

CCC MITT ARTISTS SUFFER DEFEAT IN PORTLAND EVENTS

W. S. C. 160-Pounder Impressive in Two Victories—Semi-Finals and Finals Slated for This Evening

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Ed McKinnon, Washington State college, pounded out two impressive victories in the first western diamond belt boxing championships last night. He left spectators convinced he was well on his way to the title in the 160-pound class.

In the first round, McKinnon came back after a had start to decision Fred Graham, San Francisco CVO, and in the second round won a technical knockout over Ken Robertson, Multnomah club, Portland.

Other outstanding bouts included Tommy Cobb's victory over Jimmy Syme of the Marolmas Canadian club in the 118-pound class in the second round. Cobb represented the San Jose, Cal., Bears.

Girard DeClerck, 230-pound San Francisco longshoreman, looked like a title prospect in winning from Norman Johnson of the United States Indian school at Phoenix in the first round of the heavyweight class. Only one elimination round in the 112-pound and heavyweight class was completed. Other weights went to two rounds. Fifty-four bouts took until 2:30 a. m. to complete.

Semi-finals and finals are to be held tonight.

Results included:

First round, 118-pound class: Eddie Lowe, Fort Lewis CCC entrant, knocked out Nat Lombardo, Medford CCC boy, in the second round.

Second round results, 118 pounds: Roy Petragallo, Washington State college, defeated John Rosdill, Medford CCC, by a knockout in the third round.

120-pound class: Charles Deraedt, Canadian Maratona club, defeated Al Franklin, Medford CCC, by a knockout in the first round.

135-pound class: Howard Reynolds, Kellogg, Idaho, YMCA, knocked out Salvatore Currier, Medford CCC, in the first round.

Second round, 147-pound class: Morris Shkolnik, Eagles Athletic club, Seattle, won a technical knockout over William Suppek, Medford CCC.

160-pound class: Mark Holmes, Portland boxing school, defeated Paul Guillo, Corvallis, Ore., CCC.

Victory Costly

SEATTLE, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Freddie Steele of Tacoma, a leading contender for the middleweight boxing championship, has gone on the shelf with injured hands for the remainder of this year.

He bruised both mitts so badly in defeating Young Stuhley of Chicago in a 10-round bout here last night. Dave Miller, his manager, said he would treat Steele until next year.

Freddie scored two knockdowns and won every round in conquering Stuhley, a ranking middleweight.

COCHRAN DEFEATS WILLIE HOPPE TO ANNEX CUE CROWN

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Walter Cochran of San Francisco again ruled as king of the world's three-cushion billiard players today.

Willie Hoppe of New York, for nearly two generations the idol of American billiard fans, failed to realize his long ambition—to annex the three-cushion title along with other billiard championship crowns he has won.

In the title game last night, the 37-year-old Cochran defeated Hoppe 50 to 48 in a game that lasted 48 innings. In a dramatic finish Cochran went to the table in the 45th inning trailing 43 to 46. The San Francisco player, calling on all his billiard wizardry, cut loose with an unfinished round of seven, that returned him the championship he lost to Johnny Layton, of Sedalia, Mo., a year ago. His run of seven was the high run of the match. Hoppe's best effort was six.

Hoppe, one time boy wizard of the cue, played in hard luck. On difficult leaves he was in rare form, but missed his opportunities on easy shots. He miscued in the 41st inning, and a few minutes later missed off a comparatively easy shot, giving the San Francisco player the break that brought him victory.

Layton, the ex-champion, planned to challenge Cochran for a $20 point match on which he was willing to bet his last dollar. Layton was broken-hearted over his defeat in which he wound up in seventh place in the tournament.

Hoppe will play Arthur Thurnblad of Chicago tonight in a 50-point match to decide second and third place honors. Each has won seven and lost two games.

When the new athletic plant at the senior high school is finished, one of the most prominent features will be a running track. Coach Bowerman, who is to introduce the sport here next spring after a layoff of several years, is now looking for cool cladders to provide the surface. In this wood-burning community, he is having his hands full in that attempt.

