

Local and Personal

From Sams Valley—Mr. and Mrs. Max Schulz of Sams Valley did their Christmas shopping in Medford yesterday.

From Hand—W. W. Belcher, educational adviser at Camp Rand, called at Medford CCC headquarters yesterday.

Visits Niece—Wilkie Yost of Klamath Falls visited his niece, Mrs. Zrnest A. Rostel, and Mr. Rostel here Friday evening. He proceeded to Ashland where he was to spend the weekend with friends before returning home.

At Headquarters—Lieut. Alfred Hopkins of Camp Oregon Caves conferred yesterday with officers at CCC headquarters here.

Ford Improved—George Ford has returned to his home in Central Point after being hospitalized here for treatment of poison oak.

South for Holiday—J. A. Shepherd, national park service bookkeeper, is planning to leave this week for Pasadena, Cal., where he will spend the Christmas holidays. Mrs. Shepherd left for the southern California city a few days ago.

Returns Home—Mrs. Susie Myers has returned to her home in Central Point after being hospitalized here for a major operation. She is reported to be improving steadily.

Winkle in Portland—E. W. Winkle, manager for the Riggs Optical company here, left Friday evening on a business trip to Portland. He expects to return Tuesday.

Looks Returns—W. J. Looker, secretary of the Rogue River Traffic association, was back in Medford yesterday after a fortnight's business visit in Portland.

Board Meeting—The board of the Girls' Community club will hold a regular meeting tomorrow at 12 noon. Several important matters are to be considered, the meeting announcement said.

May be Captain—Capt. Harry May, Jr., assistant adjutant at the CCC headquarters here, was promoted this week from the grade of first lieutenant to captain in the infantry reserve.

Elk Creek Party—The public is invited to a Christmas program to be given at the Elk Creek clubhouse next Thursday at 8 p. m. Entertainers will be pupils of the Elk Creek school, Mrs. Gray and Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair and small son.

Back From Hunt—Lieut. Roy Craft, public relations officer of the CCC, and Herman Burgoyne returned yesterday from the Tule lake country where they hunted geese with little luck. The weather was ideal, they said, but the birds were flying too high.

High Cribbage Hand—Dr. E. H. Porter, an ardent cribbage devotee for over 40 years, recently held a 28 hand, next highest possible in the game, while playing with Mrs. Porter. In all the years that he has played the game, Dr. Porter has seen only one other 28 hand, he said.

Book Nook Opens—The new Book Nook at 15 North Fir street will be opened for business tomorrow, according to an announcement yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Doremus who have been in business in Ashland for the past ten years and are well known in southern Oregon. The unique little shop will carry magazines and reprint books and will buy exchange and rent books and magazines.

Opens station—Rudy Singler, associated for the past four years with the Union Oil service station at Main and Fir streets, has gone into business for himself. He has taken over the Gilmore station at Ninth street and South Central avenue and will feature Gilmore products and Check-Chart lubrication under the name "Rudy's Station."

1000 ACRES FARM LAND SOLD EAGLE POINT DISTRICT

W. R. Holman and Roy Stanley have each purchased about 1000 acres of farm land in the Eagle Point district for use as cattle ranches, the Mail Tribune learned yesterday.

The land, each tract representing separate sales, was purchased directly from the Eagle Point irrigation district and from the Jackson County Building & Loan Association.

Bulk of the tract bought by Mr. Holman comprised the old Cowden ranch, the buildings of which were destroyed by fire some time ago.

Both Mr. Holman and Mr. Stanley are stock men, raising large herds of white-faced Herefords and turkeys. They have been renting large tracts for their ranch operations. It was understood that the men plan extensive improvements on their new properties and will take residence thereon as soon as practicable. The tracts are considered good grazing and farm lands, suitable as stock ranches. The land is under irrigation.

Both men are well known in Jackson county, having been in the stock business here for many years.

ELKS LAY PLANS FOR DISTRIBUTION OF YULE BASKETS

Once a year throughout the country lodges of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks hold an event called "the annual Christmas tree."

The purpose of the celebration is to raise money for the Elks charity fund that is used to provide needy families with Christmas baskets.

These baskets, Elks point out, mean considerably more to impoverished families than the name implies, being much more than a small basket of Yule dainties. They constitute, in fact, a week's supply of staple groceries. In addition to Christmas delicacies, they contain 50 pounds of potatoes, a sack of sugar, bread, butter and other basic table commodities.

Yesterday Medford Elks were preparing for their annual Christmas tree so that needy families in this locality might have a happy holiday. It is the aim of the lodge to make this the most successful affair of its kind ever held here.

The event will be held at the Elks temple at 7:00 p. m. next Thursday. It will be a stag affair for members and their guests only. A departure will be made this year from the usual custom in that a small admission will be charged. To compensate for the fee there will be an abundance of crabs and beer, enough, say the committee men, to satisfy the most voracious appetites.

There will also be entertainment galore: 15 rounds of C.C.C. boules, the Days of '49 and other features. Numerous gifts will be given away, including a $70 radio, $20 occasional chair and $12.50 lamp.

Committee personnel follows: Purchasing committee: Leon Hawkins, T. E. Daniels and Carl Y. Tengwald.

Soliciting committee: O. O. Alenderfer, Lewis Ulrich, C. C. Lempp, W. W. Allen, Clarence Fankay, Ernest L. Barnes, William Holloway, Ronald DeVore, J. R. Bierns, W. O. Webster and H. N. Butler.

Cashiers: George Pree, Roy Pruitt, Robert Hart, Ward Beane, R. H. Ebel and Gen. Thornalick. Refreshments: P. C. Bigham, Harry Mark, Herb Gunther, Everett Brayton, Elmer Childers and Eugene Orr.

Distribution: J. T. Davis, Frank

Isaac, George Eads, Roland Hubbard, Cole Holmes, William Hammett, Jack Porter, Harry Skyrman, H. C. Freetate, Bob Hammond, Jr., George Gates, Fred Luy, R. O. Stephenson, J. P. Fiegel and George Howard.

Jacksonville: Judge F. L. Touvelle and Paul Godward. Applegate: Miles Cantrall. Prospect: Dewey Hill and Arthur Perry.

Eagle Point: W. C. Clements and Will H. Brown. Central Point: B. L. Sanderson and Ernest Rostel. Phoenix: Andrew Hearn. Gold Hill: H. D. Reed and M. V. Morrison.

Selling committee: R. O. Stephenson, Raymond Reter, Ralph Koober, Floyd Hart, Assistants: Fred Fry, 28 N. Fir St.

Victor Tengwald, Stan Sherwood, Ray Wright, Burt Lagason, Earl York, Joe Burroughs, Bob Norris, Diamond Flynn, Howard LeClere.

Congressional committee: E. W. Winkle, R. C. Taylor, Bob Hammond, Jr., Dr. R. A. Cox, Fred Schertz, V. E. Foy, Sam Carey and Paul Wright.

Meet the Miriam Gross representative at Adrienne's Monday morning only. Special orders for spring suits and dresses.
