

GEBAUERS RETAIN CREAMERY PLANT, BREWING COMPANY

There was much duplication of service that prevented the realization of a stable economy.

Mrs. Snider will remain as the active head of the company. Robert Hart, assistant trust officer of the First National Bank, will join the company as manager in charge of administration and sales.

The Snider Dairy & Produce company was organized in 1904 by J. W. Snider and has operated in Medford continuously since then.

The Snider company has grown up with Medford and has developed and expanded as the city has increased in size and activity.

The company services Jackson and Josephine counties in southern Oregon and Siskiyou and Del Norte counties in northern California.

"I am very happy about the transaction," Mrs. Snider said. "I believe it will serve the best interests of the farmers and the consumers. They will be given the same splendid consideration they received from the Gold Seal Creamery."

It is particularly fortunate that Mr. Hart is able to join our organization. He is a big asset to any business, and I am gratified that he is coming to our company."

PARLEY ON BONUS FAILS TO PRODUCE COMPROMISE PLAN

The method of payment if necessary, other expenses notably Senator Thomas (D. Okla.), made plain they would fight any effort to finance the huge outlay through the orthodox issuance of bonds.

Worrying the leaders is another measure—the Frazier-Lemke bill to refinance farm indebtedness through currency inflation up to $3,000,000,000.

Only ten more will be necessary when congress assemblies next Friday. Leaders believe the bill will pass the house if it comes to a vote.

Talk of a "compromise" bonus bill designed to win President Roosevelt's "e. k." was heard in many quarters.

In the afternoon the auxiliary met in the library auditorium. Grants Pass unit had charge of the decorations and entertainment.

With the ending of 1935 at midnight today, most of Medford will be found participating in the gayest social night of the year.

Members of the Elks' committee have arranged thoroughly unusual decorations, and state that this year's dance will reach a new high of festive entertainment.

The Town Club invites members and their out-of-town guests to see the old year out and the new in at the club house this evening, where strings of confetti and balloons will present an appropriately gay appearance.

Among the largest of the early evening affairs will be the no-host cocktail party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Jackson on Hillcrest road.

Also entertaining this evening will be Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Rickett, who have invited ten couples to call at their home on Valley View drive between the hours of 8 and 12.

The annual Gold Chevron ball sponsored by Crater Lake Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars will take place at the Oriental Gardens tonight.

Another of the series of popular monthly dances arranged by the club will be an event of Saturday evening, January 11, at the Hotel Medford, dancing to start at 9 o'clock.

All officers, including national guard and retired army and navy officers and reserve officers, members of the technical services, contract surgeons and educational advisors and 15-1/2 guests will be extended an invitation.

Wedding of Miss Bardwell and Eric Westergren Jan. 16

Date of the wedding of Miss Betty Bardwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Bardwell, to Eric C. Westergren, son of Mrs. Frank P. Borland, has been set for Thursday, January 16.

The betrothal of the popular young couple was announced December 7 at a bridge and cocktail party, whose hostess was Miss Dorothy Roberts.

Since the announcement, both Miss Bardwell and Mr. Westergren have been much entertained by their numerous friends in the city. First to entertain for Miss Bardwell was Mrs. David Rosenberg, who arranged a shower for the bride-elect shortly after the announcement party.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Ben Day, the former Miss Louise Conner, was hostess at a shower in honor of Miss Bardwell at the Day home.

Miss Gloria Getchell invited several couples to a midnight supper at her home following the Town club tea dance Saturday evening, an affair which also honored the bride and groom-to-be.

This evening, Miss Bardwell and Mr. Westergren will be honor-guests at a cocktail party arranged by Edward Reames to precede the New Year's eve dance at the Town club.

Mrs. Helen Conroy will entertain Thursday afternoon in honor of Miss Bardwell, arranging an afternoon of bridge.

The concurrence of the engagement and wedding announcements to the usual holiday festivities has produced an unusually gay and active Yuletide season among younger members of the social set.

Engagement Young Couple Told Recently. Mr. and Mrs. V. I. Eakin announce the engagement of their daughter, Ann, to Cecil H. Coghil, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Coghil.

The wedding will be an event of the coming spring. A definite date has not been set as yet.

Miss Eakin came with her parents to Medford two years ago from Chicago, while Mr. Coghil is very well known in this city. Both young people have attended Medford high school.

Officers' Club Planning Dance. Among the most popular hosts in Medford are the members of the Medford District Officers' Club, whose social events in the past have proved to be highlights on the calendar.

Another of the series of popular monthly dances arranged by the club will be an event of Saturday evening, January 11, at the Hotel Medford, dancing to start at 9 o'clock.

New Year's Resolutions Listed by Local People

With 1935 standing on a spindly leg, and 1936 peering slyly around the corner of midnight, Medford citizens are busy, some of them, in making New Year's resolutions.

Walter Lavette, on the other hand, has resolved that the next time he bets on East-West, or other games, with Thorndike, the agreement is going to have to be drawn in something besides legal phraseology.

Carl Tengwald has made a very sensible resolve, to-wit: He's not going to try to ford Bear creek at McCandrews road again, since the last time found him stilled in the middle and forced to hoist his children onto the roof to keep them dry.

Most people, it seems apparent, either aren't going to make any resolutions this year because they realize the futility of the things, or they are ashamed of such resolutions as "I won't beat little Junior any more."

Horace Greely Wilson, tennis enthusiast, assured the reporter that he would like to resolve on a come-back in the tennis world, but admitted that he's getting a little reticent for such efforts.

Chief of Police Clotius McCredie resolved to catch the thieves that have moved in on the city, and the rest of the city police accepted that as the best possible resolve for themselves.

Mrs. M. L. Alford has resolved to be even kinder, if possible, to her two pet frogs, "Poly" and "Wog," when they reappear in the spring, because they sing to her when pampered with just the right milk.

Wall St. Report

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—(AP)—The stock market today shuffled off the old year to the pleasing music of spurring prices.

Aircraft and other industrial specialties absorbed trading attention for gains of 1 to 4 or more points. The close was strong. Transfers approximated 2,350,000 shares.

A number of stocks registered new 6-year highs and many others were at their tops for the year or longer.

The list became quite active in the first hour and the ticker tape was in arrears for awhile. There were subsequent profit taking flurries when the pace slowed.

In the last half hour stock exchange floor members held a celebration in which an orchestra and several quartets participated.

The final gong ushered out the finish of business for 1935 amid resounding cheers. Today's closing prices for 32 selected stocks follow:
