

NEW DISSENSION THREATENS PEACE OF MATANUSKANS

Commissary Use, Money Allowances and Unreasonable Demands by Few Families Creating Trouble

PALMER, Alaska, Oct. 24.—(AP)—New dissension threatened the Matanuska valley agricultural colony to-night, as federal officials completed housing of the last of 170 remaining families.

Inducious use of commissary credit facilities, unwise use of money allowances and unreasonable demands by a few families brought stricter regulations on all.

Each family was allowed $5 cash per month, in addition to supplies from the colony commissary. Shortly after the October allowance, orders of two families assertedly took their money to a newly-erected beer parlor and spent it all for liquor.

Must Give Account As a result, no more allowances will be issued without accounts to the last cent of how the money will be spent.

Another sore point concerned guns. Nearly every family ordered two guns, a rifle and a shotgun, suitable for shooting any game accessible from the valley. Then officials learned that one family, which obtained two guns from the commissary, had an arsenal of 12 firearms of various types. Immediately it was ordered that no more guns would be issued to anyone, leaving many families with none.

Wanted Radio One family moved into its new home, but was much dissatisfied with furnishings. "I'll give you just four days to put a radio into my house or else give us tickets home," the husband told officials.

A meeting of colonists elected William Bennett, formerly of Empire, Mich., as president and representative in dealing with the federal administration. There will be a few house parties of mis-fit families, but most of those remaining want to stick it out.

Continued rains and snows have reduced all valley roads except one that is graveled to an impassable condition. Only method of transportation is a motor sled, pulled by a great caterpillar tractor. On one occasion the tractor mired down and had to be pulled out by two other "cats."

ANOTHER CARAVAN PLANNED FRIDAY BY P.-T. A. LADIES

Plans are being made by local committees for another Crater Lake caravan for convention delegates tomorrow, as many who were unable to go Tuesday are anxious to see the lake. Anyone having cars to offer is asked to call Mrs. Charles Thompson, 1249-L, as soon as possible.

The city council of P.-T. A. wishes to thank the following for the use of cars for the trip Tuesday, as the success of the caravan was made possible by the fine cooperation given:

Gates Ruto Co., two cars, driven by Mrs. F. C. Dillard and Eldon Drysdale; Mrs. Lee Watson; Mrs. Effie Adams; Mrs. Chas. Thompson; Mrs. F. C. Dillard, whose car was driven by Jack Thompson; Associated Oil company, Carol Hays; Milo Lamb; General Petroleum, driven by R. W. Frame; Richfield Oil company, $5.00 and one car, driven by Dave Wilcox; Walter Abbey; A. S. Rosenbaum, one car, driven by Mr. Thornton; H. A. Thierolf, one car, driven by Bob Keeney; Copco, one car, driven by Carl Bennett; Al Littrell; W. W. Allen, Allen Motor company.

Sincere thanks are also given to those donating decorations for the membership luncheon Wednesday, who are: C. R. Bowman, H. B. Wilson, Mrs. Kay, Mrs. Myron Root, Mrs. Bert Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank DeSousa and Mrs. W. H. Henderson.

AGED WOMAN KILLED NEAR HOME BY AUTO

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 24.—(AP)—Within 200 feet of her home, Mrs. Cora Lynda, 76, was killed when struck by an automobile here last night, bringing the year's traffic accident toll to 59.

Robert Martel, 25, of Clackamas, driver of the automobile which struck the pedestrian, was arrested for involuntary manslaughter.

Use Mail Tribune want ads.

Head COLDS Put Mentholatum in the nostrils to relieve irritation and promote clear breathing. MENTHOLATUM Gives COMFORT Daily If you prefer nose drops, or throat spray, call for the NEW MENTHOLATUM LIQUID in handy bottle with dropper.

Society and Clubs

By JANET WRAY SMITH

Pocahontas Plans For Visiting Chief

Plans are being completed by Pocahontas lodge for the entertainment of the great sachem of California, William E. Farrenkopf, Porter L. Bias, also of California, and Frank Kaackick, Alvin Sievers, Dr. Duane A. Fellows and Arthur Sievers, who will gather here Saturday night for a joint open meeting with the Weatonska tribe and council, of the Redmen and Pocahontas lodges. Dancing will follow, and all members of either the tribe or council and their friends are most welcome.

