

NOVICE REPORTER GIBED BY ROGERS ON CLASSIC BOOK

A reporter on the Wyoming State Tribune of Cheyenne, will never forget the lesson in literature he received as a cub from Will Rogers.

During Rogers' frequent flying trips across the country he often stopped at the Cheyenne airport and, of course, was the subject of frequent interviews. On one occasion, Ted O'Melia, then a youthful member of the staff, was assigned to interview Rogers. After the usual run of questions, O'Melia asked:

"What is your next picture, Mr. Rogers?"

"David Harum!" Rogers replied.

"How do you spell that?"

Rogers looked sharply at the reporter for a moment to detect if he was being kidded. Then he drawled:

"David, D-a-v-i-d; Harum, H-a-r-u-m. And, young man, I'll give you the name of another good book—the Bible, B-i-b-l-e."

The flaming red of a Rocky Mountain sunset was pink compared to the reporter's face.

Millions now have the opportunity to contribute to the memory of Will Rogers. Famous friends have organized the Will Rogers Memorial commission. It is hoped everyone who smiled with Rogers will come forward with a subscription. Bring or send to the Mail Tribune.

Every cent subscribed will be used for memorials to be selected by Henry Ford, Herbert Hoover, Alfred E. Smith, Will H. Hays, Jesse H. Jones, Owen D. Young, Vice-President John N. Garner and other men and women of national prestige and respect. The memorials will depend on the number of friends who contribute — but they will be used for charitable, educational and humanitarian purposes.

MILL WILL CLOSE SOON BECAUSE OF WINTRY WEATHER

Due to winter weather conditions in the Butte Falls district preventing logging operations, the Medford corporation (Owen-Oregon) woods operations will close within the next week, according to General Manager James H. Owen.

Cutting operations in the sawmill close about December 1, Manager Owen said.

During the suspension period 150 men will be employed, according to Owen, in the yard and shipping departments and in repair work. The plant has been employing close to 300 men the past two months. Last winter none were employed.

Re-opening date of the plant is indefinite, Manager Owen stated, and was a matter for his superiors to decide. He thought he would know the spring opening date within a short time. In past years it has generally been between March 15 and April 1. It is too early to determine what effect the Canadian trade treaty, signed recently, will have upon the local lumber industry, Manager Owen said. He stated he did not desire to make a statement regarding it at this time. He held that any effect there would not be as heavy as that felt by upstate mills.

Officials of the Medford corporation, who have other lumber interests in the state and Northwest are scheduled to confer in December on plans for the coming year.

'Hold Them Teeth' Yells Right End In High School Game

LAS ANIMAS, Colo., Nov. 20.—(AP)—It was "time out" for teeth in the football game between the Canon City Abbey team and Las Animas high school.

Scrimmaging had been furious when Gus Petros, Abbey right end, dashed toward the side line with his hand held to his mouth. The player handed something to the coach, yelled "Hold my teeth," and ran back to the field.

Teammates explained Gus has two false teeth—the sort that screw into place. He'd forgotten to "check" them before the game started.

years and I have never had any trouble before," he told police. "I haven't had any trouble with my employees and I don't know of any reason to believe the poison would have been deliberately mixed with the soda."

Inspectors Allan McGinn and Geo. Engler of the police homicide squad began an investigation to determine whether there was any criminal responsibility.

The grand jury prepared to take up the matter, while records of the city's emergency hospitals were searched for victims of poisoning.

Dr. Geiger broadcast an appeal on the dangers of the poisoned soda and many purchasers brought samples to the hospital. Chemists declared the soda and poison had been mixed thoroughly.

Would Trace Samples

"We wanted to find out why the poison was sold to a department store and what ultimately happened to it," Dr. Geiger stated.

Dr. C. D. Leake, chief consulting chemist of the department of health, analyzed the samples.

"The amount of poison present in all samples indicated more poison permeated the soda than could have come from the sides of the barrels in which it was contained," Dr. Leake said.

