Gary Cooper and Ann Harding Coming

Gary Cooper and Ann Harding make their first appearance as a romantic team in the film adaptation of George Du Maurier's immortal classic, "Peter Ibbetson," regarded as one of the greatest love stories of the age, coming Sunday to the Craterian theater.

"Peter Ibbetson" is the screen dramatization of George Du Maurier's famous novel of the same name. The story revolves around the beautiful love that binds two people together for a lifetime even though Fate sees fit to part them. Friends, playmates and sweethearts in Paris, as children, the two are separated when the boy's mother dies and his military uncle takes him to England. As a talented young architect, Peter Ibbetson is sent to a wealthy aristocrat's estate to design new racing stables. Ibbetson discovers that the mistress of the house, the Duchess of Towers, is none other than his childhood sweetheart. At the same time she recognizes him.

The Duke, suspecting their love, threatens to kill Ibbetson. In the ensuing argument, the Duke is accidentally killed and Peter is sentenced to life in prison for the crime. But his love never dies for the Duchess, who remains true to him forever. Although prison walls separate them, they meet in their own dream world as the years pass on, their romance stronger than life, more powerful than death.

Tim McCoy Stars In Roxy's Picture

Starring Tim McCoy, and featuring the lovely Billie Seward, "Justice of the Range" will be at the Roxy theater for tomorrow only.

Plenty of fast action is promised in this production, what with murder, fast-riding rustlers, crackling guns, smashing fists, flashing knives and the insidious underhand treachery of Tim McCoy's enemies.

The picture opens on a range war between rival outfits each suspected of rustling the other's cattle. The feud is of long standing. McCoy's friend is about to make a final payment on his ranch when his foreman is murdered and Tim is knocked out. The money disappears; it has been stolen by the opposing outfit.

The picture then plunges into a whirlwind of action to reach a startling climax.

16,013 GAIN JOBS WITH OREGON WPA

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 6.—(AP)—The Oregon works progress administration announced today that 16,013 workers have been taken off relief rolls and given jobs.

Federal funds allocated to the 383 WPA projects launched totaled $81,825,070. Sponsors contributed $68,800.

Because of the breakdown of direct relief to all but unemployables, E. J. Griffith, Oregon WPA administrator, set his stenographical staff to writing pay checks which workers will receive within the next few days, instead of waiting for the regular first payday.

The Oregon relief committee previously petitioned for sufficient federal funds to tide the workers over until their first pay day.
