MEANIE GRAPPLER CHASED BY FANS AFTER NEAR-RIOT

A near-riot broke up the wrestling match at the Army last night. "Dead-pan" Ken Hollis, running attack in the ring against Lee Wolfe, battering, slugging, gouging, twisting his nose and other forms of mayhem so inflamed the crowd that they were almost wild. When unable to break Hollis' strangle hold in any other way, Referee Bob Kennaston finally felled Hollis with a wallop on the back of the neck, the crowd roared their approval.

But when, as Kennaston was holding Wolfe's arm aloft in token of victory, Hollis refused to hit Wolfe and fidgeted, the referee with a terrific blow on the back of the head and then left the arena, the crowd did go crazy. As Hollis jumped from the ring a ringside spectator kicked him, cutting a gash on his leg. When he turned to defend himself several more fans gleefully let fly with fists and feet and it took a flying squadron of police several minutes to quiet the fracas.

Chairs were splintered, and at least one brought down on Hollis' skull with a crash, people were knocked flat, and after absorbing cracks on the head from flying black-jacks, Hollis finally managed to break and run for the dressing room, a howling mob of 25 or more on his heels. He made the dressing room by two inches.

Highly incensed at the blow on the back of the head, Kennaston implored Promoter Mack Lillard to sign him against the mild man next week for money, marbles or marbles. Although the boxing commission was at first in favor of barring Hollis permanently from the Medford ring, it was indicated that they may relent and let Kennaston and Hollis mix next week, no holds barred. "I'm not afraid of any man alive in a rough and tumble fight," Kennaston stated.

In the middle bout, under the Australian system, Referee Kennaston awarded the third fall to Rex Mobley over Pete Belcastro on a foul, after Belcastro had kicked the Alabama strong man out of the ring. Pete took the first fall with a flying head scissor when Pete fell on his head. In the next round Pete emerged from a hammerlock after an exchange of Bonzenberg in the center of the ring. After absorbing some of Pete's famous drop-kicks last week, Mobley showed remarkable agility in keeping out of their way, and saved Belcastro up repeatedly with hammerlocks.

Tommy Estes took two out of three from Frankie Peck in the opener, with the first round ending without a fall. Estes took the second with a flying head scissor when Peck fell on his head. In the next round Peck emerged from a hammerlock after an exchange of Bonzenberg in the center of the ring. After absorbing some of Pete's famous drop-kicks last week, Mobley showed remarkable agility in keeping out of their way, and saved Belcastro up repeatedly with hammerlocks.

The matches were generally conceded to be the best and most exciting of recent months.

CHURCHMEN, COACHES FAVOR WITHDRAWAL FROM 1936 OLYMPIC

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 3.—(AP)—The Rev. Albert W. Beaven, former president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, today advocated American withdrawal from the Olympic games, if they are held in Germany.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Forces opposing American participation in the 1936 Olympic games if they are held in Germany gained new allies today with 14 college coaches and a United States senator voicing opposition.

In a statement addressed to the Amateur Athletic Union and the American Olympic committee, the coaches said:

"True sportsmanship becomes impossible and sport is prostituted when sport loses its independent and democratic character and becomes a political institution devoted to political ends rather than the interests of sport.

"We are convinced that this is what happened in Nazi Germany and that Nazi Germany is endeavoring to use the 11th Olympiad to serve the necessities and interests of the Nazi regime rather than the Olympic ideals."

ROGUE SNOWMEN LAY PLANS FOR WINTER SEASON

An active season of winter sports awaits southern Oregon fans in Crater Lake national park, an enthusiastic meeting of the Rogue Snowmen was held by President Glen Fabrick at the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce last evening. Definite action is to be taken next week to plan a winter schedule in which all Medford and valley skiers were urged to take part.

It has long been the desire of Medford, Ashland, Grants Pass and the Rogue river valley for open roads to Crater lake during the winter, and now that the desire has been realized, largely through the efforts and initiative of the present Crater lake administration, the whole-hearted support of this section for winter activities in the park is sought. It was brought out at the meeting.

In years gone by the park remained isolated and was of no value as a winter attraction, because of closed roads, giving southern Oregon limited benefits of a few months of being in the proximity of the park. Mr. Fabrick said. Now that Crater lake has been authorized as an all-winter park, opportunity presents itself for Medford and the Rogue river valley to take active part in the development of the park as a winter playground, in time bringing this development to national importance, he stated.

Activities here will be in cooperation with similar activities now beginning in Klamath county to swell winter attendance to justify the maintenance of open park roads and the use of state highway equipment in keeping the Crater Lake highway open from Union Creek to the west entrance.

A large attendance is expected at next Monday night's session when the Snowmen organization is planning on a complete reorganization, with new officers and committeemen to be named. All sportsmen in Medford and the Rogue valley were urged by Mr. Fabrick to attend.
