

ASHLAND COUNCIL CALLS HEARING IN RECORDER BATTLE

City Official Cited to Appear Next Week Show Cause Why Office Should Not Be Declared Vacant

Charges of "carelessness and inefficiency" against J. Q. Adams, Ashland recorder, will be thoroughly aired at a public hearing before the city council next Thursday night. It was announced today. After the hearing the council will decide whether Adams should be removed by ordinance or by recall, if at all. Mr. Adams holds an elective office, and is serving his second term of two years, with a little more than a year to serve.

ASHLAND, Dec. 5.—(Sp.)—The city council Tuesday night cited Recorder J. Q. Adams to appear before them at a special hearing to be held some time next week and show cause why the office of city recorder should not be declared vacant.

The citation was contained in a resolution unanimously passed, charging the incumbent with "carelessness and inattention to his duties." The move marked the climax of months of secret meetings of the council and years of strife between the recorder and members of the governing body. Charges and counter charges have been hurled by both factions, and the whole affair is expected to be brought to light at the hearing.

SPORTS FANS FOLLOW THE AMERICAN BOY

Boys and young men of this city who wish to improve their tennis service, their basket-shooting eyes, their forward passing talent, or their crawl stroke, can enlist the aid of the nation's foremost coaches and players by subscribing to THE AMERICAN BOY magazine and following the sports interviews and fiction stories that appear each month.

"When I was in high school," says a famous football champion, "I read a truck article in THE AMERICAN BOY that gave me my first clear-cut idea of the western style of high jumping. As a practice I did the open magazine on the grass and studied it as I worked out. That afternoon I increased the height of my jump three inches."

"That was a long time ago, but today thousands of future champions just as eagerly follow THE AMERICAN BOY.

"This year," states Griffith Odegen Elk editor, "our writers have gone to the two greatest football teams of the country—Minnesota and Pittsburgh—for first-hand tips on strategy, blocking, tackling, passing, and the fine points of play. They have interviewed Jack Medina, the world's fastest swimmer, and his coach, Ray Daughters. Gone to Eastern high school of Washington, D. C., to see an intercollegiate basketball championship. In the past they have followed the Grapefruit circuit of the major leagues in Florida, sat on the bench at the Rose Bowl, sought out the famous ringers and backfield men, to bring their story of how to play the game to the young men of America.

In addition to our fiction, adventure, exploration, hobby, counsel, and vocational help, we shall continue to encourage young men to improve their name in every line of sport.

Send your subscription to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7480 Second Blvd., Detroit, Mich. Enclose with your name and address $1 for a year's subscription, $2 for three years, and add 50 cents a year if you want the subscription to go to a foreign address. On newsstands, 10c a copy.—(Adv.)

BRUNETTE DANCER MAKES POOR OUT AS LEGAL LIGHT

Acts As Own Attorney in Divorce Suit, But Admits Adultery As Climax in Hearing—She Loses Case

By HARRY FERGUSON
United Press Staff Correspondent.
NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—(UP)—Lisa Barova Shaw, brunette dancer, appeared in supreme court today as defendant, chief witness and her own lawyer in a divorce suit. She lost the case when she put herself on the witness stand and confessed to committing adultery.

In 40 minutes a jury decided Miss Shaw was guilty. The court will rule later on whether to award a divorce to Hollis B. Shaw, who also is suing Ellsworth Ford, the alleged co-respondent, for $500,000 for alienation of affections.

Miss Shaw, young, lithe and black haired, found time to powder her nose and rouge her cheeks despite the fact she was busy testifying, cross-examining witnesses, objecting on legal points and addressing judge and jury.

She looked very professional in a tweed coat, black hat and red dress, and she lived up to the best legal traditions by scribbling furiously on a scratch pad during testimony. Somebody sneaked a look over her shoulder and found out she was drawing pictures of ballet dancers.

