Rialto Fans Enjoy Admiral Byrd Film

That epoch making polar trip, starring Admiral Richard E. Byrd and his loyal band of 56 followers, has been recorded for all time in "Little America," an actual scene by scene account of the intrepid explorer's second Antarctic expedition, which came to the Rialto theater yesterday for a three-day run.

NO NEW CASE OF POLIO REPORTED

No new cases of infantile paralysis were reported in the city or county today.
There are now only four cases in the county and all were reported by medical authorities today as being mild and in convalescence.
The Talent school was closed today for an indefinite period and all public gatherings were prohibited. This action was adopted by the Talent school board and council after Elton Petri, Anderson Creek farmer, was reported ill with infantile paralysis last Saturday. The closure was described by officials merely as a precaution. Petri was reported today to be well on the way to recovery.
N. B. Ashcraft, principal of the Talent school, a combined high and grammar school with enrollment of 180, stated today that attendance had declined 40 per cent because of colds and measles and it was thought best to close the institution altogether.

arduous undertaking in this truth-larger-than-fiction production, commingled with suspense, drama and romance in every foot of film. Isolated themselves of their own free will, filled with the spirit of adventure, this courageous expedition set out to conquer the frozen wastes of the South Pole, determined and ready to face any danger, every hardship.
They set out, conquered and brought back the most amazing motion picture ever shown in a motion picture theater. Scenes showing this fearless group who spent 18 months in an ice cave making valuable researches as they battled the elements. Scenes, fighting their way through blinding blizzards, roaring gales and also scenes of these men at play, finding relaxation through radio programs in their underground city.
Hats off to those few fearless men who offered their lives to give to the world a new advance on science. Credit also goes to them for bringing back a photographic record so that you may enjoy the joy thrills they experienced, from your seat in a warm theater.

CAPITOL CHANCE MUFFED-MARTIN
CORVALLIS, Ore., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Plain-spoken Governor Charles H. Martin held post-mortem here yesterday to his "ignominious retreat" in his "bustle" with the recent legislature.
"We have muffed the ball and made ourselves look ridiculous. In throwing away $300,000 the president offered us and in losing the generous offer of $250,000 of the city of Salem for what could have been one of the most beautiful capitols in the United States," he said.
The remarks about the capitol preceded Governor Martin's talk on farm adjustment to the Oregon agricultural council.
