FRUIT OF VALLEY BEING SHIPPED TO FOREIGN MARKETS

Rogue valley fruit is being bought in volume in many foreign markets today and shippers are of the opinion that demand for the local product abroad is destined to grow substantially in the next few years.

It is only in recent years, it is pointed out, that a systematic plan to penetrate beyond the confines of the national border has been attempted by southern Oregon packing houses and maximum sales possibilities have not yet been attained. With the featuring of Rogue valley brands, however, results are now becoming manifest, shippers assert.

Notwithstanding the war clouds that have been hovering over the Mediterranean basin, American Fruit Growers, Inc., has been selling large quantities of Newtown apples and D'Anjou pears in that area, according to Gordon R. Green, general manager. These fruits have been leaving New York on practically every steamer, a ship leaving for the Mediterranean ports every fortnight, Mr. Green said.

Among the war zone markets to which the company's Blue Goose pears and apples are being shipped are Jaffa, Haifa, Palestine and Alexandria, on both sides of the Suez canal, Mr. Green stated, adding that the fruit has been bringing excellent prices.

"We feel very good about this," Mr. Green asserted, "because it is very difficult to get anything into the Mediterranean basin."

Shipment to those markets must now be covered with mine and war risk insurance in addition to the ordinary insurance, making the aggregate of the three insurance premiums a substantial sum, he related.

American Fruit Growers were successful recently in making a large sale of Blue Goose Newtowns in the Panama Canal Zone, the general manager reported.

"I believe this is the first time for a long while that Medford has been able to sell large Newtowns in the Panama Canal territory," he said. "We feel fairly optimistic about this because it will, without doubt, be the forerunner of additional sales in this territory for our Newtown apples from Medford."

Other markets to which American Fruit Growers is shipping Rogue valley fruit include countries of Central and South America, Europe and the Orient, Mr. Green stated.

A few weeks ago the company sent a box of Blue Goose Comice pears to O. O. McIntyre when he stated in his syndicated column that he could not obtain pears in New York restaurants. In a recent column he referred to the fruit, explaining what a Comice pear was like, stating that it was grown principally in southern Oregon and that it was very "succulent."

COUNTY BRIEFS

Phoenix

PHOENIX, Nov. 12.—12.—(Spl.)—Mrs. George Hume, of Brownsville, Oregon, formerly Ada Reynolds, visited friends and old acquaintances here Saturday.

Mrs. W. M. Barkley and daughter Susanne returned Friday from Portland where they spent the week.

An all-day meeting of the Home Extension unit will be held Friday, November 15 beginning at 10 a. m. at the Presbyterian church parlors. The project will be an all-day demonstration on "Racial Embroidery" under supervision of Miss Claire Hanley. This is an excellent opportunity for all Home Extensionists and their friends to learn new secrets of fascinating Christmas gifts, and all ladies planning to come should bring to the demonstration the following equipment: colored yarns, colored D.M.C. embroidery thread, scraps of linen, suiting or crash suitable to make embroidery samples, embroidery needles, scissors, and thimble. A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon.

Mrs. M. C. Zielinski, nee Mabel Hardisty, left last Wednesday for Buffalo, New York to join her husband. The couple will make their home in Buffalo where Mr. Zielinski is employed in the Ford plant.

First fall meeting of the Thursday club was held November 7 at the home of Mrs. Ralph H. Wilcox. Plans were made for the bazaar, and rummage sale to be held at the Eagle hall December 12. In the meantime traveling basket is being circulated among members, and each one is urged to cooperate to the best of their ability. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. F. A. Daugherty of Edgevale Orchards, Friday, November 22. A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon with Mrs. Vaughn Quackenbush assisting the hostess.

Ladies' Aid met Thursday at the church parlors in their regular business meeting. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. J. O. N. Poling, Mrs. J. G. Viall, and Mrs. A. O. Floyd.

The annual bazaar sponsored by Phoenix Grange was held in Grange hall Friday evening. The many attractions were supported heartily and the evening ended in a dance. A. O. Floyd was in charge of the fish pond; C. A. Pickel, the beano table; Mrs. V. Quackenbush, candy; Mrs. L. O. Caster, fancywork; master of ceremonies, George Drake; R. C. Ward, shooting gallery; Mrs. George Andrews, fortune telling; beauty salon, Mrs. E. Hockersmith; and the Home Economics club was in charge of refreshments.

Thimble club met at the home of Mrs. George Drake last Thursday, with Mrs. M. B. Hardisty assisting the hostess. Mrs. V. R. Hallcraft was admitted to membership. Plans were completed for the bazaar and silver tea to be held at the Grange hall, November 21, at 2 p. m.

Ten local scouts attended the Girl Scout court of honor at the Jackson county court house in Medford. The scouts are planning an all-day meeting at the home of scoutmaster, Mrs. A. O. Floyd, Saturday, November 16. Any girl interested is instructed to see Patricia Purry and make arrangements to join the group in hiking to Mrs. Floyd's home.

Sunday, November 10 was celebrated as the annual Grange Sunday, and following services at the Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. E. N. Mallory, a basket dinner was served in the Grange hall to all present. The afternoon program included community singing; music by the Poling trio; solo number by M. F. Sheets; selections by the Presbyterian choir; comments by A. W. Shepherd; reading, Harriet White. The speaker of the afternoon was Professor Redford of the Ashland Normal.

