50 SHIPWRECK SURVIVORS SAVED

News Behind The News
By Paul Mallon
(Copyright, 1935, by Paul Mallon.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Backstairs diplomatists here suspect that Britain is undertaking quietly to put Japan in her place, as well as Mussolini.

The Chinese silver nationalization move is generally known to have followed conferences between the Chinese government leaders and Sir Frederick Leith-Ross, chief economic adviser to the British government. He went to Shanghai because London developed a sudden worry about China, strangely coincidental with its equally sudden apprehensions about the Mediterranean.

What Chinese nationalization of silver means for Britain is: A stronger centralized government in China, a Shanghai financial stranglehold on all China, a financial defense against Japanese aggression.

That explains why Tokyo was shocked when the Nippon diplomats read about it in their newspapers. To ease the shock, Britain sent its Tokyo envoy hurrying to the Japanese foreign office next day, to assure everyone there was no truth in the reports that China had taken the $50,000,000 for stabilization. This was what is known among students of the international wiles as a diplomatic assurance.

Our most eminent authorities have reason to believe that someone connected with the Nippon diplomats encouraged the Chinese to hope that a loan would be forthcoming, although nothing may have been done directly about it.

The reason they suspect it is because the subject was mentioned to the American ambassador, Nelson Johnson, by someone who looked very much like Leith-Ross himself.

Note—This may explain why no comment has developed here about the far east, although officials consider the situation as important as Malaya.

SUIT DISMISSED AGAINST KMED
PORTLAND, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Federal Judge John H. McNary late Tuesday ordered dismissal of the suit filed by Mrs. Benedicta B. Martin against Mrs. Blanche Virgin, owner of radio station KMED at Medford. Mrs. Martin had sued for $37,500 damages because the station refused to permit her to broadcast.

NAVY SHIPS MAKE THRILLING RESCUE AFTER FOUR DAYS

Heroic Efforts Save Passengers and Crew of Freighter Silverhazel Marooned South of Manila

MANILA, P. I., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Saved by navy ships in a thrilling rescue at sea, 50 survivors of the wrecked freighter Silverhazel, who spent four harrowing days on a wave-lashed rock, were en route here tonight on the destroyers Peary and Bulmer.

Four persons lost their lives in the wreck and the Peary carried the bodies of Mrs. Nell Williams of Los Angeles, a victim of exposure, and Bernard C. MacPherson, an apprentice seaman.

Captain H. A. Lennard, master of the British freighter, lost his life after the Silverhazel crashed on a rock 350 miles south of here and broke in two, and an unidentified seaman also died.

Heroinism Told
Advices from the Peary, which carried 43 of the survivors, told a brief story of heroinism of three sailors and how the marooned crew members hastily built rafts when rescue vessels were unable to approach the rock because of heavy seas.

TONGUE IS SPLIT IN AUTO SMASHUP

William Martin of Mt. Shasta, Cal., was taken to the Community hospital here last night to receive medical attention to a split tongue received from flying glass from his splintered windshield when his car rammed into the back of one driven by Orville Otto Caster, Route 1, Central Point, near that city last night.

According to state police, who made the investigation, Caster was driving north late evening on the Pacific highway. He ran out of gas shortly before coming into Central Point and attempted to coast to the service station at the corner of Main street and the highway there.

Martin, according to his own story, was also driving north and failed to see any tail light on the coasting machine and rammed into it at about 40 miles per hour, mashing the front of his own machine, breaking the windshield and badly damaging the back of the Caster auto.

State police said today that no charges had been filed against either driver.

CHILDREN LEAP FROM BURNING SCHOOL HOUSE

CLIFTON FORGE, Va., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Children leaped from upper story windows today to escape the flames which destroyed the Selma grade school of Allegheny county, an old frame building across the river from Clifton Forge. There were 200 children in the building when the fire was discovered.

CAPITOL COMMISSION NAMING WILL AWAIT FRIDAY CONFERENCE

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Howard Latourette, speaker of the Oregon legislature, said today he would confer with Governor Martin at Salem Friday before announcing his three selections for the new capitol building commission.

The capitol construction measure passed at the special legislative session calls for the governor, the senate president and the speaker of the house each to name three members on a capitol commission.

Senate President Harry L. Corbett was in Salem today performing post session duties.

Latourette said more than a dozen persons had been commended to him for service on the commission, but he had not made up his mind yet on selections.

There has been some sentiment throughout the state for selection of a commission representing all sections of the state.

HAZEL H. HELMS PNEUMONIA VICTIM

Hazel Helms Helms, aged 22, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Helms of Medford, passed away at a local hospital early Wednesday morning from lobar pneumonia, after a very short illness. She was born at Joseph, Ore., August 20, 1913, and had resided in southern Oregon for the past 11 years, and Medford for the past three years.

She attended school at Central Point and Eagle Point, Ore., and was very well known among the younger people of the valley.

She leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Helms; two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Landers and Miss Elsie Marie Helms of Medford; three brothers, Frank of Medford with the OCG, and Earl and Albert of Medford, Ore. Funeral services, in charge of the First Funeral Home, will be announced later.

