Miss Bliss Becomes Bride of Geo. Yung

At noon Saturday, Reverend E. S. Bartlam united in marriage Miss Marvel Bliss and George Yung at the Bartlam home in a quiet ceremony before a few friends and relatives.

The bridegroom was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Guy Yung, brother and sister-in-law of the groom. Miss Bliss was attired in an afternoon dress of green, and wore brown accessories.

The bride is a teacher in the Junior high school, and has resided here for several years, coming from her home in Gridding, Idaho. Mr. Yung has been in Medford about a year, his home being in Independence, Ore. The couple will make their home in this city. They left after the ceremony for a short honeymoon, and plan a longer trip later.

sleigh with a winter background and bore the legend "greetings to you."

Aunt Is Convinced

In Woodstock, N. Y., Miss Anita Smith, aunt of the missing boy, said she was sure because of her nephew's habits, that he had been kidnaped. She said he left for New York several weeks ago after living for a while with his mother, Mrs. Fredricka Milne, in a modest Woodstock house.

Clarence D. McKean, New England chief of department of justice agents, said at Boston federal men had been called in. Their investigations were conducted in the utmost secrecy and federal authorities here refused to discuss the case.

At police headquarters, Milne was listed only in the missing persons file.

Brother Left Note

When Frederic reported his brother missing to the police yesterday he gave them a copy of a note left for him by Caleb saying he had gone to Philadelphia because his grandfather had sent for him.

The text of the note:

"Fred —
"A note just came from a Dr. Greene who has been called in consultation to see grandfather (under-scored) who wants to see me (under-scored)! I am to drive over this morning with him. It must be serious or it could wait 'till Xmas. The letter says 'we'll drive back this evening so I'll tell you all the dirt then."
"I must rush off now or I'll miss the bus doctor at his mansion."
"Hastily,
"Cale."

"P.M.s—I guess Grandpapa doesn't trust the Phila Drs. anymore."

Acting Lieutenant Henry Devlin said that Caleb had about $4 when he left and had planned to meet Frederic at one p. m. for luncheon and do some Christmas shopping.

Mrs. Louise Tarbell, in charge of the apartment house, said Caleb departed in some haste after a phone call. He asked her the location of Grace Square, a tiny park at 86th street and the East river.

A police search failed to discover a man named Green in that vicinity, and the grandfather reported he was well and had not sent for the youth.

GRATER ATTRACTS MANY SKI GROUPS, SNOWMEN FROLIC

A caravan of 40 automobiles yesterday took the Boyne showmen and their guests to Crater Lake national park for a day of skiing. Weather conditions at the resort were ideal and the outing was described today as a gratifying success.

The showmen were so greatly interested in the winter sport that they postponed the election of officers scheduled for the afternoon at the lake. Instead it will be held Friday night at a meeting in the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce, Glen Fabrick, president, announced.

There were also large delegations of ski enthusiasts at the lake from Grants Pass and Klamath Falls. Many sightseers were at the resort yesterday, also, several cars being seen from British Columbia and mid-western states as well as many from California. In all several hundred persons registered at the mountain resort.

Stringer pleaded guilty a year ago to a series of burglaries in this city, including Mann's department store and the secular and junior high schools, naming Tremaine and others as his accomplices. At the time, the court commented on the number of paroles that had been granted Stringer.

Stringer named Julian Dailey, another local youth, in his statement and "bad blood" has existed between the two in prison, where Dailey is also serving a sentence.

According to records of the district attorney, Stringer first came to the attention of the police in 1928 when he was charged with bicycle theft, and was later involved with two other youths in theft of seven autos in one night from the streets of this city. He also served a previous term for burglary.

Paulos had attempted repeatedly to withdraw from the projected robbery before "any overt act" had been committed.

Detective Capt. Ernest Yoris of the Seattle police, the last witness of the state called, testified Hall told him in the Seattle city jail:

The statement was made, Yoris said, after C. K. Long, Bremerton navy yard worker, confronted Hall at the jail and identified him as having been aboard a ferry going from Seattle to Bremerton the morning after the sextuple killings in the Frank Flecker cottage at the Point.
