

Beavers Trounce Idaho 45 to 19 for Second Straight Victory

PALMBERG SCORES 19 POINTS AFTER STARTING SLUMP

Staters Roll Up Heavy Lead in First Half — Fisher Leads Losers.

CORVALLIS, Ore., Jan. 11.—(UP)—Oregon State basketball team defeated the Idaho Vandals, 45 to 19, here tonight for the second straight win.

The Staters took an early lead, and ran up 10 points before Larson counted a free throw for Idaho's first score after seven minutes of play. The first ended, 20 to 8 for the Beavers, with the Vandals able to garner only one field goal.

Wally Palmberg, Beaver forward, was the individual star, running up 19 points. He was held to but one field goal in the first quarter, but ran wild thereafter.

Geraghty, Idaho's diminutive forward, was definitely off form tonight, and wasn't able to make a single point, even his three free throw attempts falling short.

Fisher, Idaho guard, scored 9 points to lead the Vandals scores.

Oregon State won last night's game, 31-24.

County Scores

In Basketball

The Girls' Community club basketball team had little trouble in chalking up a 74-18 win Friday evening over a group of younger and less experienced players.

The team, coached by Mrs. Williams at the home of Mrs. Williams, is likely to fall short of the $27,500 it is now talking about.

Lou Gehrig, New York Yankee first baseman, probably is baseball's highest paid player, outside of the playing managers like Bill Terry and Mickey Cochrane.

Gehrig has agreed on his 1936 salary at a figure of about $30,000, and if he hasn't already signed his contract he will at an early date. Cochrane, who drew $30,000 as playing manager of the Tigers the past two years, probably will be baseball's high-priced individual in 1936 now that he has been made a vice-president and will take on executive duties in addition to managing and playing.

Jackonville, in its first conference game of the season, went 50-50 with Phoenix last night, losing to the "A" string and winning in the preliminary game with the "B" string, which was almost too one-sided to be interesting, Jackonville winning by the score of 30 to 3.

Two Jackonville substitutes went into action in the final game as the regulars were ineligible for the evening but succeeded in holding Phoenix to a tie at the end of the first quarter and again at the last quarter, when Phoenix once more took the lead and won by a small margin, 15-10.

Goodpasture

BOGOTA, Colombia, Jan. 11.—(AP)—

Officials estimated upon the basis of fragmentary reports tonight that more than 300 persons are dead and nearly 3,000 homeless in earthquakes and landslides which have shaken Narino department since yesterday.

A government relief party which flew today to Pasto, capital of the department, was forced to travel from there to the affected area by misadventure over otherwise impassable roads.

One survivor of a landslide which obliterated the village of La Chorra said he witnessed the destruction from a neighboring hillside. Smoke and lava poured from a huge crater after the slide, he said.

The damage from the earthquake and slides was estimated at approximately $3,300,000. The senate today voted $100,000 for relief work.

Inhabitants in the stricken area were said to be so terrified they were unable to cooperate with authorities in rehabilitation work.

Troops have begun searching the ruins for dead and injured.

Huge Tax Payment

ASTORIA, Ore., Jan. 11.—(AP)—

The Clatsop county sheriff's office received a check for $163,000, the largest single tax payment here in many years, from the Oregon-American Lumber corporation. The check paid taxes from 1928 up to date.

famous avenue, will be improved by den trees, new lighting and the landscaping of its lower end.

About Salaries This Year

—Cochrane Highest Paid

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(UP)—With the departure for spring training came only a few weeks away, major league club owners and players appear closer together over salary problems than in years.

During the depression the club owners learned by necessity how to place the proper situation on a player's services. They devised ways and means to make a player earn his stipend as well as enable him to get what he was worth. From 1931 through 1933 major league salaries on the whole were trimmed about 25 per cent. They were about at a standstill in 1934, and showed a slight increase in 1935, according to estimates. A survey shows that the general trend for 1936 is for slightly increased salaries all along the line.

Unless Dizzy Dean provokes a salary battle with the St. Louis Cardinals, with his demands for a 3-year contract at $80,000, it is doubtful if there'll be a genuine holdout among the top notch players. Dean drew $19,500 last year, including a bonus for winning 23 games. He probably will get an increase but it is likely to fall short of the $27,500 he is now talking about.

GRAPPLING CARD

Tomorrow night Promoter Mack

Lillard draws the curtain on the 1936

Medford wrestling program, when he presents three matches for what he has described as one of his best program events here offered here. Six coast top-liners, Ken Hollis against Toughy

Cleet, Shinuchi Shikuma against

Frankie Peck, and "Tiger" Taskoff against "Dude" Chick, are on the bill. All of these men have wrestled main events in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland.

The feature bout on the three-ply card will feature the return of Hollis, considered the toughest fire eater ever to grapple here. Hollis, declined Arkansas means, is meeting one of the most colorful wrestlers on the coast in Cleet, who is described as of fiery temper. According to Lillard, who saw Cleet work in Los Angeles during the Christmas holidays, the aggressive New Yorker
