FRANCE BUDGETS HUGE SUMS FOR MILITARY FORCE

Highly Mechanized Army of Nearly 700,000 Men, 3,000 Fighting Planes, Modern Navy Sought.

PARIS.—(AP)—France's military armaments will be given more money and more men in 1936, military budgets show. A highly mechanized army of nearly 700,000 men, a fighting air force with 3,000 fast planes and the world's most modern navy are planned to follow the paths that France's diplomats blaze at Geneva.

More than 15,000,000 francs translates into $391,000,000, will be spent on the upkeep and improvement of the fighting services next year, an increase of more than $130,000,000 over this year's defense budgets.

Additional millions of francs will go to acquire the 40,000,000 guns of France and nearly 60,000,000 in Poland and protectorates from poison gas and bomb attacks from the air.

The French army, called by military experts the world's finest fighting machine, will cost $95,000,000 in active service next year, with an estimated reserve of nearly 7,000,000 of the standing army, 200,000 will be stationed abroad and the rest in France, with more than 100,000 on 24-hour watch in the steel and concrete frontier fortifications.

Speed, keynote of this year's Army training, will be stressed again in 1936 with heavy increases in motorized equipment.

Brigades of shock troops, composed of professional soldiers, highly trained and lightning fast, will be expanded beyond the 100,000 that took the field this year. They form a covering force set under way.

General Victor Denisov, Air minister, expects to have more than 3,000 modern first-line fighting planes for service by the end of this year. Since last January 900 bombers, 900 pursuit planes and 1,200 observation

Twenty-four hour watches, instituted by General Denait last spring, will be maintained at all airports so that France's air armada may fly the minute an enemy attacks.

France's navy, almost completely rebuilt, save for its capital ships, since 1922, and counting more modern vessels than the three fleets which outrank it in ships, will have 165,000 tons of new ships in the stocks in 1936.

Liners Train French Tars. The "Dunkerque," 26,500-ton battleship, France's first in 20 years, will be ready next spring. A sister ship, the "Strasbourg," will be launched late next year.

The keel of a 35,000-ton dreadnought, destined to keep pace with Mussolini's building program, will be laid this year, with the keel for a second to follow as soon as the Washington treaty expires.

The navy's personnel next year will be 63,140, an increase of more than 4,000. In addition, the navy will have thousands of reservists on France's many merchant ships.

Coastguard batteries for the Channel and the North sea figure prominently in the navy's expenses for 1936, for in France the navy is charged with coast defense. A naval aviation center at Tahiti, France's South Pacific colony, and the equipping of 50 colonial sloops with airplanes, accounts for some of the expense.

Spencer Tracy Coming to Rialto

The trusty fowling piece of Ray Coleman yesterday earned its keep when Coleman knocked down enough clay pigeons at the turkey shoot at the Medford gun club to take one turkey, one ham and one bacon. The only winner of the day to take three major prizes.

In all, 24 turkeys changed hands, with three hams, five bacon, six hens and 17 small sacks of sugar going as prizes. Turkey winners besides Coleman were Harry Wilson, Dr. Lemery, Everett Eads, George Eads, Grover Corum, John Tomlin, C. L. Strange, J. H. Cawker, Bill Coy and Fred Scherfel.

Other turkey winners were Ralph Green, George Howard, R. B. Alburgh, Rex Green, Ron DeVoe, Mitchell, Dr. Lagason, George Jantzer, Bob Gilstrap, Bill Young, Syd Newton, T. E. Daniels, and Mrs. Russell Semon.

Hans went to Coleman, Ole Alenderfer and Ralph Green, while Harry Wilson, Calver, Goodwin, Elmer Wilson, Dan Schuss and H. L. Claycomb took hens. In the shoot for bacon, Tomlin, Coleman, Coy, Mitchell and Fred Sander were successful.

Sacks of sugar were won by Dr. Lemery, Craig, Roland Hubbard (3), Dr. Thayer, R. D. Semon, Ches. Woods, Brock, Fred Sander, Jantzer, W. W. Watts (2), J. Baylis, H. Eldon, Newton and Clarence Eads.

Interest was added to the shoot in a special contest by the five shooters who attended the Pacific Indian shoot at Harrison Hotel in British Columbia this spring. The shooters, T. E. Daniels, Jerry J. Jerome, Doc Lemery, George Porter and John Tomlin couldn't agree as to who was the best shot, so they fired away 100 times. Tomlin's original contention that he was the cream de la creme of the bunch was borne out when he won the bombardment with a score of 92.

Supporting the leading players is a superb cast. Frank Morgan is at his fumbling, mumbling best as the well-meaning father.

Portland Turkey Market Steady PORTLAND, Nov. 25.—(AP)—The turkey market was fairly steady here today with the demand chiefly for hens and very small toms. Few of the latter were available. Receipts were described as "only fair" over Sunday.

The general top for hens was 20 to 30 cents a pound to retailers, with toms quoted at 28 to 30 cents.

The buying price was nominally 24 to 25 cents for toms, and 25 to 26 cents for hens. Live birds, Portland delivery price, were 18 to 20 cents.