Dr. Geiger, in his warning, declared: "There is no danger in the use of standard brands of soda in their proper packages, but I ask that all persons having purchased soda in bulk from the sides of a question bring them to my office immediately."

The thrifty housewives who had bought the bulk soda at 4 cents a pound could have purchased the same brand in original packages for 10 cents a pound.

The three persons whose deaths were blamed on the use of the "cheap" soda were Mrs. Marie Ogle, 60; Alfred Terry, 81; and his daughter, Mrs. Bessie Shufelt, 53.

PICK TOUGH FOE FOR JOHNNY SOOS

Johnny Soos, the Indiana bad man, may get his ears plastered well against the side of his head at the Armory next Monday night. Last week Soos battered and gouged at Jerry Marcus of New York, only to lose on a foul. In the audience was Frankie Peck, exponent of the rough-and-tumble fighting of the Hell's Kitchen and Barbary Coast variety.

After watching Soos put on the in a 1 in the south-of-the-rail-road-tracks manner, Peck's hands itched for the Soos jocular vein, and he pleaded for a match. Promoter Mack Lillard announced today that he is trying to sign the two for a bout here next week and, although arrangements are not yet complete, he feels sure the match will be signed.

After seven lean weeks, more or less, southern Oregon now seems due for seven fat weeks in wrestling material, with Pete Belcastro, Leo Wolfe, Toots Estes and other top-line wrestlers sojourning in the district. The rest of next week's card will probably see several of those wrestlers on the billing.

NOMAD FAMILIES PUZZLE POLICE; HELP IS SOUGHT

"It's pretty hard to send a man away feeling good when he is hungry and you can't feed him. The other day a man told me he would go out and throw a rock through a store window if we didn't give him a meal. I fed him. I figured that was cheaper than paying for a new plate-glass window."

Mayor George W. Porter evinced much interest in the problem, and after the council had considered the matter, he asked the health committee, of which W. W. Allen is chairman, to confer with Judge Earl B. Day, to ascertain if the county court and the city could not evolve some plan whereby the Salvation Army could be assisted in taking care of the transients.

"It's not a city problem," Chief McCredie said, "yet the city pays in one form or another, because if they are not fed and sheltered these transients will go about town pilfering what they can find."

EAGLES OFFICIALS WILL VISIT FRIDAY

Arthur Redick and J. F. Fitzpatrick, personal representatives of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, will be honored guests at the regular meeting of Crater Lake Aerie, Number 2093 on Friday night, it was announced by officers today.

The visitors, from the head office in Kansas City, Mo., are making a tour of the coast and it is expected that a large turnout of Eagle members will be on hand Friday night to greet them.

Officers also announced this morning that there will be no social dance on Friday, but immediately following the business session, officers of the lodge and members of the finance committee will confer with Redick and Fitzpatrick regarding matters of importance to the local aerie. All members are urged to attend the meeting which will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS RESEARCHERS REPORT TO PREST. ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Report on a broad study of infantile paralysis was given to President Roosevelt today by members of the infantile paralysis research commission.

The commission, which is expending funds received from the President's birthday ball in research on infantile paralysis, had luncheon with the president.

Henry L. Doherty, New York, chairman, reported a diversified attack upon the disease.

Grants, he said, had been made to Harvard, Long Island College of Medicine, New York University, University of Chicago, University of Pennsylvania, Stanford University, University of California, University of Southern California, Western Reserve University and Yale.

Keith Morgan of New York, treasurer of the birthday ball committee, said approximately $1,071,000 was received from the affairs last January.

GOLD ACCOUNTING REQUEST IS MADE

George M. Roberts and other stockholders of the Lucky 13 mine in the Siskiyou have filed an amended complaint against George Lewis, Chas. Gentry, Thomas Spitzner and Nick Carter, seeking an accounting of gold they allegedly removed from the property.