MOTOR COLUMNS SWEEPING UPON DEFENSIVE KEYS

(By the Associated Press)
A new threat to the cities of Harar and Jijiga, focal points of Ethiopian defense, was seen today in unconfirmed reports reaching Harar that two motorized Italian columns were moving into advanced positions in the south while the northern Italian army occupied new territory.

A motorized force was reported to be rapidly circling the Ethiopian left wing on the southern front, and approaching Sasa Beneh, 185 miles southeast of Harar. Another such force was said to be advancing in the valley of the Webbe Shibel toward the Bale district, 125 miles southwest of Harar.

Gen. Emilio de Bono, fascist commander-in-chief, informed Rome that the first army corps in the north occupied the Desaa region and joined the Danakil column.

He declared the northern line was extended westward to the Takkeze river and the native army corps completed occupation of the Gheralca region.

JAIL TRANSIENTS FOUND DRUNK ON PACIFIC HIGHWAY

James Farrell and Nelson Koster, guests at the transient camp near Rogie River, charged with being drunk on a public highway, were each sentenced to 10 days in the county jail, by Justice of the Peace William R. Coleman, upon their pleas of guilty.

The pair were alleged to have been hilarious upon the Pacific highway, and one in-chief, informed that the pair were charged with being drunk on a public highway, were each sentenced to 10 days in the county jail, by Justice of the Peace William R. Coleman, upon their pleas of guilty.

Hall said he was attracted by a flashlight in his pasture, and went to investigate. There was a truck in the road, and during an argument he was hit with a beer bottle in the back of the head. He identified Geary as being present.

Following the taking of testimony, Geary was allowed time in which to present witnesses in support of his alibi and the case was continued.

Doran Virgil Moe of Gold Hill was assessed $1 and costs upon a plea of guilty to non-possession of an auto license.

George Hagen of this city, similarly charged, was scheduled to enter a plea today.

PARALYSIS TAKES 2ND VICTIM HERE; NEW CASE LISTED

Infantile paralysis today had claimed its second victim since the disease appeared in Jackson county last Friday.

Verne Strayer, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Strayer, died at 8 o'clock last night at his home in the Howard school district. Strauss Gustin, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Guatin, died Monday and funeral services were held today. Both boys were pupils of the Howard school and both were stricken last Friday. The school was closed yesterday.

No new cases were reported in the county today, but the first case in the city was recorded. The third person to be stricken is Mrs. Raymond E. Switzer, 30, of 812 Cedar street. She became ill early in the month, but apparently was getting well when a relapse occurred and the ailment was diagnosed yesterday as polio myelitis. Dr. L. D. Inskip, city health officer, stated.

At a meeting at the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce last night, dairymen and distributors agreed to pasteurize all milk for the next 14 days.

The Medford school board last night took cognizance of the infantile paralysis cases reported but took no action on the closing of schools.

Another meeting of city and county officials and Medford physicians was held this afternoon in the office of Dr. J. C. Hayes to consider additional measures designed to check spread of the disease. No definite plans were adopted, but at the suggestion of Mayor George W. Porter, who presided, a meeting of Medford physicians and surgeons was called for tonight.

It was emphasized at the meeting that there is no epidemic of infantile paralysis and that the aims of the officials and medical men are to prevent one. It was stressed again that there is no cause for alarm or a feeling of panic.

"There is no epidemic," Dr. Edwin R. Durso asserted. "This is preventive medicine we are discussing. The public should understand that."

It was pointed out at the meeting that because immediate preventive measures were considered yesterday, the situation is well in hand and that additional control plans will be put into effect should the disease spread.

At today's meeting were Mayor Porter, W. W. Allen, Fred Heath, Jr., and W. P. Stewart of the city council health committee; Eugene Thornadike of the county health committee; Dr. A. N. Johnson, county health officer; Dr. L. D. Inskip, city health officer; Dr. R. E. Green, chairman of the city school board; E. H. Hedrick, city school superintendent; and Dr. Charles T. Sweeney, Dr. A. F. W. Kress, Dr. Edwin R. Durso, Dr. B. C. Wilson and Dr. D. W. Findley.

After last night's meeting the dairymen and distributors issued this statement:

"In compliance with the request of city and county health committees, we, the undersigned milk distributors in meeting assembled at the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce this 12th day of November, 1935, unanimously agree that all milk be pasteurized during the next 14 days:

Meador, Brook Dairy, Van Dyke's Dairy, Gillman Dairy, Gold Sea Creamery, Medford Creamery, Snider Dairy Products Co., Crystal Springs Dairy, John Nansen, J. L. Kershaw, Charles Campbell, Emil Schneelke, Madrona Dairy, Lloyd Colver, Collins Dairy and James P. Campbell."

BANKERS MEETING SQUABBLES OVER NEW DEAL ISSUES

Secret Ballot Found Best for Election Association Officer After Politics Creates Wild Session

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Recovery policies of President Roosevelt became such an issue today in the annual convention of the American Bankers' association that the assemblage in a wild session decided to hold a secret ballot for second vice-president.

The second vice-president will become president in two years.

