

COMMUNITY CLUB FOR GIRLS FILLS LONG-FELT NEED

Project Here Considered Outstanding in State — Free Classes and Employment Bureau Provided

Building a new organization from the old Y. W. C. A., which was discontinued two years ago, the Girls' Community club had its inception in January, 1934, brought into being by the board of trustees and the board of directors of the Y. W. C. A. Since that time it has become a successful working organization, a civic project of which the city may well be proud.

Just recently, Mrs. Dolph Phillips, president of the board of directors, received a letter from Paul T. Jackson, head of the newly launched National Youth Association in Oregon, asking for details of the organization of the club, with the view of starting similar projects elsewhere, considering this attempt the outstanding work of its kind in the state.

With the aim of providing comfortable, attractive living quarters for girls working on low salaries, the club was started as a non-profit organization, financially dependent entirely on Community Chest funds. Differing from most organizations in that there are no national dues going out of the community and state, every penny of the club's funds is spent in Medford, making it a 100 per cent community project.

Accommodations for 7. The club house itself can accommodate seven girls, who have clean, comfortable and attractive rooms at the rate of $6.50 for single and $4.50 for double rooms. Residents cook their own meals, having use of the kitchen at all times, and also do their own laundry, iron and other facilities being supplied and constantly available.

Other rooms downstairs include one for recreation and dining, a large club room and others for various purposes. The main club room is rented to various clubs of the city as a meeting place, a small sum being charged to cover the fuel and lights only, as the club is strictly non-profit.

This room is available only during the day, as evenings are reserved for the various free classes conducted by volunteer workers for any girls who can attend. These classes include an orchestra on Monday evenings, directed by Mrs. E. E. Gore; gymnasium classes Monday and Thursday evenings conducted by Arlene Thompson, which, through the courtesy of E. H. Hedrick, are held in the high school gymnasium; a knitting class Thursday evening, taught by Mrs. Aletha Vawter; a chorus under the direction of Elsie Carleton Strang; Mrs. Stanley Jones is organizing a bridge class, and Mrs. Della Mann is planning a recreational and study class for both girls and boys, which will be inaugurated in the near future.

There is no charge for any of these classes and any interested girl is very welcome.

Free Employment Bureau. Mrs. Florence Laing acts as house-mother and hostess at the club house and also has charge of the free employment bureau, which is conducted for the use of any who care to take advantage of the service. This bureau has been very successful, having placed over 150 girls and women in the past year, and extends its activities to Crescent City, Grants Pass and Yreka.

The club building, situated at 229 North Bartlett, is owned in the name of a board of trustees, whose members are Eugene Thordike, Don Newbury, Mrs. T. W. Miles, Mrs. A. J. Hanby and Dr. B. G. Elliott.

Active management of the club is handled by the board of directors, consisting of: President, Mrs. Dolph Phillips; vice-president, Mrs. I. E. Schuler; secretary, Mrs. Aletha Vawter; and treasurer, Miss Margaret Kerr. Other members of the board are Mrs. W. W. Aldrich, Mrs. Don Newberry, Mrs. Porter Neff, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Lawrence Pennington, Mrs. H. M. Weishaar, Mrs. Louisa Humphry, Mrs. Robert Hammond, Mrs. William Holloway, Mrs. M. M. Morris and Miss Marjorie Kelly. These members were selected from various service clubs throughout the city by original members of the Y. W. C. A. board, but from now on new members will be elected by the existing board.

1936 STUDEBAKER MODELS HERE FOR MEDFORD SHOWING

B. L. Sanderson of the Sanderson Motor Co., local Studebaker dealer, and W. W. Walker of the Commercial Finance Corp., returned to Medford Monday with a new 1936 Studebaker Dictator and a 1936 Studebaker President, which are now on display at the Sanderson showroom on South Riverside. These two cars have been on display at the Portland Automobile show which the two local men visited.

Mr. Sanderson says: "The Studebakers of 1936 may truthfully be said to approximate the ideal American automobile. They are literally built to 'specifications' furnished by the motorists themselves."

"Many months ago the men who make up the management of the new Studebaker corporation, all of them Studebaker veterans, decided that the Studebakers of 1936 must meet the public demand as closely as was humanly possible.

Consequently, a prolonged and extensive survey of drivers' desires and dislikes was made. Thousands of drivers, young and old, men and women, were questioned. Their answers were carefully recorded.

"Do you prefer hydraulic brakes? How fast do you want to drive? Do you like the extreme teardrop design? What price is best suited to your purse and your preference? These and scores of other questions were asked. The questioning went on all spring and summer and up to less than two months ago. No section of the country, nor type of motorist was neglected.

"Finally, with the study completed and the answer to the question 'What does the driver want?' in hand, Studebaker produced its new models for 1936.

"The Studebakers of 1936 appear in two groups. The Dictator and the President. The President is a deluxe automobile, designed, styled and trimmed by Miss Helen Dryden, famous New York artist and decorator, and is by far the most beautiful and luxurious automobile ever produced by Studebaker."

small nations. It is well known they won the French by threats of deserting the united front against Germany. But when they picked up Hitler unexpectedly, they knew the gods were with them.

A full explanation for Hitler's move is still lacking. The best guess is that he noted the Franco-British line-up, with new deal moral support behind it, and decided to join the side with the largest numbers. A convincing factor is supposed to have been a report from his army heads that his army will not be ready for 18 months at least.

There may have been other reasons for Hitler's decree against shipping raw materials to Italy, but a better one.

A story is current among the best minds that the last time Mussolini threatened the British envoy, Sir Eric Drummond, with starting a European war, Sir Eric replied: "With what?"

Double Democratic Chairman-General Parley was standing against the wall at the press conference when President Roosevelt announced himself for Republican Progressive Senator Norris.

Mr. Parley immediately started a whispered conversation with a newsman about the weather. He shook hands with a few others and bowed himself out. If his face appeared to grow a little redder, it must have been due to a ray of sunlight which crossed his brow as he recalled what Senator Norris has said about him.

More and more influential in the formation of the new deal political publicity lately has been Presidential Secretary Stephen T. Early. He remains completely in the background, but his field of activity appears to have broadened even beyond that of the national committee publicity director, Charles ("Dispelling the Fog") Michelson. No clash of opinion appears to have occurred between them: none is likely.

Eastern congressmen (particularly those from New Jersey and Massachusetts) have been receiving increasing quantities of Townsend mail lately. Earlier they received little, the Townsend movement being then concentrated in the west.

The growth of the wild idea is further attested by the fact the shrewd Senator Borah recently made a speech at a Townsend meeting.

A good Democrat from Alabama proposes that the following from John C. Calhoun be printed on every wall in Washington:

"The very essence of a free government consists in considering offices as public trusts, bestowed for the good of the country, and not for the benefit of an individual or party. The system of political morality which regards offices in a different light, as public prizes to be won by combatants most skilled in the arts and corruption of political tactics, and to be used and enjoyed as their proper spoils—strikes a fatal blow at the very vitals of free institutions."

Sam Langford Hit Crossing Street
EW YORK, Nov. 19.—(AP)—Sam Langford, one of the greatest of negro ring fighters, lay critically injured in a hospital today.

Witnesses said last night that Langford probably didn't notice that the light was red when he shuffled into the street and was struck by a taxicab. Benefit fights had provided money for a series of operations on his eye, the last in April, 1935, but it was said that at best Langford had only 50 per cent vision in that eye.