F.O.E. Auxiliary Has Card Party

The Ladies Auxiliary of the F.O.E. are holding their second of a series of card parties which will be held the second and fourth Thursday of each month during the winter. An extra large attendance is expected tonight. Beautiful prizes have been selected and will be awarded to the winners in contract or auction bridge, pinochle and five hundred. The floor committee for the evening will be Blanche Moulton and Gertrude Wagner. Lela Benbow and Blanche Anderson will serve refreshments. Playing will begin at 8 o'clock.

BOWLING

In the city bowling league games last night, the Smoke House squad smoked the Mail Tribune pin artists out of the picture with a 3-1 reading while Abbey Motors and the Economy Lumber company were dividing honors 2-2. On Tuesday night the Schuss squad trounced Al Piche's team 3-1, while the Standard Roofers were applying a 3-1 coating of their best asphalt to the Gates Auto roll-totic.

Results Tuesday: Abbey Motor Co. Peterson 105 95 115-316 Hukill 109 85 104-298 N. Thornton 151 137 153-441 B. Thornton 176 136 158-470 Handicap 79 76 79-324 Total 724 628 720 2072 Economy Lumber Co. Rogers 103 x 119-222 Greeve 141 130 116-397 Capt. Overmeyer 161 165 150-448 Saylor 177 178 183-540 McCormick 126 x 126 x-126 Total 712 773 695 2180 Mail Tribune Pruitt 186 148 180-514 Murray 183 202 170-555 Moore 168 184 195-490 Fads 217 188 182-587 Total 906 856 857 2602 Smoke House Lyons 180 148 154-482 Rezeppa 160 145 149-454 Antle 211 180 212-603 Chisland 160 175 125-460 Sims 184 202 213-549 Handicap 11 11 11-33 Total 695 691 690 2688 Results Wednesday: Gates Auto Co. Gillette 154 180 194-528 Greene 172 168 174-514 Gates 220 144 148-512 Total 546 492 516 1554 Standard Roofers G. Burroughs 161 225 189-575 J. Burroughs 165 155 210-530 Hap Main 168 172 180-520 Handicap 4 4 4-12 Total 428 536 583 1637 Shuss Vintage Co. Groening 156 144 181-481 Putney 184 111 162-457 Travis 129 145 137-411 Benford 180 177 181-488

Chateau Dance Being Planned

Plans are being completed for the no-host dancing party to be given Saturday evening at the Chateau du Compt. Halloween decorations will be used, and guests will wear hard-time costumes. Approximately seventy-five couples are expected to attend.

Celebrates Birthday

Mrs. A. G. Croy of West Palm street, Medford, celebrated her 63rd birthday on Tuesday evening of this week with a birthday dinner. A large cake graced the center of the table and the many gifts piled beside the place of the honor guest. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Croy, Mrs. E. E. McKinney, Arthur Haeburg, Mrs. Mary O. Carey, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Eikman and Mrs. Eikman's two sons, Douglas and Junior.

Changes Name

The LaFoe club met at the P.O.E. hall Wednesday afternoon for a covered dish luncheon with a large attendance. Two new members were taken in. The name of the club was changed to the Get-Together club.

Will Sing Here

Music lovers of Medford will be afforded a rare treat Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock when the Ecclesia choir of the Presbyterian church under direction of Elton Manno Roth. The organization, an a cappella choir of 21 voices, was formed in 1930 and has gained wide acclaim in the realm of sacred music. Their program is symphonic in style and is ecclesiastical and worshipful, reviewing the music of the cathedrals of the early centuries.

By a blending of voices in the music of the masters, the choir interprets what is often sought but seldom achieved, the finer qualities of sacred music that has lived through centuries. The members of the choir are costumed in gowns of gold and bronze satin.

There is no admission charge but a free-will offering will be received.

ALL HONOR TO MY GRANDPAPPY says Major Gruff, but the old boy claimed he could make the best applejack possible. He couldn't. I've tasted Hildick. Any cocktail, highball or mixed drink you can make with whiskey, rum or brandy, you can make smoother, tastier, cheaper with HILDICK BLACK LABEL QUARTS—No. 408A—$1.95 PINTS—No. 408C—$1.00 HALF PINTS—No. 408D—$.55

HILDICK OLD FASHIONED Applejack BRANDY AVAILABLE IN OREGON HILDICK BLACK LABEL QUARTS—No. 408A—$1.95 PINTS—No. 408C—$1.00 HALF PINTS—No. 408D—$.55 © 1935, LOGGERS & MEYER TOBACCO CO.

