tion of Home and School, held in Dublin, Ireland, in 1933. Inaugurates Sessions. Mrs. Bradford will present the convention theme, "Building for Permanent Values," and will officiate in the opening of the convention, which is built around this theme. Her address will strike the keynote to be used throughout the conclave.

I recommend the acquisition of a site not smaller than 25 acres, and larger if necessary. Commends McNary. The governor took occasion to commend the part of Senator Charles L. McNary in obtaining the federal grant for use in a building, but informed there were no federal funds available for the site. He listed four subjects in the program of the legislature.

Would Limit Utility Rate. A measure by Senator Duncan would limit the jurisdiction of the state utility commissioner to control of utilities engaged wholly in some utility function, and not loose indirectly engaged in utility business.

General committees were announced in the house also, but the senate was awaiting the report of its credentials committee on the contest for a seat between Ashby Dickson and Nate Boddy of Portland before taking further action. That committee was expected to turn in a divided report later today.

When a bishop sits out, armed with knowledge gleaned from detective books, to be an amateur detective, that promises entertainment. And this is the promise of "The Bishop Misbehaves," the comedy-mystery to be shown tomorrow only at the Craterian theater for matinee and evening shows, and also to be shown tomorrow night only at the Holly theater.

State Treasurer Rufus C. Holman's proposal for financing the construction, with federal aid, out of the general fund by direct appropriation within the next three years was cited in the message.

By Carlton V. Bernhardt (Associated Press Staff Writer) SALEM, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Eliminating all state from consideration except the matter of a new capitol building and additional ground. Governor Charles H. Martin's address to the special session of the 38th legislative assembly today charged the 90 members to "devote their undivided attention to the solution of the problem at hand."

Shirley's most touching picture, "Our Little Girl," starts a three-day engagement at the Rialto theater today. It is called her greatest she plunges into an emotional adventure that stings in the heart as she bravely meets a bewildering crisis while those who are nearest and dearest to her grope in the shadows of misunderstanding.

STANDARD BUTTER UPPED HALF CENT

PORTLAND, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Currentment of the record spread between extra and standard grade butter was accomplished during the late session of the produce exchange when an advance of 1/2 ct. was made in the latter, along with a similar rise for firsts.

ROTARIANS ENJOY TRAVELOGUE FILM

Members of the Medford Rotary club and their guests were entertained at today's luncheon meeting in the basement banquet hall of the Hotel Medford by a fine scenic travelogue picture of southern Oregon and northern California. The program was presented by H. D. Kem, who photographed Crater Lake, the Oregon Caves, the Modoc lava beds and other outstanding attractions in their natural colors. Appropriate musical numbers were synchronized with the colorful picture. Mr. Kem's program provided one of the most enjoyable entertainments of the season for the Medford Rotary club. Among the guests at today's meeting were President, George W. Peavey of Oregon State college and George E. Griffith, chief of education and information of the United States forest service.
