

$7500 IN PRIZES WAIT ARCHITECTS ON CAPITOL PLAN

Winner to Get Contract—Next Five Best to Share Prize Money—No Action Taken On Site Addition

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 9.—(AP)—Governor Martin, who has been a severe critic of the legislature in its refusal to obtain more land for the new capitol site, noted with interest the proceedings of the capitol reconstruction commission here yesterday in its consideration of the possibility of obtaining more land.

"When I read of the proceedings of the commission," the governor declared, "a commission appointed to carry out the wishes of the legislature, and their grief and pain expressed in being unable to build their capitol on the old site, I am reminded of the statement made by Andrew Jackson as he was dying: 'I still live.'"

SALEM, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Prizes totaling $7,500 in addition to the award of drawing the design of Oregon's new capitol will be given six highest competitors in the national open sketching competition, the state capitol commission decided here late yesterday.

The winner of the contest will be awarded the architect contract, while the rest of the fund will be divided among the other five high. The manner of distribution was not decided. If an out-of-state architect gets the first award, he must associate himself with an Oregon architect for the job, the commission voted.

The jury to name the winners will not be publicly announced after their selections have been made. The jury of five will include two architects, two members of the capitol commission and an outstanding Oregon citizen.

Carl F. Gould, architectural advisor, announced before he returned to his home in Seattle that he expected to have the contest under way at the end of a month.

The capitol commission requested the state highway department to make test borings on the old capitol site soon, and any Oregon stone or marble considered desirable for construction of the new $2,500,000 structure should be tested by that department as well, it was ordered.

The commission adjourned until January 23 in Portland without taking any action on the controversial issue of possibility of more land for the capitol grounds. A legal opinion was requested before definite location of the one main building would be ascertained.

RALLY IS MADE BY MRS. PALMER

Hope for the life of Mrs. B. J. Palmer, who has been no more than holding her own in a fight against pneumonia in a Salem hospital following an auto crash near there, rose last night when it was learned the Medford woman had rallied slightly following a blood transfusion.

Mr. Palmer, in a telephonic conversation last night with Clayton Isaacs here, said that Mrs. Palmer has been under an oxygen tent since Saturday, and was beginning to show improvement. Hurt badly in the auto crash which also sent Mr. Palmer to the hospital, little hope was held at first for Mrs. Palmer's life by attending physicians but Mr. Palmer sounded very hopeful, Isaacs said today.

Palmer himself has recovered so greatly that he has left the hospital, and is now able to be about, he told Isaacs.

CHAMBER BACKS PLAN OF GUARD TO REORGANIZE

Plans for the reorganization of Company A, 186th Infantry, were being carried forward today and it was anticipated that the national guard unit would soon be brought up to its full active membership.

Approximate reorganization, Ben E. Harder today issued this statement:

"As president of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce, I sincerely hope that the efforts now being extended by the national guard organization here, to obtain its full strength, will be successful."

"The national guard is a very integral part of our national defense system, and Jackson county should try to uphold its share of responsibility in this vitally important matter."

"Company A, 186th Infantry, has made a remarkable record for itself over a period of years and the vacancies at present existing, should be filled immediately."

"The weekly training not only creates a better spirit of patriotism but is also beneficial from a health standpoint, and the opportunities to study for advancement should be an incentive to every young man over 18 years of age. Two former members are now commissioned officers in the United States army. Business men and citizens generally should encourage young men to join the national guard."

"The $60,000 armory is a distinct asset to Medford and in a strictly business sense is worth $12,000 a year to the city as a result of pay and incidental expenses."

"We have no guarantee that the armory will be always maintained by the national guard, but if we are to assure a continuation of its usefulness, we should keep Company A up to full strength."

POLITICAL INTEREST OF YOUNG HELD NEED

The next gathering of the Oregon may well be the special election held here last night.

Political must come to the fore in the youth affairs of this state, the governor asserted.

The executive declared himself solidly behind the special election measure to change the primary election date from May to September, contending the present period between the primary and general election was far too long.

LET KIDNEYS FLUSH OUT 3 LBS. A DAY

Clean Out 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes

Nature put over 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters in your kidneys to strain the waste matter out of the blood. Kidneys should pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than three pounds of waste matter.

When the passing of water is scanty, with swelling and burning, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your body may take up some of these poisons causing serious trouble. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and help the kidneys to flush out 3 pounds a day.
