THE GRANGE

THE GRANGE

Lake Creek Grange.

Lake Creek Grange met in regular session November 22. Although, due to some illness, attendance was smaller than usual, a very enjoyable evening was spent.

Miss Lucille Milliken was obligated in the fourth degree by Master Reed Charley, and was welcomed as a new member of the order.

For lecture hour, Lecturer Julia Sibley asked that each member tell something of his birthplace.

These bits of history, told around the fire, brought out some interesting facts, revealing that nearly all of those present had been born in Jackson county.

The newly-elected officers voted to go to Central Point for installation. A delicious lunch, in honor of Bill Messal's birthday, was served by the Home Economics committee.

Hangman Keeps Last Rendezvous With Grim Reaper

HANGMAN KEEPS LAST RENDEZVOUS WITH GRIM REAPER

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29.—(P)—Henry Meyer, 73-year-old hangman, kept his 40th rendezvous with death last night. This time it was his own.

Mess, who had sprung the trap for 38 men and one woman, died of a heart attack.

Hanging a condemned person was to him just a means of making a living. He often said he had no belief in immortality, but as the end approached, he asked for the last sacraments of the Catholic church.

He was proud of his ability to tie a perfect hangman's knot.

THE GRANGE

Lake Creek Grange.

Lake Creek Grange met in regular session November 22. Although, due to some illness, attendance was smaller than usual, a very enjoyable evening was spent.

Miss Lucille Milliken was obligated in the fourth degree by Master Reed Charley, and was welcomed as a new member of the order.

For lecture hour, Lecturer Julia Sibley asked that each member tell something of his birthplace.

These bits of history, told around the fire, brought out some interesting facts, revealing that nearly all of those present had been born in Jackson county.

The newly-elected officers voted to go to Central Point for installation. A delicious lunch, in honor of Bill Messal's birthday, was served by the Home Economics committee.