An order restraining the defendants from the withdrawal of any money they may have on deposit in the First National bank is also sought.

The amended complaint alleges that the defendants trespassed and removed gold bearing ore without authority. Lewis is asserted to have received $4,500; Gentry, $4,500; Spitzner, $500; and Carter, $500. Judgment against them in these amounts is sought.

The suit is a companion to the one against W. E. (Jed) Hiltson in which Roberts was awarded judgment for gold unlawfully mined.

BANK LIQUIDATION AUTHORITY ASKED

The state bank superintendent yesterday filed a petition in circuit court for an order authorizing two sales in the liquidation of the Citizens' bank of Ashland.

Authorization to sell the Van Zile property in Ashland for $3,000 to C. S. Wymer was sought. It was obtained by the bank on a mortgage value of $2,031.25 and has back taxes due amounting to $584.

Compromise of a $2,000 note held against A. W. Thomas and Hazel L. Thomas of Ashland is also asked. In compromise the state bank superintendent seeks authority to accept $1,776 in Home Owners' Loan corporation bonds and an unsecured note for $244 in settlement.

MANSFIELD RITES THURSDAY IN G. P.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Thursday in Grants Pass for Darrell Mansfield, 16, who passed away Sunday as the result of an accidental gun-shot. Interment will be in the Central Point cemetery.

Young Mansfield was born June 20, 1919, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Mansfield of Grants Pass. His mother died February 24, 1935. He leaves his father, one brother, Asher, and one uncle, Frank Carter, of Eagle Point; four aunts, Ina Draper and Belle Parker, of Klamath Falls; Ernestine Sheridan, of Los Angeles, and Norma Higginbotham of Central Point, and a number of cousins and a host of friends to mourn his loss.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rain! to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile daily into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest, it just sits in the bowels, gas builds up, your stomach, you get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks blue.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes these good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Many people, yet anxious to make bile flow freely, ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else, tho.

CHARLES BRANDON, PIONEER, PASSES

Chas. W. Brandon, early resident of Jackson county, passed away at Medford Tuesday at the age of 79. He was born at Joliet, Ill., in 1856.

At the age of three years he crossed the plains with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew W. Brandon, and the family settled in Yolo county, Calif. They moved from Los Angeles to Ashland, Oregon, in 1878 and six years later he went to Harney county, where he rode the range for many years. He was married at Island City, Oregon, in 1890 to Lily Vandermulen and to this union were born two children, Ford Brandon of Tillamook county and Pearl Woodard of Los Angeles.

For the last 10 years he has resided with his brother, F. S. Brandon of Medford. Two other brothers and one sister survive. James of Burns, Oregon; Geo. W. of Grants Pass, and Lola Owings of Medford.

Funeral services will be held at the Conger chapel with Rev. Joseph Knotts officiating at 1:30 Thursday, interment in the Ashland cemetery.

MRS. CLARA DEW TAKEN BY DEATH

Clara A. Dew, wife of I. A. Dew, passed away at her home on Jacksonville highway early this morning following an illness of several months.

She was born at Dubuque, Iowa, December 10, 1873, at which place she was married in September, 1901 to Mr. Dew. The family came to Medford from Aberdeen, E. D., in 1919. She was a member of the Presbyterian church at Jacksonville and also the Jacksonville Grange.

Besides the husband, she leaves four children, Mrs. Stephen G. Nye of Talent; Mrs. Russell B. Sherwood, Medford; Irvin Lowell Dew, Medford, and Roger J. of Grants Pass. Also one sister, Mrs. Albert J. MacDonough of Medford, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Jones of Jacksonville at the Conger chapel at 2:00 p.m. Friday. Concluding services will be held in the Siskiyou memorial park.

SEATTLE, Nov. 20.—(AP)—W. C. Roope, the engineer who brought the first Great Northern railway engine into Seattle in 1893, is dead.
