Miss Carless Wed To A. Fuller Arney At Noon Yesterday

At high noon yesterday Miss Dorothy Carless became the bride of A. Fuller Arney in a quiet ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. R. W. Frame, in Phoenix.

Rev. Bartlam performed the ceremony, while bride and groom stood before a fireplace banked high with white chrysantheums against a green background. Tall candles completed the setting for the wedding, which was attended by the immediate families and intimate friends.

Miss Carless was given away by her step-father, Mr. R. W. Frame, and was unattended. She was gowned in the ever-lovely traditional white satin, set off with a shower bouquet of roses and gladioli in shades of pink and white.

The bride is a graduate of Medford high school and Southern Oregon Normal school, and has lived in the valley all her life. Mr. Arney has been a resident of Medford and Talent since early spring of this year. He is prominent in aviation fields, as is also Miss Carless. He is the son of Mrs. Emma Arney, who accompanied him here last spring and has since resided in Talent. She will leave soon to make her home in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Arney left soon after the ceremony, but will return to Medford before flying to Los Angeles, where they will be at home. A reception is being planned in anticipation of their return.

Guests for the wedding included Mrs. C. B. Pfender and Mrs. B. C. Richards, of Victoria, B. C., and Mrs. J. H. Robinson, of Seattle, all of whom are house-guests at the Frame home over the week-end; Mrs. Emma Arney and Laurel Dean Arney, small sister of the groom; and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Frame.

Additional topics will be: The Restoration, Mrs. H. Brown; A Bloodless Revolution, Mrs. G. A. Coddling; England Under Queen Anne, Mrs. B. C. Wilson.

Newburys Return From Long Trip East And South

Recently returned vacationists are Mr. and Mrs. Don Newbury, who arrived in Medford Wednesday evening after a three weeks' travel jaunt in the east and south.

Going by way of the northern route, Mr. and Mrs. Newbury traveled by rail, stopping first in Minneapolis, where they spent several days as guests of his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Newbury, Chicago was the next stop, and after spending about a week in that city, the Newburys went to Flint, Mich., where they purchased a new car and from there on the trip was made by motor.

Returning via the southern states, a stop was made at the Grand Canyon, and also at Los Angeles. Coming up through California, the Newburys stopped to spend some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McHaffey, at Antioch, Mrs. McHaffey is Mrs. Newbury's sister.

The weather was beautiful and the trip wonderful, say the Newburys.

Russian Singer Charms Audience In Concert Here

Mr. and Mrs. Sewell Walevitch, who were guests of Col. and Mrs. Gordon Voorhies the past week, left yesterday afternoon by motor for the north to complete the concert tour which brought them to Medford.

Charming his audience completely, Mr. Walevitch drew praise from the most exacting of his critics in his appearance here Thursday evening. Particularly pleasing to his listeners was the unusual manner in which his Russian and gypsy folk songs were presented, as he stressed the authentic style and melody of the Russian peasant, with no deliberate attempt at a theatrical or artistic impression.

Mrs. Walevitch charmingly introduced the songs, explaining their background and meaning. The artist himself gave the songs their natural, highly dramatic interpretation, enhancing his presentation with costume and the native seven-stringed Russian lute guitar and bringing to his audience a vital impression of the Russian spirit, stressing the purely peasant feeling.

Of unusual interest was his demonstration of the difference between the usual conception of the "Volga Boat Song" and the much less melodic true peasant interpretation.

While here, Mr. and Mrs. Walevitch were guests Friday afternoon of Mrs. Sprague Hingle, who also had as guest Mrs. Leonard Carpenter.

Ladies' Auxiliary Have Guest Day

Mrs. C. A. Whitlock was hostess to the Ladies' Auxiliary of the First Baptist church at her home Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. W. D. Roberts had charge of the program, which included several songs by Harvey Field, Jr., who was accompanied by Miss Constance Moore. Also appearing in vocal numbers was Mrs. John R. Knight, with Mrs. O. C. Failing at the piano.

It being "Guest Day," the several guests present were introduced to the members, and Rev. W. A. Dawkins presided over the assembly. Mrs. D. V. Platt sang two numbers, after which refreshments were served.

