2 MEET DEATH IN PRISON BREAK

News Behind The News
By Paul Mallon
(Copyright, 1935, by Paul Mallon)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—If budget-balancing hopes now being expressed by statesmen were dollars, the treasurer would have a surplus next year. Basically, however, there is nothing cheaper than the current budget. Everyone is having them without cost.

For instance, Chairman Buchanan of the House appropriations committee has attracted major attention with his plan to cut down expenditures in a really effective way. Mr. Buchanan is entirely sincere. The "devil of a fight" he has promised will undoubtedly be made by him.

But what Mr. Buchanan could not be expected to point out is that there is not a devil of an inside chance he will get anywhere. In fact, his close associates know he suffers no personal illusions about the current situation. He has told them privately he is very doubtful whether his plan can be carried out.

The underlying situation is simply this: Mr. Buchanan did not get much encouragement during his recent visit to President Roosevelt's cottage at Warm Springs.

The budget which New Deal Budget-Maker Bell took down there did not come down to any figures approximating the Buchanan idea. Also, there are reasons for suspecting that Mr. Roosevelt likely told Mr. Buchanan it would be impossible to bring the budget within $400,000,000 of balancing, even with relief appropriations left over from this year.

Anyone who knows anything about congress realizes a majority will want to spend more than Mr. Roosevelt rather than less, especially as this is a campaign year. You can imagine what will happen when the telegrams and letters demanding sewers or sewing machines come pouring in from back home.

Mr. Buchanan talked to a number of members last summer about what was in his mind. Many pledged support. All Mr. Buchanan can do is to "hope" he can get enough backing to have some indirect effect. The probably will. While he is hoping, he also hopes that he and the president can get together. A significant fact between the lines of Mr. Roosevelt's Atlanta

FLEEING CONVICTS USE HEAVY TRUCK TO SMASH GATES

Civilian Employee Beaten to Death—Guard Shoots One Prisoner—Remainder Rounded Up in Boston

BOSTON, Dec. 3.—(AP)—A desperate break for liberty by five Massachusetts state prison convicts cost two lives today and ended in failure. One of the dead was a civilian employe. The other was a prisoner.

The dead, Louis Richards, 37, of Somerville, civilian truck driver, beaten to death by escaping convicts. Philip Naples, 32, of Worcester, serving a term for armed robbery, shot down by a prison guard.

Prison officials said Richards had backed up his five-ton truck to the prison print shop when, apparently by preconcerted plan, five convicts sprang upon him, battered his head with an iron pipe and hurled him to the pavement. Willie MacDonald, a convict helper on the truck, also was attacked.

Smash Three atea. Racing the truck madly through the big prison yard, the convicts smashed it successively through three sets of gates.

As the big vehicle roared through the yard the prisoners encountered Edward J. Shaugnessey, a guard, whom they struck across the back of the head and slashed. Next they struck another guard, Michael

Mr. White is being replaced here by H. C. Oby, who reported for duty today at the forest service office in the federal building. He has taken up residence with his wife and baby on Park street.

Mr. White has made many friends during his service in Medford and his departure will be regretted. He has become known here as an efficient and courteous forest service executive.

Mr. Oby comes from the regional office in Portland. He has had years of experience in the forest service, his first assignment being in the Rogue River national forest.

Rose Bowl Jaunt In Freight Cars Is Frowned Upon

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Members of the freshman football squad at Southern Methodist university had it figured out now they could make the round-trip to the Rose Bowl for $2.50 each. Their plans called for chartering two freight cars and hooking them to one of several special passenger trains going to Pasadena.

Railroad officials, however, do not share their enthusiasm, explaining a side-door pullman couldn't be hauled with a special train; that it wasn't in keeping with interstate commerce commission rules, and that even though they were known as "Mustangs" on the gridiron, they were humans and couldn't be carried in box cars.

The king's warning came as the ninth parliament of his reign convened. The king, in mourning for the death of his sister, Princess Victoria, was not present in person but his words were read to the legislators by Viscount Haltham, lord chancellor.

Float Huge Loans. A few hours before parliament met, the British treasury announced the government has floated two loans totalling $300,000,000 pounds—about $1,458,000,000.

At least 200,000,000, it was understood, was intended as refinancing for other government debts, but no immediate announcement was forthcoming as to the purpose for which the remaining 100,000,000 pounds was intended.

The king conveyed to parliament his government's foreign policy. "The government's foreign policy," he declared, "will, as heretofore, be based on the firm support of the League of Nations. They remain prepared to fulfil, in cooperation with the other members of the league, the obligations of the covenant."

Work for Peace. "Particularly, they are determined to use at all times the full weight of their influence for the preservation of peace."

Medford Concrete Construction company was low bidder on the Talent sewage disposal plant to be built with the aid of PWA super-bills and financing. It was announced today by Ray J. Schumacher, president of the Talent Chamber of Commerce. No contract will be awarded, however, until the bids are reviewed tonight by the Talent council.

The Medford firm entered a bid of $34,683.25, Mr. Schumacher said. The second low bid was $38,982.50 and the third, $39,306.26.