SERA PROGRAM FOUND TO HAVE LASTING VALUE

Records Show Permanence of Many Projects—Families Also Clothed and Fed—15 Million Is Spent

By James S. Nutter (Associated Press Staff Writer) The archives of the state emergency relief administration program in Oregon record far more than the expenditure of $15,388,760 to feed hungry mouths and clothe human bodies.

"It may be surprising, but nearly all of our projects have lasting economic as well as human and social values," said Elmer Goudy, Oregon SERA administrator. "This is aside from their emergency purpose of providing vital relief so none would go hungry and to give honest work to preserve the morale of the needy."

Many Types of Work Educational programs, building projects, road construction, airport construction, development of recreational facilities, drought relief measures, pest control, flood control, subsistence gardens, transient camps and numerous other projects have been undertaken, an Associated Press survey revealed.

The SERA, which will give soon to the works progress administration, started April 1, 1934. Prominent in construction programs by the SERA is work done on airports.

Road construction has been carried on wherever the SERA program extends. New networks of secondary roads have brought the farmer closer to his markets.

Airports Improved Substantial amounts of work have been done on 14 Oregon airports by the SERA. Some of the work was a continuation of projects previously handled by PWA and CWA.

George S. Whitworth, assistant engineer in charge of emergency conservation work at Crater Lake national park, and Mrs. Alice McKinstry, clerk, also moved to Medford today, occupying room 203 in the Holly building. Mr. Whitworth's office has charge of the administrative work pertaining to the CCC camps in the park.

At Pendleton 52 men were employed on a $14,393 airport project. Work at Silverton was carried on under $13,142 SERA funds and $5,830 local contributions. The SERA spent $7197 on the Klamath Falls airport.

Another large flood control project was on the Bear creek at Medford where $40,113 was spent and manpower reached 153. Mill creek in Marion county was cleared and some diking done. Cost was $13,381 with manpower 75.

Another large flood control project was on the Bear creek at Medford where $40,113 was spent and manpower reached 153. Mill creek in Marion county was cleared and some diking done. Cost was $13,381 with manpower 75.

Another large flood control project was on the Bear creek at Medford where $40,113 was spent and manpower reached 153. Mill creek in Marion county was cleared and some diking done. Cost was $13,381 with manpower 75.

Another large flood control project was on the Bear creek at Medford where $40,113 was spent and manpower reached 153. Mill creek in Marion county was cleared and some diking done. Cost was $13,381 with manpower 75.

Another large flood control project was on the Bear creek at Medford where $40,113 was spent and manpower reached 153. Mill creek in Marion county was cleared and some diking done. Cost was $13,381 with manpower 75.

Another large flood control project was on the Bear creek at Medford where $40,113 was spent and manpower reached 153. Mill creek in Marion county was cleared and some diking done. Cost was $13,381 with manpower 75.

Another large flood control project was on the Bear creek at Medford where $40,113 was spent and manpower reached 153. Mill creek in Marion county was cleared and some diking done. Cost was $13,381 with manpower 75.

Another large flood control project was on the Bear creek at Medford where $40,113 was spent and manpower reached 153. Mill creek in Marion county was cleared and some diking done. Cost was $13,381 with manpower 75.

Another large flood control project was on the Bear creek at Medford where $40,113 was spent and manpower reached 153. Mill creek in Marion county was cleared and some diking done. Cost was $13,381 with manpower 75.

Another large flood control project was on the Bear creek at Medford where $40,113 was spent and manpower reached 153. Mill creek in Marion county was cleared and some diking done. Cost was $13,381 with manpower 75.

Another large flood control project was on the Bear creek at Medford where $40,113 was spent and manpower reached 153. Mill creek in Marion county was cleared and some diking done. Cost was $13,381 with manpower 75.

Another large flood control project was on the Bear creek at Medford where $40,113 was spent and manpower reached 153. Mill creek in Marion county was cleared and some diking done. Cost was $13,381 with manpower 75.

Another large flood control project was on the Bear creek at Medford where $40,113 was spent and manpower reached 153. Mill creek in Marion county was cleared and some diking done. Cost was $13,381 with manpower 75.

Another large flood control project was on the Bear creek at Medford where $40,113 was spent and manpower reached 153. Mill creek in Marion county was cleared and some diking done. Cost was $13,381 with manpower 75.

Another large flood control project was on the Bear creek at Medford where $40,113 was spent and manpower reached 153. Mill creek in Marion county was cleared and some diking done. Cost was $13,381 with manpower 75.