Deputy Present At Club Session

Twenty-six members and five guests were entertained when the Mistletoe club met Wednesday afternoon, including Deputy Leonora Botte, of Ashland. It was announced that officers will be elected at the next meeting December 11.

Deputy Broil read a very interesting account of an imaginary trip to Japan, that being the first country to be visited on the "Bon Voyage" tour being taken by the Royal Neighbors.

Neighbors Marie Silva, Maude Lovell, Irene Shirley, Jessie Laing, Lola Ludwig and Mary Sheibourn served dainty refreshments.

Deputy Present At Club Session

Two months' vacation is in view for Miss Florence Pye, who left last night for a visit at her home in Astoria.

Mission Society Extends Invitation.

A cordial invitation is extended by the Women's Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church to all church members and anyone interested in missions to attend the annual praise meeting to be held Tuesday afternoon in the church at 2:00 o'clock.

Mrs. Francis E. Bancroft, guest speaker, will deliver an address and a missionary pageant will be presented. Promise of an interesting and enjoyable afternoon is given by the committee in charge. Refreshments will be served during the social hour following the program. Everyone is welcome, and a large attendance is desired.

Farewells Said To Departing Residents

Last farewells were bidden yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Yester and their two children, Jeanette and Norman, who left by motor for Sacramento, where they will make their home.

For the past two weeks, Mr. and Mrs. House have been much entertained in view of their departure, regretted by a large group of friends.

Among hosts for the several affairs were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Blyth, who entertained at dinner Thursday evening and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Horner, who arranged dinner and cards Wednesday night. Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. House had as hosts Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Barton.

O.E.S. Chapters Entertain Official Guests at Session

Alpha chapter, O. E. S., in Ashland, was host Friday evening to the Medford, Jacksonville, Central Point and Grants Pass chapters at a special session in reception for a group of grand officers making an official visit.

Grand officers honored were worthy Grand Patron Percy Palsom of Pendleton and Mrs. Fulson, Grand Martha; Worthy Grand Maroon Inez Glaser of Coquille; Grand Ada, Mrs. Davis of Lakeview and Grand Conduress Mrs. Ingram of The Dalles. Also present were two past worthy grand matrons, Meadames Umbach of Lakeview and Margaret Barnes of Grants Pass.

A particularly fine musical program included a duet by Meadames Strang and Effert of Medford; a Preamble by Worthy Matron Ethel Freeman of Central Point, and two vocal solos by Mrs. Margaret Barnes of Grants Pass.

Following addresses by the visiting officers, refreshments were served to the guests.

Royal Neighbors To Have Rally

A rally Thursday evening is on the calendar for Royal Neighbors of this district, to be held at the K. P. hall, at which time State Supervisor Irma Kibler, of Nampa, Idaho, will make her annual official visit.

A class of candidates will be initiated, Ashland camp in charge of the ceremonies.

Supervisor Kibler will address the assembly and give instructions, and a program will be presented consisting of numbers arranged by different camps.

A banquet will close the evening. The Medford committee requests that all members not yet solicited bring a salad, any kind except fruit.

Church Circle Entertained Thursday

The Sunny Sister Circle of Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. A. J. Hanby Tuesday for the monthly one o'clock luncheon. After luncheon and business session, Mrs. Strang presented two lovely solos, accompanied by Miss Wallace.

Mrs. Fabrick was then introduced as guest speaker, and gave a very interesting and educational talk on the island of New Zealand, which she recently visited.

Thimble Club Entertained Thursday

Mrs. Bernice Wilson's lovely country home was the scene Thursday afternoon of the meeting of the Chrysantheum Thimble club, Carrie Mines acting as hostess.

Refreshments followed a business meeting. Announcement is made that the next meeting will take place next Friday at the home of Mrs. Adelaide Swartz, 40 Berkeley Way. Plans will be completed at this meeting for the entertainment of Chrysantheum Circle November 25.

Town Club Plans Benefit Tea And Bridge Tomorrow

A large affair on the Town club calendar for the coming week is the benefit tea tomorrow afternoon at the club house for members and their guests.

Bridge will be played during the afternoon, starting at 1:45. Several who will not be playing will drop in later for tea. Arrangements are being made by Meadames H. Chandler Egan, Louis Salade, Jr., Charles Glenn Smith and Josephine Wells, with Mrs. Egan acting as chairman. Reservations may be made today by calling the Town club, or any one of the committee.