Upon going to the gas company plant in search of the klinkers, Bowerman discovered that they get only about a wheelbarrow full every two weeks, hardly enough to make much of an impression on a 440-yard track.

Interest in track here has been practically nil since the heyday of the Singler brothers, Rudy and Dick, and others of the era, but Bowerman is firmly convinced that track is a remarkable developer of football and basketball stamina and speed. It teaches the boys grace and agility to boot, Bill says.

He should know. When he first entered the University of Oregon, Bowerman was not particularly fast, and had a peculiar hitch in his stride which earned for him the name of plume of "Hopalong." (He'll kill me when he sees that!) Track Coach Bill Hayward of the university put him to work on the track, taught him how to handle himself, and he developed into one of the finest middle-distance runners in school, and surprised no one more than himself when he went out and won the 440 and 320 in a meet.

Speaking of track, Francis Klotzner, captain of the University of Iowa track squad, personally amazed 39 points in the Hawkeyes' fall championships, winning the 60-yard high and 110-low hurdles, shotput, a 44 lb. 2 x 2 ft. jump, and placing second in the 50 and 100-yard sprints and the high jumps. The report that he ran all the way home to get in wood after the meet is unverified.

LEVINSKY NO MATCH FOR WRESTLER IN MIXED GO

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 20.—(AP) Whether a good boxer can whip a wrestler remained an unsettled question today, but there was no doubt what a good wrestler can do to a hit-and-miss slugger.

It took Ray Steele, patriarch of the grappling industry, just 35 seconds in the first round of a ten-round contest last night to pin King Levinsky, the late heavyweight boxing contender.

The bout, first "major" mixed battle in ring history, left some 12,000 cash customers disappointed and both principals drew a generous round of boos at the close of the brief fiasco.

The action—while it lasted—was whirlwind enough.

The Kingfish, armed with the conventional six-ounce gloves, ambled from his corner at the bell and took a good boxer can whip a wrestler remained an unsettled question today, but there was no doubt what a good wrestler can do to a hit-and-miss slugger.

Steele dived under his gloves and kicked him against the ropes.

The wrestler held Levinsky firmly from behind while the Chicago ex-fish peddler fanned with a vain backhand at the Steele kidneys. Came then the referee and separated the two.

The Kingfish let go the long right haymaker he promised before the bout would lift Steele into the aisles. It dazed the wrestler but he remained substantially in the ring.

He ducked the follow-up left and then cried Levinsky's knees with a quick dive, toppled him to the floor and smothered the bewildered boxer with an octopus body block.

No Scolding. BLUFFTON, S. C., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Joe Hayward and two companions played hockey from school because they couldn't resist the temptation to try out Joe's new hound. But they didn't get a scolding. They brought home a 155-pound buck.

BOWERMAN EMPHATIC IN WARNING TIGERS CAVEMEN DANGEROUS

"This is going to be a tough ball game Saturday," Coach Bill Bowerman told his high school football players last night, "so you might as well get ready for it." The game is expected to be one of the hardest of the current season, with the Cavemen pointing for the Black Tornado all year.

Bowerman ran his men through a stiff defensive drill, and then had a 15-minute offensive scrimmage, tapering off with a hard drilling on fundamentals. Blocking and tackling were stressed, and will be further emphasized tonight, Bowerman said today.

Considerable time was put in on offensive and defensive passing work, with Smith, Bayless and Sakralda working on the tossing end, and Kunzman, Freley and Grow taking the heavens. Kunzman, after just recovering from a torn knee ligament, hurt the other knee last night, although not seriously.

To protect against any possibility that Kunzman get hurt in Saturday's game, Bowerman has shifted Grow to left end. Big Ray Estinger, who has been filling in at that post, has a leg injury and may not be able to play.

Ray Lewis, stocky halfback, wrenched his shoulder painfully but not seriously last night, but those are the only injuries of the entire squad.