Another large flood control project was on the Bear creek at Medford where $40,113 was spent and manpower reached 153. Mill creek in Marion county was cleared and some diking done. Cost was $13,381 with manpower 75.

Another large flood control project was on the Bear creek at Medford where $40,113 was spent and manpower reached 153. Mill creek in Marion county was cleared and some diking done. Cost was $13,381 with manpower 75.

Another large flood control project was on the Bear creek at Medford where $40,113 was spent and manpower reached 153. Mill creek in Marion county was cleared and some diking done. Cost was $13,381 with manpower 75.

P.-T. A. REELECTS MRS. KLETZER AS STATE PRESIDENT

Heyland, Medford; Bert Schultz, Klamath Falls; Florah Schroeder, Condon; Norman Fries, La Grande, and Otto Lance, Albany; recording secretary, Mrs. James Goddard, Oswego; treasurer, Mrs. P. N. Shown, Portland.

The state board members are as follows: Miss Louise Basford, Mrs. Sam Bellah, Mrs. E. A. Britton, Mrs. W. T. Brice, Mrs. M. J. Brown, Mrs. B. H. Bryant, Mrs. Sarah V. Case, Mrs. J. P. Chapman, Mrs. L. D. Courtright, Mrs. Oliver Crowther, Mrs. E. E. Cumpston, Mrs. Norman Fries, Miss Alice D. Grant, Mrs. Martin Hannah, Mrs. J. Heyland, Mrs. W. A. Holloway, Mrs. W. B. Kinsler, Mrs. Wm. Kletzer, Mrs. Allen Knight, Mrs. R. P. Rasmussen, Mrs. R. R. Ross, Mrs. H. M. Shaw, Mrs. P. N. Shown, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. W. L. Wales, Mrs. A. Walker, Mrs. C. W. Walls, Mrs. J. P. Wray, Mrs. R. L. Wright, Mrs. Walter Young.

Historic Climax "American civilization is an historic climax! It is better than the world has ever seen before, a constant economic and political climbing," insisted Dr. Hunter, who stated that since its inception, the American form of government has taken hold of the world. The speaker denounced those who would change our constitution, and who claim it is outdated. As proof of the workability of the constitution, Dr. Hunter pointed out that it was adopted almost verbatim by Czechoslovakia when that country became a republic, and that prosperity has made great strides under its guidance in that new republic.

Dr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we lishes the magazine. Mrs. Kletzer, state president, made the opening remarks, concerning the set-up of the magazine. Mrs. Bradford explained the help and guidance to be obtained from the magazine from an educational standpoint. Magazine chairmen of local organizations presented flowers to Mrs. Bradford, each bouquet representing the number of subscriptions obtained so far by that association. For the last fifteen months, subscriptions have remained approximately 20 per cent ahead of the corresponding month of the preceding year, and this month this increase amounts to 100 per cent.

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Teachers' Chorus Heard The evening program was opened with songs by the Jackson county Teachers' chorus, under the direction of Esther Church Leake, and duets by Katherine Wendt and Jean McAllister. Through an oversight, the music presented Wednesday evening by the adrigal club, under the direction of Estle Carleton Strang, was not mentioned as being on the program. Mrs. Strang also directs group singing for the convention.

Dr. Frederick Hunter, chancellor of higher education in Oregon, was introduced by Mrs. William Kletzer, who presided, and addressed the assembly on the convention theme, "Building For Permanent Values."

"In order to understand clearly what are permanent values and how we may attain them," Dr. Hunter stated, "we must see ourselves in the historic sense, arriving at a perspective of the whole relation to individual parts."

Historic Climax "American civilization is an historic climax! It is better than the world has ever seen before, a constant economic and political climbing," insisted Dr. Hunter, who stated that since its inception, the American form of government has taken hold of the world. The speaker denounced those who would change our constitution, and who claim it is outdated. As proof of the workability of the constitution, Dr. Hunter pointed out that it was adopted almost verbatim by Czechoslovakia when that country became a republic, and that prosperity has made great strides under its guidance in that new republic.

Dr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we

Mr. Hunter believes that the principles contained in the constitution and particularly the bill of rights, are the permanent values to be sought. He also stated that nations are far more often conquered by internal troubles than by the iron hand of an invader. Bad habits of nations as enumerated by the chancellor are War, Crime and Panic, and that we