Officers and Friends Guests at Successful Dance Last Evening

A fairly quiet week followed the holiday season, the principal social event being the Officers' club dance at the Hotel Medford last evening. Largely attended by the army set and their friends, the dance, one of a series of monthly affairs, was enthusiastically received by guests of the evening.

Specially invited were members of the Elk's club. Other guests were all officers on duty with the civilian conservation corps, reserve officers, officers of the National Guard, retired army and navy officers, members of the technical services, contract surgeons and educational advisors and their invited civilian friends.

Responsible for the successful arrangements for the affair were Capt. Harry May, Jr., Lieut. William B. Clegg, Lieut. Roy D. Craft and Lieut. Richard Matteson.

New Officers Take Chairs at Thursday Evening Ceremonies

With impressive and appropriate ceremonies, new officers for 1936 for Beames chapter, O. E. S., were installed at the Masonic hall Thursday evening. Floral decorations and formal gowns added distinctive notes of color to the scene, as the installing officers, Cornelia Barnes, Della Schefel, Maude Holmes and Dorothy Reynolds conducted the ceremony.

Heading the new officers was Mrs. C. M. Houston as worthy matron and George Alden as worthy patron. Other officers: Myrna Frink, associate matron; Lon Bishop, associate patron; Hattie Alden, secretary; Florence Butler, treasurer; Zenda Sanders, conductor; and Lillian Gray, associate conductor.

Others installed were: Mrs. E. J. Smith, chaplain; Maude Swem, marshal; Grace Pankay, organist; Beth Watson, Louise Cleaves, Maude West, Georgia Holloway and Myrtle Olmac held as star points, Ada, Ruth, Esther, Martha and Electa respectively; Edna Skinner, warder; and C. M. Houston, sentinal.

War Topics Heard By Thursday Group

This week's meeting of the Thursday Morning Study club was devoted to war topics, the discussions presented being found very stimulating by the members.

A paper, "Propaganda Menace," regarding the spread of war propaganda and its pernicious results, was read by Mrs. R. C. Van Valsah. Mrs. Louise Humphreys gave a brief talk on the futility of war, reviewing past wars and their demoralizing after effects. She spoke impressively of personal experiences while in England during the last war.

"The Road to War," by George Mills, was reviewed by Mrs. Bert Lowry, who clearly and interestingly presented the views of the author.

Timely magazine articles were discussed by Mrs. Rawles Moore, Mrs. Rose Schieffelin, Mrs. Charles Reum, Mrs. Frank Gray and Mrs. R. S. Mulholland.

Jackson School Dads Honored with Dinner And Program Friday

Daddies are apt to be a little neglected as parents, but they were entertained royally Friday evening when the Jackson School P. T. A. arranged a turkey dinner in their honor at the school.

Principal speaker for the evening was C. R. Bowman, superintendent of county schools, who discussed the modern teacher. Principal H. W. Gustin introduced the teachers, and Mrs. Allen Smith, president of the P. T. A., welcomed the guests and introduced past presidents.

Nine children from the school glee club presented several songs, accompanied by Roger Wolf. Group singing was interspersed between courses, competently led by Dr. E. R. Shockley.

Setting a fine example of community spirit, 15 ladies from the Washington school served the dinner. The Jackson ladies plan to reciprocate in the near future.

Officers Installed At January Session Past Noble Grands

"Who is my sister Olive?" The answer to that question, which has kept members guessing an entire year was revealed at the January meeting of the Past Noble Grand club of Olive Rebekah lodge when thirty-eight members assembled at the home of Mrs. Elbel Pease recently.

Joint hostesses with Mrs. Pease were Marjorie Pearson and Lottie Howard.

After the opening exercises and regular order of business, the installation committee took charge of the meeting and installing Officer Ethel Humphrey conducted the test required by the committee.

New officers installed were: Lottie Howard, president; Ella Gould, secretary; and Daisy Douglas, vice-president, replacing outgoing officers, President Marjorie Pearson, Vice-President Lottie Howard and secretary-treasurer Dorothy Scripser.

Fairing gifts were opened after the installation ceremonies, and drawings made for sister Olive for 1936. Refreshments were then served and announcements made of the February meeting, whose hostess will be Mrs. L. P. Stubblefield, 25 South Orange street, at which time several new members will be initiated.