"Smithereens" Smith, pile-driving halfback, has completely recovered from a charley horse that bothered him all week, and will be able to start the game.

FILMS STIR GRID SQUABBLE ANEW

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Motion pictures of the Notre Dame Army football game stirred anew today the argument as to whether the penalty for interference which gave Notre Dame its chance to tie the score was justified.

Notre Dame was given the ball on the army two-yard line after attempting a pass, and with one minute to play plunged over to tie the score at 6-6.

The picture showed both Whiskey Grove, Army halfback, and Bill Grohs, quarterback, close by Wayne Millner, Notre Dame's intended receiver. They indicated, however, that Grohs did not touch Millner in any way until after the ball had grounded.

GEO. HARRINGTON CALLS SIGNALS ON LINFIELD SQUAD

LINFIELD COLLEGE, McMinnville, Ore., Nov. 20.—(Sp.)—George Harrington, former Medford high gridiron star and now a junior at Linfield college in McMinnville, has won the signal-calling berth on the Wildcat varsity. Throughout the season he has shown outstanding ability as a field general and has led his team to a Northwest conference co-championship.

In the final conference game against College of Idaho, Harrington quick-kicked deep into Idaho territory, which put Linfield in a scoring position. The final score was 14-0, with Harrington kicking the two extra points.

The Wildcats have an outstanding record this season, having won all of their conference titles except the Pacific university encounter, which ended in a 0-0 tie. Southern Oregon Normal was defeated, 27-0, and the brilliant Portland university Pilots nosed Linfield out, 7-6.

Harrington is not only excels in football but is a two-year letterman in basketball, and is expected to be the mainstay of the team this year. He is one of the best men on the golf team and has been a leader in class and student body activities.

Geo. Harrington.

THE Referee ON THE SPOT

BY EVERETT STRIPPER Southern Football Official. (Written for the Associated Press.) ATLANTA.—(AP)—The hardest play I ever had to call occurred in the Tennessee-Alabama game of 1929.

With Tennessee leading 6-0, Tony Holm carried the ball 79 yards by steady bucks, placing it on Tennessee's one-yard line. Captain Hicks of Alabama tried to punch it over on the fourth down—and was downed six inches from the goal.

If Hicks had given the ball to Holm, their difference in height alone would have given Alabama the touchdown. If Holm had been tackled at exactly the same spot that Hicks was, the ratty, powerful boy would have fallen across the line, something Hicks was too small and light to do.

When inches decide a game, it's tough. The final score was Tennessee 6, Alabama 0.

You've Wanted a Smaller Diesel

Ever since the introduction of "Caterpillar" Diesel-powered tractors four years ago, there has been an insistent demand for a Diesel for the medium size farm. Farmers all over the world have said "give us Diesel power . . . Diesel economy . . . in a size to fit our needs." "Caterpillar" Engineers have answered, and . . .

Now comes the 'Caterpillar' RD4

30 Horsepower Diesel Tractor

. . . a tractor with approximately the same drawbar efficiency as the old "Caterpillar" THIRTY, with fuel economy such as no tractor of its size has ever approached, with better balance between power and traction than any previous "Caterpillar" of its size. Separate gasoline engine for positive starting . . . runs on two gallons per hour of cheap fuel oil . . . completely sealed against dust . . . a tractor that delivers maximum performance without sacrificing long life.

and the new "Caterpillar" 30

for gasoline or low cost fuel oil

Here's a machine that operates on a wide range of low cost fuels, develops approximately the same drawbar horsepower as the RD 4 and sells for $350.00 less. For the farmer who needs a full 30 horsepower tractor but for a seasonal period too short to justify the additional cost of a Diesel, the "Caterpillar" THIRTY is a splendid tractor value.

Because the factory wishes to give customers' orders first call, we are unable to immediately secure a display machine. We can assure you, however, that you can place your order for spring delivery with confidence that these two machines measure up with and exceed "Caterpillar" standards of quality.