The Ashland council tonight will review bids opened yesterday on the city's proposed sewage disposal plant, estimated to involve a total outlay of about $76,000, but no contract is to be awarded until tomorrow at the earliest, Frank J. Van Dyke, city attorney, said today. This also is a PWA project.

TRAPPER SLAYER GATHERED IN BY ROYAL MOUNTED

EDMONTON, Alta., Dec. 3.—(AP)—The Royal Canadian Mounted Police today added "the trapper of Singed Dog Island" case to that other epic of recent years, "the mad trapper of Bat River," to prove that glamour still exists "north of 55" and "the mountains always get their man."

Sergt. P. V. (Pat) Vernon was believed pushing toward civilization with a five-dog team, a native interpreter and John Harms, 65, Singed Dog Island, Sask., trapper wanted for the death Nov. 23 of his partner, Johnny Anthony, 35.

Mr. Allen, trapper who set police on Harms' trail, also accused Harms of terrorizing Mrs. Allen into prostitution by beating her barricaded cabin for four days after she found Anthony dead.

Returning from a trapline tour after Harms disappeared, Allen took his wife and three-year-old son to a trapper's cabin eight miles away, then munched with a dog team to a cannery where the alarm was telegraphed. Sergt. Vernon at Fort Chipewyan, Alta., last Friday.

50 DIE INSTANTLY WHEN LANDSLIDE BURIES VILLAGE

Deep Rumbling Heard Before Verde Cocha, Ecuador, Erased From Map by Rock and Dirt Avalanche

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, Dec. 3.—(AP)—A landslide buried the village of Verde Cocha early today, killing its 50 inhabitants instantly.

Inhabitants of the area around Huigra, where Verde Cocha was situated, heard a deep rumbling underground at 3:15 a. m.

No one was left alive to tell whether any of the inhabitants of the village, set in the Andes, were awakened before the slide hit.

The great mass of rocks and dirt slid over a front of nearly two miles sweeping everything from the grey and green mountain-side.

The Ecuadorian government is sending relief workers into the area, for the railroad line was not caught by the slide.

Not only was Verde Cocha erased from the map, but large portions of two widely-known ranches were wiped away.

These two are the haciendas known as Yanuncay and Guayagal. Large numbers of cattle were destroyed.

It was expected the initial meeting would do only with organization of the committee and possible appointment of an executive secretary. The commission will meet in the governor's office.

Mr. Mann was a guest of the club. Former Medford resident, Mr. Mann for the past several years has been associated with the First National Bank of Portland which last week purchased the First National Bank of Medford in answering the questions he competed with Medford men who, Mr. Lemmon said, eat, think and discuss pears every day of the week. His winning the prize Mr. Lemmon considered a very good joke—on the Medford men.

U.S. TO CRACKDOWN ON VIOLATORS OF NEUTRALITY RULE

By DEVON FRANCIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

The United States government acted today to strengthen its stand on remaining clear of the Italo-Ethiopian war, as Ethiopia's emperor was reported to have made another bid for peace.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull, in Washington, threatened to push criminal prosecution of American firms and individuals who handle war implements and have not registered with the government as prescribed in the neutrality act.

Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes, commenting on his recent statement which had been generally interpreted as a plea that all shipments to the belligerents be withheld, said his remarks had been "misunderstood."

Ickes asserted he sought only compliance with the government's attempts to prevent shipments of munitions to Italy and Ethiopia. Oil is not included in the neutrality act's list of materials whose exports to warring nations is barred.

Official circles in Rome said the new statement by Ickes would "certainly be welcomed in Italy," and would "satisfy Italian public opinion because it shows the United States because of an executive secretary. The commission will meet in the governor's office.

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 3.—(AP)—Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt was denied the right today to carry to the New York state court of appeals her legal fight for the custody of her 10-year-old daughter, Gloria Laura Morgan Vanderbilt.

The appellate division sustained the finding of a trial court that Mrs. Gertrude Vanderbilt Whitney, sister of Mrs. Vanderbilt's husband, the late Reginald Claypoole Vanderbilt, should have the custody of the child.

CITY TAX LEVIES SET FOR COUNTY; J'VILLE INCREASED

Nine-Mill Boost for Pioneer Town Leads List—Medford Has Decrease—Bt. Falls, Eagle Pt. Also Drop

City levies for the coming year for the incorporated cities and towns of Jackson county, compiled by the county assessor's office, show that the pioneer town of Jacksonville leads the list with a total levy for bond and general purposes of 38.2 mills, an increase of 9 mills over last year, when it was 29.2 mills. The state and county levy for the county have not been compiled.

Jacksonville will raise $9,276.72 on the levy, $9,836.73 for bonds and $339.99 for general, on a valuation of $242,846.01.

County Assessor J. B. Coleman states the Jacksonville city levy is one of the highest in the tax annals of the county. He says it is due to federal loans recently granted and to cover overdue bond interest and payments from previous years. Jacksonville recently issued $10,000 in bonds for a new water system for which they received a federal grant of $3,000.

The city levy for Medford shows a decrease of 3.6 mills under 1934, when it was 24.6 mills. The coming year it has been fixed at 20.8 mills.

Butte Falls Drops. Butte Falls and Eagle Point also show declines, and Rogue River has the same city millage as last year.