Mrs. Belle Furry is spending a few days with friends and relatives in Phoenix and vicinity.

Mrs. Cora B. Morgan is expected this week from Santa Clara where she has been visiting friends the past month.

Hi Knapp and K. R. Newlun returned to Klamath Falls Saturday evening, after spending the past ten days with their families.

E. J. Carroll of the Federal Reserve Banking system of Washington, D. C., was a visitor at the Matthew Barkley home this week. F. A. Klass, businessman of Seattle, also called on W. M. Barkley recently.

THE GRANGE

Sams Valley Grange

Annual election of officers of the Sams Valley Grange was held Saturday night with the following elected to hold office through the new year: Master, Jerome Fitzgerald; overseer, Wesley McDonough; steward, Burrel Burreson; lecturer, Mrs. Chas. Duggan; chaplain, R. H. Seegmiller; treasurer, W. S. Abbott; secretary, Miss Elsie Straus; assistant steward, Herahel Harper; Ceres, Mildred Duggan; Pomona, Ruth Sage; Flora, Betty Wilson; lady assistant steward, Dorothy Straus; executive committee, W. E. Autenreath, Geo. McDonough, and Lloyd Hamlin.

The Grange, under direction of Mrs. Walter Grant contemplate giving a three-act comedy Nov. 22. The cast includes some well known grange characters that have taken parts in grange many times. Complete announcement will be given later.

The Juvenile grangers are making preparations to procure staffs, regalia, etc.

Sams Valley

SAMS VALLEY, Nov. 12.—(Spl.)—Mrs. A. B. Collett has joined her husband in their new furnished home at Williams, where Mr. Collett is principal of the Williams high school. A reception was given by the Williams community to welcome the couple into the district.

Mrs. John Hall received a telephone message Monday advising her of the death of her aunt, Mrs. Minnie Vogell of Talent. Mrs. Hall attended the funeral services at Ashland Wednesday.

The high school carnival Nov. 1 proved a big success with every booth patronized to full capacity. The negro baby stand and fortune-telling booth were overflowing. Other attractions were the hot dog stand, nail hammering contest, beauty parlor, fish pond, seven wonders of the world, candy booth, cider sale, dart throwing, blanket sale and cake walk sale. A substantial sum was netted for the student body funds. An interesting program by all rooms of the school was put on free to a packed house.

The Sams Valley Grange officers have the honor of seating the state Grange officers at the district state Grange meeting in Medford Nov. 13, when candidates for the sixth degree from Washington, California and Oregon will gather at the Medford armory to be initiated.

O. T. and Billie Wilson are calling residents' attention to a white crow which they discovered in a large flock of crows Wednesday while they were seeding grain.

Bill Wilson, accompanied by Mrs. O. T. Wilson visited the Josephine county hospital Wednesday where Bill's mother, Mrs. D. C. Wilson of Williams is recovering from an operation for acute appendicitis.

Mrs. Robert Pierce returned to the valley last week after attending the funeral of her husband at Los Angeles, and will continue to make her home here.

The freezing weather so unusual at this season caught many unprepared and resulted in frozen water pipes, house plants and vegetables. The lowest recorded here was 20 degrees.

Central Point

CENTRAL POINT, Nov. 12.—(Spl.)—Womans' Relief Corps will meet Saturday, with Mrs. Anna Harmon of Grants Pass, present as inspector. Guests from both the Grants Pass and Medford W. R. C. are expected to attend. A pot luck dinner will be served at noon, and all local members are urged to be there. Business meeting will open at two o'clock.

A special meeting of the corps is called for Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Rev. and Mrs. Iverson of Medford entertained at six o'clock dinner on Thursday. Rev. and Mrs. Robert Charles Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Putney, all of Central Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Southwell and daughter, Elizabeth, left Nov. 4 for Los Angeles, where they expect to make their home.

Mrs. Andre Chomel of Hotel Valandra, who has been ill for several days, is recovering.

Delbert and Avis Ayers entertained a group of friends Saturday evening in honor of Miss Nancy Goston of Grants Pass. Included among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Higginbotham, Clair Higginbotham, the honor guest and the host and hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Marine were Hallowe'en guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Martin.

The many friends of Miss Arlene Hay and sister, Mrs. Elinor Ames of Wenatchee, Wash., extend sympathy to them on the recent passing of their mother, Mrs. Mary Hay, who had been confined to her bed for the past year and a half.

Alfred Taylor returned by stage from Portland Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Langston have moved into the house recently occupied by the Jack Southwell family.

The Golden Link Bible class was entertained Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. A. Marine. An enjoyable afternoon was spent by the thirty-one ladies present. Lovely refreshments were served at the close of the business session.

Wednesday evening Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Lewis and Rev. D. D. Randall were dinner guests of Rev. and Mrs. Lamkin at the Oregon Christian center, after which Rev. Lewis spoke at the Murphy church.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Richmond of Los Angeles are spending a couple of weeks visiting at the homes of Earl and Clyde Richmond and families. The gentlemen are brothers.
