Mr. Raj is a graduate of the agriculture department of the University of Minnesota and has taken post-graduate work in journalism at the University of Oregon. He plans to return to India to work among his own people in modernizing agriculture.

STEWART NAMED NEW TABLE ROCK COUNCIL MASTER

L. C. Stewart was elected illustrious master of Table Rock Council No. 15, R. and S. M., at the annual meeting last night in Medford Masonic temple.

Other officers elected for the new year were O. O. Horner, deputy master; L. G. Bishop, principal conductor of the work; J. H. Ralston, chaplain; A. V. Norris, captain of the guard; C. M. Houston, conductor of the council; Elie Gray, steward; and W. H. McGowan, sentinel.

All of the new officers were installed by George T. Cochran, grand master of La Grande.

The election was preceded by a banquet under the supervision of Mr. Norris, companion. The lodge session that followed was called to order by Otto W. DeJarnett, retiring illustrious master.

In addition to Mr. Cochran, grand lodge officers present were Stowell Dawson, deputy grand master, of Albany; Ralph Sweney, grand captain of the guard, Medford; and H. G. Richardson, grand marshal, Portland. There was also a good representation of companions. The meeting was much impressed by an address given by Mr. Cochran.

Table Rock council has experienced a remarkable growth in the past few years, the meeting was told, drawing its membership from all outer Oregon, including the Klamath Falls and Lakeview areas.

Marion Davies Coming to Craterian

"Page Miss Glory", with fast-paced comedy as the keynote to what is said to be one of the best pictures Marion Davies has brought to the screen, comes to the Craterian theatre tomorrow for a three day run.

Supporting Miss Davies is a remarkable all star cast of famous "name players" including Dick Powell, Pat O'Brien, Mary Astor and Frank McHugh.

The story of "Page Miss Glory" is as funny as it is unique. Miss Davies, in the role of a country girl, neither pretty nor bright, gets a job as chambermaid in a swanky New York hotel in which reside a promoter, portrayed by Pat O'Brien, who has nothing to promote, and Frank McHugh, a jobless newspaper photographer.

McHugh, learning that an advertiser is offering a big cash reward for a photograph of America's prettiest girl, makes a composite picture, blending the features of famous stage and society beauties and submits it under the name of "Dawn Glory".

He wins the prize and trouble starts. A "Dawn Glory" craze sweeps the country and even Miss Davies falls for it with startling results. Properly attired and "made-up", she becomes the reincarnation of Dawn Glory, but all she wants to be is the sweetheart of Dick Powell.

Rich in the color and glamour of South America, packed with romance, action and thrills, "Storm Over the Andes" was greeted by an enthusiastic audience last night where it started its three day run at the Rialto theatre. The story deals with the adventures and loves of Jack Holt, rugged he-man of the movies, as an American aviator of fortune who gets himself a job as a combat pilot with a warring nation in the famous "green hell" of South America.

Holt gives you plenty of thrills and fast action as he maneuvers an airplane through the front of a raging war with the tribesmen of this fantastic country. He bombs an ammunition dump, jumps from a parachute and last but not least he makes love in the genuine Holt fashion.

Antonio Moreno and Mona Barrie also give their talents to make this one of the most interesting serial pictures ever, and the setting never before used in a picture tops it off as one of the greatest pictures Holt has yet made. Grant Withers, Gene Lockhart and a host of others are in the cast.
