ROGERS CAMPAIGN DRAWS TO CLOSE, THREE DAYS LEFT

The Will Rogers Memorial Fund campaign began its final week today. It will come to a close on Wednesday, Thanksgiving eve.

The campaign has been conducted throughout the country since November 4, the 56th anniversary of Will Rogers' birth. There has been no solicitation for funds, no formal, organized drive. Contributions have been in the nature of a good-will offer, the national committee being more interested in the number of contributors than in the size of individual donations.

Funds are to be used in perpetuating the memory of the famous comedian and philosopher. The memorials to be established are to be living and continuous. They are to be used for educational, charitable and humanitarian purposes. Contributions are being received here by the Mail Tribune. A record of contributors will be kept and a receipt issued for each donation. A coupon is provided for convenience.

Will Rogers' heart beat in sympathy with all human need. Evangeline Booth, commander of the Salvation Army, declared recently in a warm tribute to the late comedian.

"Unfortunately, it was my privilege to meet Will Rogers personally only on a few rare occasions," Miss Booth said, "but on the first time of grasping his hand I caught the beat of his great heart in sympathy with human need. He was a staunch friend of the Salvation Army as evidenced by his generous financial support."

The admiration was mutual, and Miss Booth treasures the tribute Will paid her in print after the Democratic convention in Chicago in 1932. Will was impressed by the fact that Miss Booth did not read her prayer when she addressed the convention.

"That was a fine prayer," he wrote, "that's the kind of prayer I like. You can communicate with the Lord God Almighty without writing Him a letter."

Later that summer Will, commenting on Miss Booth's address in the Hollywood bowl, referred to her as "the head of the world's greatest and most useful organization."

"Now she says 'things are getting better,'" he wrote. "That really means something. What could be a better barometer of the affairs of the unfortunate than her army? All other men who make predictions deal with money. They look at the stock market. She looks at the nothings in their belts. The Salvation Army is proof of how respected and useful an organization can be if you keep it out of politics. So when Evangeline says something about 'folks' it means something, for she seeks nothing but down-and-outers. She takes care of big men's blunders."

Mr. Lange says: "Mr. Hunt purchased one of the first of the 1936 Airflows and he has become a very enthusiastic Airflow booster. The 1936 Airflow line is the most luxurious on the market this year. All Airflows this year have a very large baggage compartment on the rear and the famous Chrysler overdrive, with 5 speeds ahead."

The new Airflows will be on display very soon, according to Mr. Lange, who returned to Medford today with a 1936 Chrysler 6 from the floor of the Portland automobile show.