The issue was drawn between supporters of E. G. Bennett, Ogden, Utah, banker, whose name was reported as the nominee under the usual procedure of the nominating committee, and Orval W. Adams, banker of Salt Lake City, who was nominated from the floor in today's stormy session.

The secret ballot was the aftermath of sharp criticism of new deal banking recovery measures by critics of the national administration and defense and suggestions from Washington officials and new deal supporters.

Both Bennett and Adams are Republicans in politics. Adams in his address earlier this week assailed the banking measures as "alleged recovery" acts and said they were now retarding recovery.

Bennett replied that it was "bunk" and "absurd" to inject a national issue into the bankers convention election.

The convention refused to accept the report from the nominating committee in preference to fighting it out on the floor.

Thereupon by almost unanimous vote the convention decided to set up a voting booth in the Gold room of the Roosevelt hotel, convention and open balloting on the second vice-presidency from 2 to 8 p. m.

Everett Russell, 28, of Medford, charged with drunken driving, was yesterday found guilty of that charge in Ashland justice court by Judge L. A. Roberts and was fined $100 and costs, given a 30-day jail sentence and his driver's permit revoked for one year. He started his sentence in the Jackson county jail this morning.

Russell was accused of drunken driving following an accident Sunday night between his own machine and one driven by Frank Hart of Ashland near the underpass just north of that city. According to state police, he was under the influence of intoxicating liquor at the time and, following the accident, left his machine and walked away from the scene.

No one was injured in the accident, it was learned.

NAVIN, OWNER OF CHAMPION TIGERS, PASSES SUDDENLY

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Frank J. Navin, 64, owner of the world champion Detroit Tiger baseball club, died today within an hour after he fell from a horse at the Detroit Riding and Hunt club. It was not determined whether death was due to a heart attack or to injuries suffered in the fall.

Navin was riding ahead of Mrs. Navin on the bride path when she saw him fall. She summoned help from the club. Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Droeger, who managed the club, found the widely known sportsman in tall grass alongside the path, unconscious and with his hand clutched over his heart.

He was taken to the hospital, where he died without regaining consciousness.

Mrs. Droeger said that apparently Navin was not thrown from the horse. She said the stirrups and tack were in place, and that the mount, an Irish jumper, was known as a gentle animal.

Navin was a figure in big time baseball for 30 years and was vice-president of the American league.

Around him he gathered some of the brightest stars of baseball including Ty Cobb, Hugh Jennings, Sam Crawford, Bill Donovan and Mickey Cochrane, the man on whom he gambled $100,000 and won.

TURKEY PRICES HOLD LEVEL IN PORTLAND

PORTLAND, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The turkey price appeared firm in all portions today. It was reported by dealers that because of a very short crop in Texas, values there for live birds have advanced to as high as 19 cents a pound, although some Texas points quote 16 to 18 cents.

The Portland delivery price here today ranged from 18 to 19 cents for live birds and from 23 to 24 cents a pound for dressed turkeys. Country buying prices were about one cent less.

TRANSFER GRANGE INITIATION RITES TO CENTRAL POINT

Ceremony Planned for Medford Armory Tonight Is Switched Because of Lack of Facilities, Is Word

G. A. Andrews, master of Pomona Grange of Jackson county, announced today that due to unavoidable obstacles, the sixth degree initiation ceremonies for northwestern delegates to the national Grange convention in Sacramento which were scheduled to be held tonight in the Medford armory have been transferred to the Central Point Grange hall.

It was discovered this morning that a lack of facilities, chiefly the absence of stage curtains, would make it impossible to conduct the initiation in the Medford armory.

"We deplore the fact that it is necessary to make this change," said Grange officials this morning, "and we wish to assure citizens of Medford that had it been at all possible to adhere to the original schedule, we would have done so. We also wish to express our appreciation for the courtesy and welcome extended our organization."

Grange members from Oregon, Washington and Idaho will arrive this afternoon en route to the Sacramento convocation. All eligible will receive the state degree tonight, and it is expected that all delegates will stop over to be present at the initiation.

Pomona Grange will have charge of arrangements and procedure, assisted by subordinate Granges of the (Continued on Page Three)

VERNE STRAYER, 12 CALLED BY DEATH

Verne Roy Strayer, born at Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada, January 7, 1923, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. J. Strayer, passed away at their home on the old Central Point highway at 9:35 p. m. Tuesday at the age of 12 years. Death was the result of infantile paralysis of four days' duration.

Besides his parents he leaves two sisters, Verma May, twin sister of the deceased and Marion Strayer, both at home.

Funeral services in care of Conger funeral parlors will be held strictly private at the Blakely Memorial park Friday afternoon.

ARNSPIGER GOES EAST TO BOOST PROJECTS

Olen Arnsperger, general manager of the Medford Irrigation district and the Talent Irrigation district, is en route to Washington, D. C., on matters in connection with two Jackson county and Medford projects, the proposed Medford irrigation district storage dam project on Lake creek, and the Medford art base.

Arnsperger will confer with government and army officials on the two propositions. It is expected he will return with definite word regarding both.

On the storage dam project, Arnsperger will present maps and data and systematized information.
