Guest of Newhalls Entertained During Past Week's Stay

Popular guests in the valley this week have been Mrs. Dorothy Guthrie and her son, Sandy, who are house guests at the C. S. Newhall home in Jacksonville. Mrs. Guthrie, now a resident of London, England, formerly lived here, and during her few days' visit here has been renewing many old friendships.

Friday afternoon, Mrs. Robert Rubi entertained at luncheon for Mrs. Guthrie, having as her guests Mesdames Leonard Carpenter, F. Corning Kenly, C. S. Newhall, Donald Clark, Miss Margaret Hubbard and Mrs. Alex Sparrow.

Friday evening Mrs. G. M. Roberts was hostess to the Newhalls and their guests for dinner, and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Carpenter were dinner hosts Saturday evening honoring the visitors. They had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Newhall and son, E. W. Carlton, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Carpenter and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rubi.

P. T. A. of Junior High Meet Friday

Mrs. C. O. Hopkins was in charge of Friday's meeting of the Junior High P. T. A. Christmas carols sung by the seventh grade pupils and several violin numbers by four students made up the musical program which was arranged by Mrs. Stephen Nye.

Mrs. Hopkins spoke on the school systems of Germany, Italy and Russia which the guests found highly interesting. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Circle Hears Ethiopian Talk

Mrs. E. N. Warner was guest speaker at the recent meeting of the Meritt circle of the Presbyterian church, whose hostess was Mrs. Chas. Graves.

Mrs. Warner's topic was Ethiopia, and was much enjoyed by the twenty guests.

Stockman-Hagen Engagement Told

Recently announced was the engagement of Esther Stockman, daughter of Mrs. Ina I. Stockman, to Billmore C. Hagen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Hagen.

The wedding will be an event of December 26, plans being made for a home wedding.

After the ceremony, the bride and groom will leave on a ten-day honeymoon trip to Los Angeles, returning to Medford to make their home at 122 South Grape street.

Kiwanian Wives Will Be Guests At Dinner Party

Wives of Kiwanians will be guests of the club for a Yuletide dinner and party Monday evening at 6:30 at the Hotel Medford. Each lady will receive a gift with the donor's name inside, said donor automatically becoming her supper partner.

A bridge tournament between the ladies and gentlemen has been arranged for the evening. If won by the ladies, the amount realized from the tournament will go to their pet charities, with the situation reversed if the men are conquerors.

Pocahontas Lodge Has Dance Friday

Dancing was the diversion of the evening for the Pocahontas social night Friday with music by the Diekeys. In charge of arrangements were Florence Bush, Gladys Waltermire and Jack Dooms. Refreshments were served by Gladys Hammin, Rosa Young and Evelyn Stagg.

Also among this week's activities for the lodge was the surprise "house warming" arranged by members and friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilson Thursday evening. The forty guests played bridge and pinocle during the evening.

Married in a Year

Jackie Coogan, who recently celebrated his 21st birthday, places a ring on the finger of Betty Grable, his 18-year-old sweetheart, after they announced in Hollywood they would be married in a year. Coogan, a former child star, acquired a fortune when he became of age. (Associated Press Photo)

Eastern Wedding Of Joubert Hurd Is Recent Event

Echos are being received here of the New York wedding of Miss Martha Waterhouse, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Waterhouse of Honolulu, Hawaii, and Joubert Hurd, son of Mrs. E. H. Hurd of this city, and the late attorney E. H. Hurd.

The couple were married in Grace Protestant Episcopal church in the presence of 75 relatives and friends. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and had as her only attendant Miss Margaret Delano. Fred Spuhn was best man. A reception and dinner at the Waldorf Astoria followed the ceremony.

The couple sailed for London on the Europa, Mr. Hurd being London manager for the Matsen Steamship lines.

The bride is a graduate of Wellesley college and Mr. Hurd of Stanford.

Thursday Study Club Hears New Program At Weekly Meeting

An especially interesting program, dealing with the theater, was presented at this week's meeting of the Thursday morning Study club. First half of the program was a review, by Mrs. C. C. Furnas, of John Mason Brown's "Upstage," telling of the today's drama and playwrights, actors and actresses, directors, scenic artists, and the critic, who plays such an important part in the success of a play.

Second half of the topic was the reading of "Accent on Youth," by Mrs. Myron Root, which was closed with the best ten plays of last season.

A new note appeared on this program in the form of a magazine calendar under the supervision of Mrs. Burdette Dodge, who gave a short but informative talk on Japan and Manchuria. Also speaking were Mrs. Royal Rebb, on World News in the Realm of Music; Mrs. L. L. Sanders, telling of interesting facts in the life of Huey Long; and Mrs. A. H. Clement, who gave facts on the subject of strike-breaking.

These short talks, based on recent magazine articles of real worth, are to be a regular part of the program at the first meeting of each month, and are eagerly awaited by the members, as they concern vitally problems of the day.

Glee Clubs Present Christmas Program

One of the loveliest of Christmas musical programs will be heard this afternoon when members of the combined glee clubs of the Southern Oregon Normal school present their annual Christmas vesper program in the Normal auditorium at four o'clock.

Miss Louise Woodruff, music instructor at the school, has directed the young singers, who will present a varied program including carols from foreign lands by men's voices, women's voices and combination of the two.

Carols have been selected from those of English, French, Spanish, Russian, Slovenian, Roumanian, Hungarian, Moravian and Polish origin. A candlelight procession will be a feature of the afternoon.
