Tells of Real Rain—A. S. Rosenbaum, district freight and passenger agent of the Southern Pacific railroad, thinks there is nothing to complain about Medford's rain when one considers the precipitation at Kennett, near Dunsmuir, Cal. From January 1 to yesterday the California community had 28.50 inches of rain as compared with Medford's 5.66 inches. That, however, is not an unusual precipitation for Kennett, weather bureau records show. In December, 1930, 35.84 inches of rain were measured there, and in January, 1909, the precipitation was 54.06 inches, the average rainfall being 59.07. In the record year, 1908-1909, 113.92 inches of rain fell.

Wall St. Report

NEW YORK, Jan. 16—(AP)—Utilities, coppers, steels and a number of specialties stiffened a rather characterless stock market at the finish today.

Oils lost their recent leadership as profit-takers got to work. Communications issues were active and higher. American telephone advanced sharply to a new high for 1935-36. The closing tone was steady. Transfers totaled around 3,000,000 shares.

EGG PRICES CUT ANOTHER PENNY

PORTLAND, Ore. Jan. 16.—(AP)—Further cut of 1 cent a dozen in the price on all grades of eggs by the produce exchange recognized the fact that the price on the open market has been near demoralization as a result of the unwillingness of consumers to purchase normal supplies.

Market for butter was showing a well-held tone in the country generally with prices unchanged at the recent declines as a rule but fractional advances in spots. There was no change in buyer's.

Trifle easier tone was suggested for leghorn chickens in the local trade, even though prices were unchanged from the recent high mark. Colored fowls were firmly priced.

Turkeys Selling 23-25 Cts. Pound

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Nominal prices for dressed turkeys were 23 to 25 cents a pound to producers here today, but most sales for refrigeration stock ran around the lower levels.

Supplies were fair in some sectors and scant in others. Freezers had little trouble in filling needs.

PORT ORFORD ADOPTS CHARTER BOND ISSUE

PORT ORFORD, Ore., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Residents of Port Orford adopted a city charter by a vote of 74 to 24. The proposal also included a $25,000 bond issue to assure a PWA loan for a water system.

Fifteen states will retain the same color combinations of their 1935 automobile license plates in 1936, merely reversing them as to background and numerals.

GOVERNORS ACTION ALLOWS KIDNAPER 90 DAYS MORE LIFE

ness after the United States supreme court had, for the second time, denied the condemned man's petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

Mrs. Hauptmann heard of the reprieve in a hotel room about one block from the state house.

"That is wonderful," she exclaimed. "I can only say thank you. Now, my only wish is that the real truth of the terrible Lindbergh kidnaping comes out, that the terrible people who did this thing will either come before the governor, or that they will be caught."

Witness Disappointed

One of the two prosecution witness who placed Hauptmann at the scene of the Lindbergh kidnaping, and who hoped to see him executed tomorrow night, took the reprieve philosophically.

Amandus Hochmuth, 87, who swore he saw Hauptmann with the kidnap ladder in his car near the Lindbergh estate, was waiting at the office of Attorney General David T. Wilentz for a pass to the execution when he heard the news.

"Well," he said, "I guess I'll have to go home again. But any time will suit me."

Governor Hoffman said: "We have agreed that this reprieve will not be challenged," and Wilentz shortly after declared:

"We believe it (the reprieve) illegal but we won't challenge the right of the governor."

C. Lloyd Fisher and Frederick A. Pope, defense attorneys, went to the death house at state prison at 4 p. m. to inform Hauptmann of the reprieve.

The Class of '98 knows—the Class of '28 is learning—

—why Four Roses is in a class by itself

EVERY TIME you buy whiskey, you have your choice of three different kinds: straight whiskey that's unblended; whiskey blended with neutral spirits; or a blend of straight whiskies and nothing else.

We here at Frankfort have been making fine American whiskey for 70 years—through four generations of the same family. During that time, we've learned quite a lot about what makes one kind of whiskey better than another. And out of all that experience has come the firm conviction that the best whiskey of all is a blend of the finest American straight whiskies.

That's why Four Roses, the pride of our house, bears this designation. That's why we believe it's the finest, richest-flavored whiskey we or anyone else has ever made.

After all, it stands to reason it should be. Every straight whiskey we distill has its own particular characteristic—something extra in the way of flavor, or bouquet or body. When we blend these whiskies—with the skill the years have taught us—we bring out the best qualities of each separate whiskey. We combine in one grand liquor every virtue a whiskey-lover seeks. A lot of old-timers know this already. And the younger men are learning it mighty fast . . . that the best whiskey is a blend of all straight, all American whiskies—and its name is Four Roses!

Four Roses — IT'S A PERFECT BLEND — OF ALL STRAIGHT — ALL AMERICAN WHISKIES

Frankfort Distilleries, Louisville & Baltimore, makers of Four Roses, Paul Jones, Old Oscar Pepper, Mattingly & Moore—all blends of straight whiskies.
