

M'NARY PLANNING THREE-POINT FARM RELIEF MEASURE

Bill Would Seek to Indirectly Control Surpluses by Optional Application of Three Different Plans

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Senator McNary of Oregon, Republican leader in the senate, announced today he would introduce on the opening day of congress a three-point farm relief bill as a basis for a "natural transition from the AAA to a long-time program."

McNary hopes it will be at least a starter for consideration by congress in event the supreme court invalidates the agricultural adjustment act. Then, both parties will be looking for a substitute and McNary wants to be prepared.

Indirect Control Aim.

Unlike the AAA, which sets crop limits for farmers involved in control programs and gives them cash for taking land out of production, the McNary bill seeks indirectly to control surpluses by the optional application of either the equalization fee, export debenture or domestic allotment plan.

It is the same proposal he put forward in 1932. The plan, supporters say, aims to segregate the surplus for export, assist in making the tariff effective on crops, control surpluses by penalizing over-production and stimulate co-operative marketing.

Under the equalization fee plan, the government would take charge of surpluses, which would be sold abroad at the best figures obtainable. The idea would be to raise domestic prices of the crops by removing surpluses.

Farmers would be assessed a fee to make up for losses and charges incurred in sales abroad.

Discourage Overproduction.

The government would discourage any over-production by an automatic step-up in the fee.

The export debenture involves a federal appropriation or bounty. Exporters of surpluses would receive treasury certificates amounting to one-half the tariff on the similar imported product. Other debenture rates would be established for commodities on the free list, such as raw cotton.

Under the domestic allotment plan, all handlers of farm products would be licensed. It seeks to force

CHRISTMAS CARNIVAL COMING

Here are some of the features of Shell's Christmas Carnival, coming here Saturday morning. Above, the big circus van with skating penguins and a live Santa Claus who will give candy to all children. At left, a puppeteer, arranging the complicated strings which move the characters in the puppet show. All carnival performances are free.

The big red and gold Shell circus van with carnival skaters, gay music and a real live Santa Claus distributing North Pole candy to children, will roll into town Saturday morning, December 7, at 10 o'clock, and be stationed on South Fir street of Main.

Exhibition skating by experts in those quaint penguin costumes, so the glare of trumpets, will herald the arrival of the Christmas Carnival. Climaxing this, the side of the van will be open to disclose a stage where children may view the puppet show entitled "Santa Claus Leaves for Medford."

Operated by strings, the puppet characters will play their little comedy, aided by walrus, polar bears, penguins and other amusing animals. And at the conclusion, old Santa in person will distribute to each child attending, a stick of Christmas candy, a miniature North Pole. It's the healthful kind that mothers would appreciate.

All details in connection with the appearance of the entertainment to be presented here were made by Fred Johnson, Medford manager for Shell.

It is something to be enjoyed by grown-ups and youngsters alike, he said, adding that all are invited to witness the performance and receive their free Christmas gift.

Persons Returns—Reginald Parsons returned in morning from an extended trip to Honolulu.

PROTECTION DRIVE FOR FISH CARRIED TO FEDERAL COURT

Columbia Fishermen Bring Suit to Enjoin Dumping of Waste Into Rivers—May Also Sue Cities

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 6.—(AP)—The spirited campaign to protect the Columbia river salmon fishing industry extended to the federal courts here today.

The Columbia River Fishermen's Protective association brought suit to permanently enjoin 11 companies from dumping reputedly harmful waste substances into the Willamette and Columbia rivers. The complaint asked $3,000 damages.

Arvid Mattson, fishermen's union secretary, previously threatened that his group would sue "every city and industrial plant along the Columbia and Willamette rivers from Astoria to Eugene" unless asserted pollution halted.

The court complaint alleged the Willamette between Eugene and Portland and the Columbia west of Portland to Astoria are unable longer to sustain aquatic life.

Under his plan, McNary holds, production would be controlled because if farmers persisted in over-production, a lesser proportion of the crop would secure the domestic price, and a larger percentage would bring the lower prices in the world market. McNary says farmers would be wise enough to adjust production accordingly.

(Fishways are being built in Bonville dam, but there has been divided opinion whether they will be sufficient to handle the usual salmon run.)

The complaint names as defendants: Hunt Brothers Packing company and Reid, Murdoch and company, both of Salem; Crown Willamette Paper company, Oregon City; Hawley Pulp and Paper company, Oregon City; Southern Pacific company, Portland; Clark and Wilson Lumber company, Linnton; Crosssett Western Lumber company, Westport; Swift and company, Portland; States Steamship company, Pacific Atlantic Steamship company and the McCormick Steamship company.

"My baking gets more bouquets—and I save, too!"
SAYS MRS. C. H. MCINTOSH, 854 EASTWOOD AVE., CHICAGO, ILL.

"What a help—these new low prices on Calumet Baking Powder!"

"IT'S CERTAINLY GOOD NEWS that Calumet is selling at new low prices." Mrs. McIntosh says. "I do a lot of baking, and when I can get a full-pound can of reliable Calumet for only 25c, I'm pretty pleased with myself!" Her son Jack, just back from a trip away from home, settles down to some of Mother's famous coffee cake, and pays for it with a big smile.

AT THIS PORCH PARTY, Mrs. McIntosh served GINGER TEA CAKES (1 egg)

1 1/2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
1/2 cup butter or other shortening
4 tablespoons brown sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1/2 cup molasses
1/2 cup boiling water

Sift flour, sugar, measure, add baking powder, salt, and spices, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream well. Add flour, alternately with molasses, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add boiling water, mixing quickly until Turn into small greased cup— bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 10 minutes, or until done. Cool. Cover tops of cakes with butter frosting. Make 1 dozen tea cakes. (All measurements are level.)

WHY IS CALUMET so dependable? Why is such a small amount needed—just a level teaspoon to a cup of sifted flour in most recipes? Why is it different from other baking powders?

Calumet combines two distinct leavening actions. A quick action for the mixing bowl—set free by liquid. A slower action for the oven—set free by heat.

Calumet's remarkable Double-Action is so perfectly balanced and controlled that it produces perfect leavening. Calumet is a product of General Foods.
