RUSSIAN ARTIST SINGS TONIGHT AT HIGH SCHOOL

Savell Walevitch, singer of Russian and gypsy folk songs, will appear tonight at 8:15 in the high school auditorium in a program which is anticipated as being unusually fine, both in music and technique and subject matter. He has appeared in many of the larger cities in Europe and in the United States in the last five years, completing 27 tours in the United States and Europe, appearing before the New York Junior League, Steinway and Carnegie halls, Columbia university, the Sorbonne in Paris, and in several New York theatrical productions.

Mr. and Mrs. Walevitch arrived Tuesday evening from Los Angeles and Hollywood, having just completed a return engagement at Mills College in California, and a number of engagements in the south. From Medford, they will go north, appearing in cities throughout Washington and Oregon, and returning down the coast again. The artist has the unusual record of having appeared in 35 out of 48 states in the United States.

At all times, Walevitch refuses to descend to a theatrical presentation, keeping his songs authentic and genuine, giving a sincere spiritual picture of the Russian people. He also makes every effort to make his work understandable to his audience, so that, although sung in Russian, the songs are easily comprehended by American audiences.

Billy has often been heard to remark that the greater part of his education was acquired through the school of hard knocks. As time passed on, Billy, under the experienced leadership of the nationally known ball player, Captain Adrian Anson of Marshalltown, accompanied him to Chicago, where both played for a number of years with the White Sox.

While Billy was never the hard-boiled youth, some of his critics claim he did not give promise of becoming the whirlwind evangelist into which he later developed. His conversation took place in Chicago at about the age of twenty years. Regardless of the criticism heaped upon his method of reaching the sinner, the results were far more widespread than could have been accomplished in any other manner, all honor to his memory for the multitude of souls saved through his efforts.

Up to last night 1,788 cars of pears and 1,170 were packed pears and 616 for the canneries. Apple shipments to date total 115 cars.

Communications

Tribute to Billy Sunday.
To the Editor:
As an Evangelist, the entire nation is familiar with the life of the late Billy Sunday. But few friends remain who knew him in the little town of Ames, Iowa, where he was born, and spent the greater part of his youth.

His father had entered service in the Civil War in 1862, and passed away during the epidemic of measles three months prior to the birth of Billy, on November 19, who with his mother and brothers made their home with his grandfather, well known as Squire Corey. Mrs. Sunday left a widow in very poor circumstances, struggled along as best she could to keep them together.

Billy grew to be a sturdy, active youngster and at about the age of ten years, was the envy of every boy in town, because of his ability to outrun any of them, thus making him a sort of leader in anything of an athletic nature. Very few games being familiar to them at that time, baseball being the favorite, gave him the practice he desired as a sprinter.

At about twelve years of age, he was placed in the Soldiers' orphanage at Davenport, Iowa, where he remained for a couple of years (sometimes a homesick lad). After returning to his home, he worked when opportunity offered, and intermittently attended school in the little old red school house with its crude pine board furnishings where the three R's were about the sum total of subjects taught.

Billy has often been heard to remark that the greater part of his education was acquired through the school of hard knocks. As time passed on, Billy, under the experienced leadership of the nationally known ball player, Captain Adrian Anson of Marshalltown, accompanied him to Chicago, where both played for a number of years with the White Sox.

ANNUAL TURKEY TROT CLIMAXES INITIATION ELKS LODGE TONIGHT

Followed by the annual "Turkey Trot," one of the most popular occasions of the year for the outworn herd, the Medford Elks will initiate a large class of candidates at the lodge temple tonight. All sorts of amusements are planned for the evening, with the "turkey trot," actual initiation, and a big feed taking the center of interest.

Past exalted rulers will be present for the occasion, which is a tie-in with similar initiations all over the United States in honor of Joseph T. Fanning, oldest living grand exalted ruler. Estimates show that nearly 25,000 initiates will be sworn into the national lodge tonight.

For years the "Turkey Trot" has been one of the most exciting evenings in local Elksdom, and a huge crowd is expected. Present Exalted Ruler E. W. Winkie has issued a blanket invitation to every Elk in the city to make a special effort to attend.

BOY SLAYS SELF IN SCHOOL ROOM

KELSO, Wash., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Coroner Shirley Marsh said he intended today to call an inquest into the death of Arthur Young, 14, who shot himself through the head after flourishing an automatic pistol in a junior high school class room.

Police Chief Carl Pritchard described the shooting as suicide, motivated by Young's infatuation for an 11-year-old girl.

Young entered the girls' class room yesterday, obtained permission from the teacher, Miss Cecile Buckner, to speak to her and then drew the gun. "He threatened to kill her," the chief declared.

The teacher dissuaded him. When police were called, he ran. The boy shot himself, Pritchard said, while the officers tried to disarm him.

Advertising Here To Stay Is Word

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 14.—(P)—Professor W. G. Thatcher of the University of Oregon said that advertising "is here to stay." He told the Portland advertising club that "indictments by studio and arm-chair critics" would have no effect.

The professor said he had no sympathy with "shush-shush" policies but that he admitted there was a necessity for curtailment and regulation.

Wadhams And Co. Sales On Upgrade Declares Manager

S. J. Domine, sales manager for Wadhams and Company, was in Medford Wednesday conferring with Guy Young of this city, representative for that company. Domine, whose headquarters are in Portland, is also vice-president in charge of sales for the Domine Steel Rail Production Company, Ltd., a firm specializing in fire-place rails, bar rails and many other types of rails.

"We are delighted with the marked upturn in business throughout the northwest," Mr. Domine said yesterday. "I have just completed details on a special shipment of steel rails from Black Rock to J. W. Bergreen of Portland and our demand now exceeds production to the point that considerable delay is experienced in large shipments."

The coffee and steel rail official returned to Portland today, Wednesday evening.

LITTLE JACK HORNER
SAT IN A CORNER
AFTER EATING A LARGE PIE OF PIE HE STUCK IN HIS THUMB, AND PULLED OUT A TUM, WHICH HE ALWAYS KEPT IN HIS VEST POCKET FOR JUST SUCH EMERGENCIES!

WHY MILLIONS CARRY TUMS!

MILLIONS now know the smart thing is to carry a roll of Tums, always. Heartburn, gas, and other symptoms of acid indigestion have a habit of occurring at unexpected times. You don't have to drench your stomach with harsh alkalies which physicians have long warned may make the tendency toward acid indigestion worse. Tums, a real scientific advancement, contain no soda or other alkalies. Instead a wonderful antacid that simply neutralizes stomach acidity, the balance passing out of the body part. Pleasant to eat as candy. Only 10c a roll. Put a roll in your pocket now.