Rare Art Objects Shown At Meeting Rogue River Club

ROGUE RIVER, Nov. 16.—(Sp.)—The regular meeting of the Ladies' Civic Improvement club was held at the home of Mrs. Sam Sandry Friday afternoon. President Mrs. Elizabeth Fowler conducted a short business session, which was followed by an interesting program of art and craft, prepared by the committee chairman, Mrs. Bertha Lund.

An exhibition of leather craft articles made by a group of young men in the Wimer CCC camp was presented by Donald Philip, who also explained how the work is done and source of supplies.

Daniel Powell of the Rogue River high school faculty gave an interesting talk of his training and work in sculpture in New York city. Several of his pieces were shown at the meeting and very much admired.

Mrs. Elizabeth Fowler talked on the life and work of Josiah Wedgwood and exhibited two very lovely Wedgwood vases, which she purchased in Edinburgh, Scotland.

Mrs. Effie Birdsye spoke on busts ware and displayed two very dainty pink vases of that type, brought from the plains in 1851 by the Birdsye pioneers.

Mrs. Bricker gave an interesting account of the history and development of the Dutch blue Delftware.

A number of Rockwood, New Jersey, bowls and jars were brought by Mrs. Swank. The club regrets the time did not allow for the presentation of these.

A statuette of the character of a Millet painting, "The Woman at the Churn," made by Mrs. Charles H. McCroske was exhibited at the meeting by Mrs. McCroske.

The hostess, Mrs. Sandry and Mrs. Hugh Hartman served cake and coffee, assisted by little Adele Smith.

The club voted to put on a local Red Cross drive within the near future. Now that no government relief will be given the poor, the Red Cross will have extensive work this winter and funds are much needed.

Local Musician Is Honored In Capitol

According to word received by friends in the valley of Miss Geraldine Thompson, she was chosen to play in a selected orchestra of six pieces for the annual Community Chest program in Washington, D. C.

She has also attended recent concerts of Fritz Kreisler and Lawrence Tibbette.

Miss Thompson is a violinist in the department of agriculture orchestra of 60 pieces, which is frequently heard in concert. The many friends here of Miss Thompson will be glad to hear of this honor.

Study Club Hears Book Review And Literature Survey

An unusually large attendance of the Thursday Morning Study club met November 14 at the Girls' Community Club house and enjoyed a particularly interesting program.

Mrs. T. M. Higgins gave a comprehensive survey of the origin and development of fiction from the early classical and romantic tales to the ultra-modern school of writing. She clearly brought out the tests of time choice fiction must meet in order to live during following generations; and mentioned numerous writers whose works have met these tests.

"Honey in the Horn," the popular Harper's prize novel by H. L. Davis, was reviewed delightfully by Mrs. E. A. Moore. With a keen insight and a charming sense of humor the particularly stressed the characterization found in this novel of early Oregon life.

The members voted to hold their next meeting Tuesday morning prior to Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Boyle announced Assistants.

Mrs. J. C. Boyle, chairman of the card party committee of the Catholic Bazaar, which opens next Friday, yesterday announced her assistants. Cards will begin at 2 p. m. Friday, and the committee is arranging for a number of special attractions for the entertainment of their guests.

Members of the committee, assisting Mrs. Boyle are: Meadames Ernest Barnes, Larry Schade, T. E. Daniels, P. E. Bigelow, Mary Weston, Joe Marshall, C. M. Brewer, Glen J. Keys, J. C. Hayes, Ray Miksche, John J. Wilkinson, W. J. Hutchinson, and W. E. Brayton and Miss Anna Kelleher.

Odd Fellows And Rebekahs To Have Dinner And Party

A series of winter social affairs, planned by Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, will start with a get-together meeting Tuesday evening at 6:30, when a covered-dish dinner and card party will be given. A. J. Hanby is chairman of the committee for Medford Lodge No. 83 and Mrs. Bergman chairman for Olive Rebekah lodge No. 28.

Those in charge of arrangements have made extensive plans for a successful evening. Members from Ashland, Central Point and Jacksonville have been invited, and all visiting members in the valley are urged to attend.

Odd Fellows and Rebekahs and families are expected to be present, and men are urged to bring their pocketbooks in preparation for a "touching" scene some time during the evening.
