

ETHIOPIANS ANSWER THROBBING WAR DRUMS

From out of the mountains came these Ethiopian tribesmen, answering their emperor's drum call to arms. See the spectacle on the warrior in the foreground, and the fellow aiming his rifle on the right. They all seem to be happy at the prospect of engaging the Italians in battle. (Associated Press Photo)

ITALIAN ARMIES CAPTURE NORTHERN ETHIOPIAN CITIES

These four pictures, just arrived from Europe, illustrate in part the capture of Aduwa and the Holy City of Aksum by Italian legions invading northern Ethiopia. Top, left: a native priest, carrying Coptic cross, welcomes leaders of the Italian army as it entered Aduwa. Top, right: native Askaris enter Aksum, with sacred obelisks showing in the background. Lower, left: Askaris rout natives as they occupy Aksum. Lower, right: Italians take stock of troops at Aduwa. (Associated Press—Paramount News Photos)

Recent arrival of Crown Prince Asfa Wosan, son of Emperor Haile Selassie, in Adis Ababa, gave rise to rumors that he would be crowned king, so Ethiopia would have a ruler in case anything happened to the emperor. The title would not infringe on that of the father, which is "King of Kings." (Associated Press Photo)

FIRST PICTURE OF GLOUCESTER AND BRIDE

The Duke of Gloucester and his bride, the former Lady Montagu-Douglas-Scott, waving to throngs from Buckingham palace balcony after their wedding ceremony. This Associated Press Photo was taken a few minutes after the services, radioed to New York and then rushed to this newspaper. (Copyright by Associated Press)

IN NAZI-OLYMPIC GAMES ROW

Dr. Theodore Lewald (left), president of the German Olympic committee, has declared "there is no question of religion in German sports" in reply to a charge by Jeremiah T. Mahoney (right), president of the American A. A. U., that both Jews and Catholics have been victims of discrimination. (Associated Press Photo)

ITALIANS TAKE ANOTHER ETHIOPIAN TOWN

A machine gun crew in action behind a pile of rocks, as tanks covered the rough ground, bristling with guns, in the background. This action picture by Joseph Caneva, Associated Press staff photographer, was taken on the Adigrat-Makale frontier. The Italians took Makale in their latest drive. (Associated Press Photo)

IDAHO'S NEW EPISCOPAL BISHOP

Sought In Slayings

The Right Rev. Fred Bartlett (right), former bishop of North Dakota, was elected bishop of Idaho at a meeting of the House of Bishops of the Episcopal church in Houston, Tex. He fills the vacancy created by transfer of Bishop Middleton S. Barnwell (left) to the diocese of Georgia. Rev. Bartlett is one of the church's youngest bishops. (Associated Press Photo)

Albert Stern (above), 21-year-old gunman, was the object of a frantic, widespread police search following an outbreak of violent gang warfare in Newark and New York. Dutch Schultz and four of his henchmen were struck down. (Associated Press Photo)

Awarded Hero Medal

Campus Queen

Gilbert Lyle, 15 (above), of Lapwai, Ida., has been awarded a Carnegie hero medal for saving the life of Peggy Estes, 8, of Moscow, Ida., last fall when he ran across the path of an approaching train to drag her to safety after her bicycle got stuck on the tracks. (Associated Press Photo)

Marcella Scott, a senior co-ed, was campus queen at the University of California at Los Angeles to preside over the annual homecoming day November 2, the day of the U. C. L. A.-California football game. (Associated Press Photo)

GEOGRAPHIC EXPEDITION SHOTS RAPIDS

The National Geographic Society's expedition down the Salmon river is nearing an end and the party expects to reach Lewiston, Idaho, about Oct. 28. The trip was made down the "River of No Return" to obtain geological data. The expedition's barge is shown shooting over Bailey's rapids on the Little Salmon, 200 miles above Lewiston. (Associated Press Photo)

EARTHQUAKE SHAKES DOWN HOTEL IN HELENA

This was what remained of the Capital Hotel in Helena, Mont., after the latest series of earthquakes there. The hotel was badly damaged by the severe shocks of Oct. 18 and was flattened out when another heavy temblor struck 13 days later. (Associated Press Photo)

TWO CHARGED WITH CHILD'S DEATH

B. F. Zimmer (left) and Mrs. Hazel Lucille Hasty were indicted in Houghton, Wash., in connection with the death of Mrs. Hasty's three-year-old son, Ronald. The baby was strangled and beaten to death, the police charge. (Associated Press Photo)

MEISTER'S ATTEMPTED FIELD GOAL FAILS

Herm Meister, St. Mary's tackle, as he attempted a field goal from the 42-yd. line in the Fordham game ending in a 7-7 tie. The placement fizzled. Mal Fissa, fullback whose great kicking kept the Rams on the defensive, held the ball for Meister. (Associated Press Photo)