

ROBOT MAN HERE SATURDAY TO ADD FUN IN SHOPPING

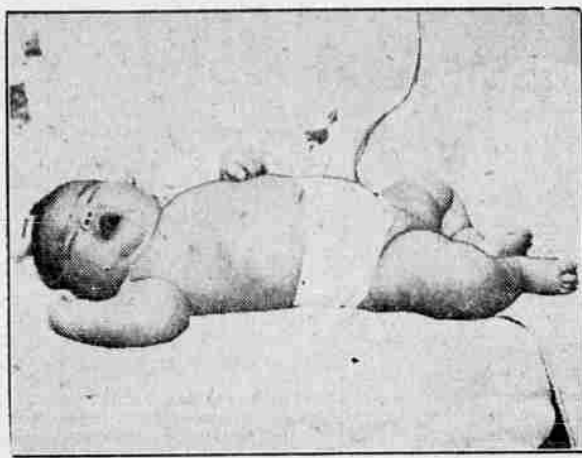

Baron Q. the "Robot Man" who has created considerable sensation in Hollywood circles, will appear on Medford streets Saturday as a special Christmas Opening Day feature arranged by Walter W. Abbey, Inc. Medford Nash and Lafayette dealers. The Baron comes to this city direct from Portland where he attracted widespread attention at the Portland Automobile show and his appearance on streets of this city will be made in conjunction with the initial showing of the smartly-styled Nash '400 DeLuxe model, just received by the Abbey company.

Attired in a full-dress suit, the unique mechanical man will glide up to various business houses tomorrow and present his highly entertaining robot impersonation for the enjoyment of Christmas shopping crowds. One of the striking features of the new Nash, the long, comfortable Pullman bed, which can be made up quickly in the new Nash models, will be especially demonstrated by the well known Hollywood showman. The hours selected for Baron Q's street presentations are 12:30 p. m. to 2:00 p. m. and 3:00 to 4:30 p. m. In the evening, the mechanical man impersonator will entertain visitors at Walter W. Abbey company's showrooms.

LET KIDNEYS FLUSH OUT 3 LBS. A DAY

Clean Out 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes
Nature put over 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters in your kidneys to strain the waste matter out of the blood. Kidneys should pass 1 pints a day and so get rid of more than three pounds of waste matter.
When the passing of water is scanty, with marting and burning, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.
If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your body may take up some of these poisons causing serious trouble. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and help the kidneys to flush out 3 pounds a day.

MOXEE BABY WEIGHS 15 POUNDS

When Dr. H. H. Skinner checked the weight of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Paradise of Moxee, Wash., he couldn't believe his scales. They read 15 pounds, six ounces. So he wrapped up the baby and drove 10 miles to Yakima to check and found the weight correct. The big girl was 24 inches long. (Associated Press Photo) would probably be returned here tonight.

Ralph E. Leighton, former chief of police here, who observed the position of the girl's body when it was discovered, said he believed she had been induced to crawl through the 16-inch culvert to escape the cold wind of last Monday night.
The fact that her clothing was not disarranged, as authorities believed it would have been had she been thrust into the culvert, was his ground for this belief.
Then, he theorized, with her arms pinioned helplessly at her side and only her head protruding from the narrow opening, her assailant had crushed her head with a small rock and ended her life with his pistol.
Find Death Weapon
The rock, blood-stained, was found near the body.
Van Vlack was removed from his cell in the county court house between Sheriff Prater and two other men. Fifteen or 20 persons watched the departure.
Stepping briskly beside his guards, the prisoner, hatless and wearing a brown suit, turned and looked back toward the top of the court house. He was thrust into the sheriff's automobile, which dashed quickly around a corner and headed eastward at a rapid rate.
Whether Van Vlack will be granted a preliminary hearing on the charge of murdering Patrolman Cooper appeared doubtful today. Probate Judge Guy L. Kinney, before whom he was arraigned Wednesday, said he had the option of refusing a hearing in view of Van Vlack's waiver.
Prisoner Told Rights
The judge said he explained to the defendant three times what his rights were, before he accepted the waiver of a hearing. E. V. Larson, who conferred with the prisoner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Van Vlack of Tacoma, said he had advised them to request a preliminary hearing.
Deputy Sheriff Henry C. Givens, who was shot and seriously wounded when Cooper was slain, had a "bad night" last night, hospital attendants said today. His condition yesterday was reported considerably improved.

WILL FELL HARD FOR POLO SPORT AT FIRST TRIAL

It took a long time to induce Will Rogers to play polo, but once he tried it his conversion was swift and complete, Eric Peasley, of Los Angeles, one of the nation's first ten players, recalls.
"The Midwick Polo club at Monteberry Park, just outside Los Angeles, was in full swing in the early 1920's," Peasley relates. "A number of us playing there had been attempting to arouse Will's interest to the point where he would come out and try the game with us. Finally we prevailed upon him, and I believe it was Carlton F. Burke who lent Will a pony or two upon which to ride. Will's liking for the game was apparent from the first minute of play. Toward the end of the month, we were riding off the field together, and Will made this classic remark:
"Well, boys, the bug's sure got me. I'm going to buy some dogs and ride to the purchase with the rest of you fellows."
With the announcement that handicapped children will be the principal beneficiaries of the Will Rogers Memorial Fund, there is a renewed interest in the opportunity of Will Rogers' friends to participate in a living, continuing memorial to perpetuate his friendliness to mankind. Bring or send your subscriptions to this office. It is the aim of the commission to have millions of Will Rogers' friends participate with a contribution. It is not the aim of the subscription but the act itself that is important.

PROBE CONTINUES IN GUN DEATH OF ELK CREEK MAN

of money was found undisturbed in Hall's clothing.
The puzzling features of the tragedy, center chiefly around the automatic pistol. The shell was unjected and the weapon cocked. Gun experts claim this type of pistol ejects the shell after firing.
The pistol was lying on the table, at the left side of Hall. Nearby were cleaning rods, rags, and a can of oil, which were used in cleaning the weapon. Hall had been seated at a table against the wall, in a chair, at an angle. When the bullet struck, Hall slumped slightly forward in the chair and was held in a sitting position, when his legs rested against a table leg.
Hall's hands were lying across his lap, with his head resting on the back of the chair. The authorities claim the natural tendency would have been to throw his hands and arms limp by his side. They further hold it would have been physically impossible for Hall to have placed the pistol in the position it was found after the bullet struck.

WILL FELL HARD FOR POLO SPORT AT FIRST TRIAL

The justice court case, in which Hall charged Geary with assault and battery, is still pending. Geary was scheduled to appear in justice court Tuesday afternoon, to present witnesses in his defense. The case was deferred ten days ago to permit Geary to assemble these witnesses. Hall identified Geary as the man who hit him in the head with a beer bottle, during an altercation near the Hall field. Friends and acquaintances of Geary say he bore Hall no ill will, as a result of the charge.
E. J. Hall of Portland, a brother of the dead man, arrived today to attend to family matters in connection with the case.
Hall had been a resident of this county for 30 years. He was a former forest ranger and had lived on Elk creek for the past 15 years.