The high point of the trial, of course, was when Lawyer Shaw called out in a loud voice: "Lisa Shaw" and then walked to the witness stand. Lawyer Shaw looked at Witness Shaw in a tiny mirror and decided the latter could see a bit of rouge on the right cheek. It was applied while the court waited. Witness Shaw needed no prompting from her attorney.

"Mr. Ford and I fell in love," she said. "Mr. Ford told his wife he wanted to marry me. Then he came to my husband and asked him to give me a divorce. I was willing because I loved Mr. Ford."

Admits Adultery.
"The court interposed a question: 'Is it true that you committed adultery?'"
In one voice Witness Shaw and Lawyer Shaw replied: "Yes, it's true."

The jury seemed to think that settled the question, but Witness Shaw went right on talking: "I went to Bermuda. Mr. Ford wanted to go to Bermuda, too, but he couldn't because his wife was there with a gun."

Ford's defense against the alienation of affections suit is that "Mr. and Mrs. Shaw jointly planned and conspired" against him "for the purpose of enriching themselves."

Miss Shaw, who intimated she defended herself because no lawyer could grasp the ramifications of the case, made a closing argument that was a model of brevity and candor. Brushing back a wisp of hair, she walked over to the jury box and said: "I wish I had words of wisdom for you. This is a complicated case. I hope you do the right thing. That's all."

OBSERVANCE BIBLE SUNDAY IS URGED

SALEM, Dec. 5.—(Sp.)—Governor Charles H. Martin urged the churches of Oregon to observe Universal Bible Sunday on next Sunday, December 8.

The nation-wide commemoration of the four hundredth anniversary of the printed English Bible will conclude next Sunday in thousands of churches, according to a statement issued by the American Bible society, under whose direction Universal Bible Sunday is promoted and through whose missionary activities the Bible is distributed annually in more than forty countries and in over 150 languages.

In endorsing Universal Bible Sunday Governor Martin says: "I earnestly call the attention of Oregon citizens to Bible Sunday, December 8, when the commemoration of 400 years of the printed English Bible will be concluded.

"The English Bible has had untold influence on the life of English-speaking people. It not only shaped their religious thinking; it molded their literature and affected their speech down to modern times. The Bible has proved an inspiration for many centuries, and it is fitting that homage be paid on its 400th anniversary."

HOUSING ACT AID MADE AVAILABLE BY U. S. NATIONAL

Medford branch of the United States National Bank of Portland is prepared immediately to extend loans under Title 1 of the federal housing act. Dwight L. Houghton, assistant manager of this department, announced today.

Under Title 1 loans may be obtained for improvement, renovation and remodeling of homes, apartment houses, schools, business structures and other buildings and for the larger type equipment such as refrigerators, heating plants, bathroom fixtures and permanent machinery. Mr. Houghton explained.

Borrowers may negotiate directly with the bank or through merchants such as dealers in lumber, building materials and household equipment. Loans for private homes range from $50 to $2,000 and for businesses, such as apartment houses, up to $50,000. Mr. Houghton said. Owner, renter or lessee is eligible for loans, he added, the only requirement being that the borrower have a steady income and a reasonably good credit rating.

Loans under the federal housing act bear interest of 5 percent, payable in advance. Under the law they must be amortized monthly excepting when the borrower is a farmer, in which case they may be reduced annually or semi-annually. The loans run from one to three years, though they may be paid in full before maturity.

With the service the bank is now ready to extend, there is no longer need for postponing necessary repairs and improvements. Mr. Houghton stated, emphasizing the liberal terms provided under the housing act. He added that he would be glad to answer any inquiries that prospective borrowers might like to ask.

The United States Bank of Portland has now placed about 2,500 separate housing loans aggregating about $800,000 throughout the state the assistant manager said.

"Persons borrowing under the federal housing act are of a very stable type," he stated. "We have had much success with this kind of loan and are exceedingly glad to offer our services to the people of Medford and the Rogue River valley."
