

BABY BORN IN WELL DOING NICELY

His squawls as lusty as the next young chap's, nine-pound Franklin Jordan is getting along fine in a Sanford, N. C., hospital after being born under water in a well. His mother, Mrs. Alton Jordan, fainted and fell into the well and during the 45 minutes before she was rescued Franklin was born. (Associated Press Photo)

ORPHANAGE CHILDREN RETRIEVE PLAYTHINGS

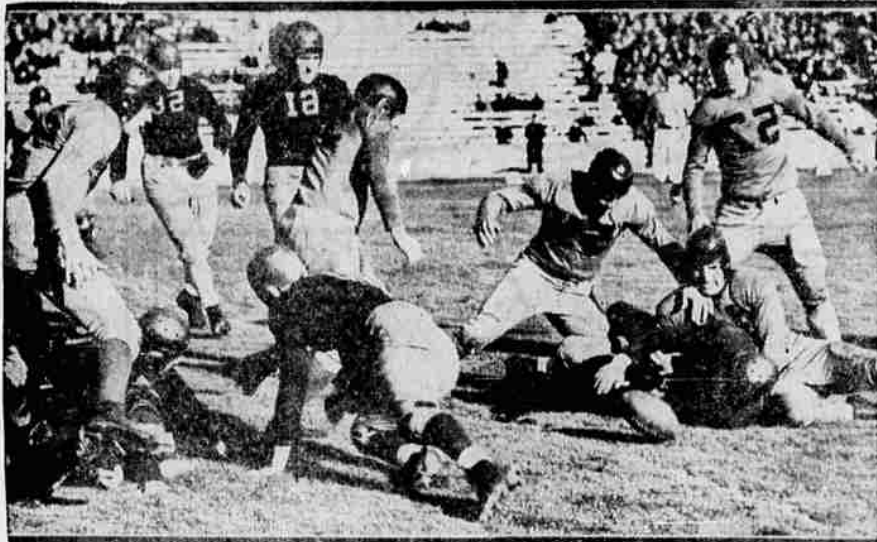

Little children hunt for and recover their precious toys in the debris of St. Joseph's orphanage after the Helena, Mont., quakes. One little girl has found her doll, and loves it, despite a broken face. (Associated Press Photo)

BLACKSHIRTS SWING BY IN LIBYA MANEUVERS

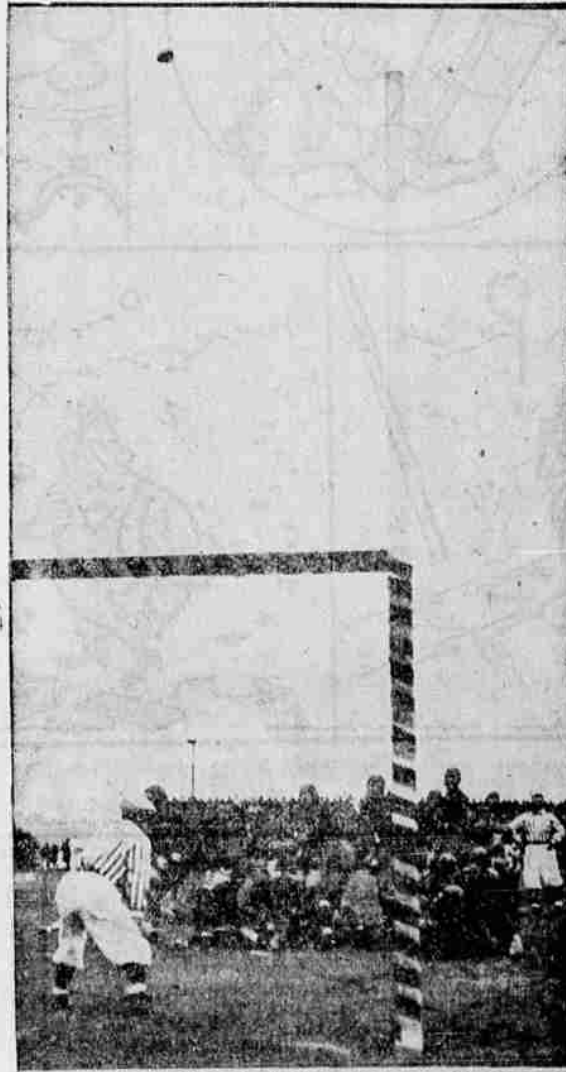

Since Europe's unfavorable reaction to the invasion of Ethiopia by Roman soldiers there has been a marked increase in military activities in Libya, one of Italy's African colonies. Here's an Italian Blackshirt detachment swinging by in recent maneuvers. (Associated Press Photos)

