BOY FACES PERIL IN SHOOTING CAT ATTACKING DEER

Malden Letroy, 13-year-old son of Mrs. Jack Crump of Forest creek, was receiving the congratulations of his friends today for his claim to exhibit in the face of danger. But all the youngster was thinking about was what he would get for Christmas with the bounty he is to collect from the county for his daring.

With his trusty dog Malden went out hunting for rabbits Sunday, armed with a .16 gauge shotgun loaded with light shot. He wasn't having much luck but he kept walking until he was high on a ridge some distance from his home.

Presently he saw a deer, a fine doe, but Malden was too much of a sportsman to disturb the animal as she grazed slowly, unconcerned by the nearness of the hunter.

The dog, however, began to make a fuss and Malden was surprised, for his companion of the woods had never before attempted to harass a deer. The boy sensed something was wrong and presently he saw what it was.

It was a big lynx cat, stealthily creeping toward the doe. Taken by surprise the boy did not at first know what to do. If he retreated, the bob cat would probably get the deer and if he fired, with only light shot in his shells, he might injure the cat just enough to enrage it for an attack upon him.

Malden decided to take a chance at saving the deer. He fired at the cat but missed and his worst fears were almost realized for the snarling animal started to attack. The boy stood his ground, however, and fired again at close range. The cat gave a leap into the air and came down with a thud, dead.

Meanwhile the doe, getting a glimpse of the cat, darted off at full speed and soon was out of danger.

Malden packed the cat to his home, where it was skinned. Now the pet, described as unusually handsome, will adorn his bedroom. That is, it will after he collects the bounty of $5, with that sum Malden will be able to fill a very large stocking at Christmas.

SEEK LORD'S PATHWAY FOR PEACE OF SOULS WEATHERFORD'S PLEA

At the Church of the Nazarenes on Sunday night, Fred M. Weatherford, spoke on "Getting God's Good Way." Drawing his text from Jer. 6:16, "Thus saith the Lord, stand ye in the way, and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk thereby, and ye shall find rest for your souls."

"God's program has always been forwarded by a chosen prophet," said the pastor. "Jeremiah was perhaps the most attacked prophet of his day, because he was plain-spoken in rebuking evil doers."

"The Christian religion is the good way. Culls of many descriptions have appeared on the religious horizon of more or less recent origin, but only the religion of Jesus Christ has been found to reach and cure the soul's malady in the human heart. 1 Cor. 3: 11 states, 'Other foundations no man may than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ.' Again we read in Acts 4: 12 'Neither is there salvation in any other; for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.'"

"The way of our text is known to be good, because Jesus Christ is the way-maker. Isaiah calls it the 'way' and the 'way of holiness.' He also says that the way-faring men shall find it because of its simplicity. It may be said that the way-faring man is the ordinary tramping itinerant, so one may find the Lord Jesus Christ regardless of his humble circumstances."

The commission also endorsed measures which would provide uniform rules of extradition and permit officers of one state to pursue criminals into and make arrests in sister states.

Ryan, who was dropped as a student by Harvard, was convicted of assault and battery on Frank Foster 67-year-old janitor, during a fracas after a football game October 23. Foster was discharged from a hospital recently, blind in one eye.

Counsel had disclosed that Ryan's parents had paid the janitor $7,000 as amends for the injuries suffered.

INCREASE IN HOGS AN OBJECTIVE IN NEW CONTRACTS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.- (AP) - Emphasizing that "balanced" farming is their aim, AAA officials made public today details of the 1936-1937 contracts offered farmers for corn-hog control.

The contracts, effective as of yesterday, are designed to increase hog production by 30 per cent in 1936. A shortage of hogs has led to higher prices, with protests from consumers.

Leading features of the contracts: 1. Community and county control committees will make appraisals and determine a farmer's "base" production of hogs and his base corn acreage.

2. The contracting farmer will be permitted to raise 100 per cent of the hog base.

3. He will be required to keep his corn acreage 10 to 30 per cent under his base.

PLenty OF TIME LEFT TO PREPARE FOR NEW SOCIAL SECURITY ACT

SALEM, Ore., Dec. 3.- (AP) - The social security board at Washington, D. C., today urged employers not to become anxious over the rules and regulations of the federal social security act, since first payments under the act would not be due until 1936.

John G. Winant, chairman, in a letter to Governor Martin declared the board and the treasury department were making progress in the preparation of rules and regulations.

"The absence of receipt of these rules and regulations covering the administrative and taxing provisions need cause no immediate concern to employers," Winant wrote.

His letter referred to a federal act which would become operative when states enact similar laws. Oregon has covered the chief issue, that for unemployment insurance and old age pension.

The tax would not accrue until 1936 and would be an excise tax on payrolls of employers of eight or more persons. As yet the board has not determined when the first collection of these taxes will begin.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.- (AP) - The new potato production control act, bugbear of AAA officials, was in effect today.

Under its provisions, buyers or sellers of 100,000 bushels, the average annual sale for the period 1929-1933, has been set by AAA, with sale above that bearing a three-fourths cent a pound tax.

State quotas have been assigned and individual allotments are being worked out for
