

TAXES THREATEN LARGE FORTUNES SAYS J. P. MORGAN

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Increasing taxes and governmental expenditures, in the opinion of J. P. Morgan, the financier, threaten to wipe out the great private fortunes of this country within 30 years, unless a retrenchment policy is adopted. "Why, even now, anybody who makes any money in the United States actually is working eight months of the year for the government, and who is going to be able to or will do that indefinitely?" he said last night on his return from England. Asked what he thought of President Roosevelt's chances of re-election, Morgan said: "It is not time to worry about that. Really, you know more about it than I do."

WIFE HAS RIGHT SEARCH POCKETS

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 20.—(AP)—A wife has a right to all the cash she can find in her husband's pockets, County Judge Algernon I. Nova said. "It is not a crime when a wife relieves a husband of his pocket contents," Judge Nova said in dismissing a larceny complaint against Mrs. Carolyn Mead, 29, brought by her husband, Frank Mead. But Judge Nova provided some solace for the lord of the manor by saying: "What's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander; a husband also has the right to relieve a wife's pocketbook of such monies as are there." Mead, according to the indictment, celebrated last Christmas and on awakening found his wife and $500 missing. The money had been in his trousers pocket—had his wife's hand, the complaint said.

BERKELEY SEWER HEARING CALLED BY CITY COUNCIL

(Continued From Page One.) land at the fairgrounds to J. R. Marshall, Sr., and Frank DeSouza for $200 was ratified. Mr. Marshall and Mr. DeSouza bought nine acres from the city in April, 1933, and this is a contiguous acre. It was pointed out that it was not generally known that the city owns the north half of the fairgrounds while the county owns only the south half. Earl C. Gaddis addressed the council relative to the easement of delinquent assessments, suggesting that those willing to pay arrears be assisted by some constructive plan. He was assured by Mayor George W. Porter that the council was anxious to aid everyone possible.

OREGON POLISHES AERIAL DEFENSE

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 20.—(AP)—The University of Oregon football players trained their eyes on zooming footballs today as they drilled on pass defense and offense for Saturday's game at Seattle against University of Washington. Coach Frank Callison spread a human net which he hoped would snare Washington's passes, particularly the unorthodox left-handed heaves by Byron Haines. Dale Lasselle, Oregon's best passer, will start against the Huskies. While mystery surrounded a score of new plays given to the Webfoots the past week, it was conjectured they included new pass plays to spread the Husky defense for Mischek and Brad-dock's line smashes.