TENSE MOMENT IN WASHINGTON VICTORY

A tense moment in the University of Washington-University of Montana football game in Seattle which Washington won, 33 to 7. Everett Austin, Husky right half, lost the ball for an instant when Noyes, Montana right guard, brought him down. (Associated Press Photo)

PLACEKICK WINS FOR OREGON

Winifred Pepper, University of Oregon placekicking specialist, was rushed into the game and booted the ball between the crossbars to give Oregon a 7 to 6 win over University of Washington in Seattle. Here's the point-after-touchdown that won. (Associated Press Photo)

SCHOOLS DEMOLISHED IN MONTANA EARTHQUAKE

In a violent upheaval which rocked Montana's capital city, Helena, two more deaths were added to the quake toll. The wreckage of one of the schools, Helena high, is shown in this picture. (Associated Press Photo)

THREE KILLED IN BLAST

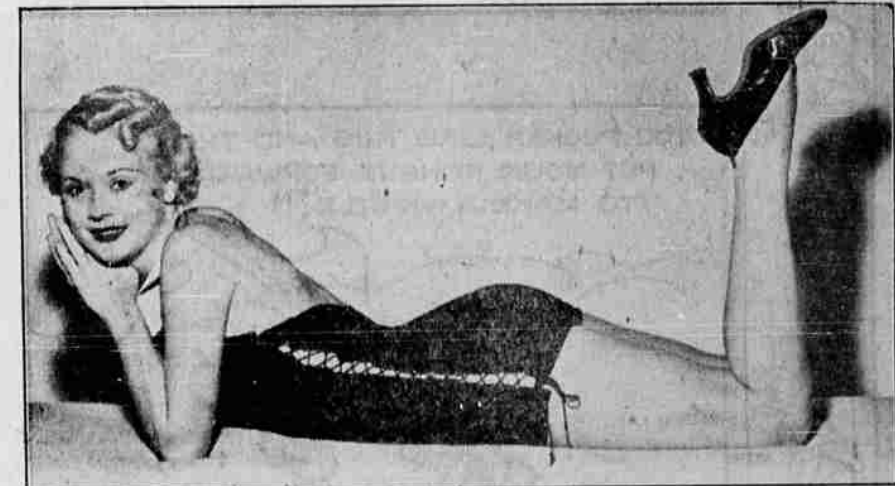

All that was left of a Milwaukee, Wis., garage as a dynamite store exploded is pictured here. Three persons were killed, two of them suspected of having been responsible for five bombings in the city, and 11 injured. Police believed the bombers kept their explosives stored in the garage. (Associated Press Photo)

Townsendite Wins

Verner W. Main, Battle Creek attorney and supporter of the Townsend old age pension plan, won the Republican nomination for representative from the third Michigan congressional district by a sweeping majority. (Associated Press Photo)

FORMER BATHING SUIT MODEL LANDS MOVIE JOB

Eighteen-year-old Maxine Jerome, Los Angeles high school graduate, has a contract with a motion picture company, because a director of the studio chanced to see her in a department store window modeling bathing suits. (Associated Press Photo)

READY FOR SURPRISE ATTACKS

This scene, on the Adigrat front in northern Ethiopia, shows Italian soldiers behind sandbags, ready for any surprise attacks by native warriors. (Associated Press Photo by Staff Photographer Ganeva of New York)

Heir Sued By Bride

Adolph Spreckels, Jr., heir to a sugar fortune, with his bride, the former Gloria Debevoise, who has filed a suit against him for separation. They were married last September. (Associated Press Photo)

WEBFOOT SOPHOMORE ACE

Frank (Bud) Goodin, first University of Oregon halfback, is enjoying a big year with the Webfoots in his first season as a varsity gridder. Goodin does most of the Webfoot ball packing and punning.

Contestant

This young woman from Paris is one of the contestants for the title of 'Most Beautiful Model' in a Los Angeles contest. She is Gabrielle Doharr who is living in Hollywood. (Associated Press Photo)

ACTRESS AND SON VISIT DESERT

Joan Blondell, film actress, and her son, Norman Scott Barnes, spent a short vacation at Palm Springs, Calif. (Associated Press Photo)