000 for legal services rendered the Fehls; Jackson county was awarded costs of trying Fehl for vote stealing on a change of venue to Klamath county, and J. B. Thomas of Ashland and Ted Heimroth of Griffin creek, were awarded possession of the Pacific Record Herald building, until Fehl repaid loans.

ITALY'S BIG PUSH TOWARD GORRAHEI GETS UNDER WAY

ceded along the Webbe Shibebe river, which disappears in the coastal swamps of Italian Somaliland before it reaches the sea. The Shibebe rises into the plateau regions of southwest Ethiopia, flowing swiftly through deep gorges. But the Italian troops would leave the river in their northward swing toward Harar before reaching the plateau region. Reports to the Italian headquarters in the northern sector said Halle Selassie was ready to sue for peace. Italians to Continue There was no confirmation of this rumor. The Italian plan of campaign into the interior is already mapped and field officers said the report would not alter these plans. From every indication, the Italian plan is this: To drive from the north and south toward Harar; occupy virtually all the eastern half of Halle Selassie's empire and thus link the two Italian East African possessions, Eritrea on the north and Somaliland on the south. With the campaign under way, Premier Pierre Laval of France was renewing his efforts to end the Italian conquest, but allowing Muscolini to keep what territory he has already occupied. Laval—whose conciliatory efforts of recent weeks were given a vote of confidence with his victory in Sunday's parliamentary elections—was reported, unofficially, to have received suggestions from Il Duce for settlement of the East African conflict. Wait British Debate The premier was said to be awaiting the debate in the British parliament this week before submitting the proposals to London. French officials would not comment on the report, but they said: "The greatest problem now seems to be to get Emperor Halle Selassie to accept Italian terms." In Paris, Muscolini was considered certain to refuse to return to Halle Selassie any of the Ethiopian territory his armies already have occupied. Authoritative quarters in London indicated the proposals for peace in East Africa were crystallizing after diplomatic conversations in Rome, Paris and London. It was emphasized, however, such proposals were in the very earliest stages and it would be erroneous to say that anything definite had developed, or to say great optimism prevailed. London circles said any East African peace plan must be wholly acceptable both to Emperor Halle Selassie and to the League of Nations.
