Evangelist L. C. McCay gave an interesting and instructive discourse Sunday evening at the Church of Christ on the question, "Why the Church of Christ does not use instrumental music in the worship."

It was shown that the church is a kingdom and all authority is vested in Christ, Matt. 28:18 and Eph. 1:22. All acts of worship must be by his authority, Col. 3:17, and unless Christ authorized instrumental music it would be a transgression of Col. 3:17. It is not one of "Every good work," mentioned in 2 Tim. 16:17. Not being commanded by Christ it is a commandment of man, and worship including it would be vain, Mat. 15:9.

"When we use instruments of music in the worship we go beyond the doctrine of Christ who is the beginner and finisher of faith, Heb. 12:2, and we would be without God as taught in 2 John verse 9," said McCay.

The speaker concluded with an earnest appeal for people to show more respect for the authority of the "King of Kings."

UNIQUE CHARACTER OF PROVOLT AREA GOES TO REWARD

PROVOLT, Nov. 4. (Spl.) - "Christopher Columbus Jones or 'Provolt Dies'" read a death notice one day last week, and to Provolt residents that meant that "Lum" Jones was gone. Nobody knows just why he was called Lum, except that Christopher Columbus was too long.

Lum's little cabin had a dirt floor, one window and a hole in the roof through which smoke from his fire built on the floor, went. No matter what time of day visitors approached his little abode, they were offered "alumgullion" stew from the coffee can in which it was boiling.

His conversation could be described as verbose, voluble and voracious, including sometimes the monologue side, sometimes quite un-understandable to the uninitiated because his teeth were gone.

Al and Lum got around out here in an old Ford sedan of ancient vintage. But Lum is gone now and Al is bedridden because of a stroke suffered shortly after Lum went to the hospital in June because of a stroke. Al is much improved now and is home, after staying in the Sacred Heart hospital at Medford for a number of weeks.

Lum was never married. He was survived by Al and two other brothers, George, of Grants Pass and Marion, of Provolt. He was born December 4, 1870 and died on October 31, 1935, in Grants Pass. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon, burial being at Granite Hill, west of Grants Pass. Another old-time character is gone.
