

BATTLE IS OVER - WOUNDED ARE TREATED

As the Italians and Ethiopians continue fierce skirmishes on the northern frontier, the wounded trickle over the mountains to Ethiopian headquarters at Dessye. Top, stretcher bearers in service of an Austrian Red Cross doctor, carry in casualties. Lower: a soldier shot in the arm is treated. (Associated Press Photo)

CABLES MADE FAST TO PASSENGER BUS IN RIVER

A salvage party as they made fast with cables the bus which carried 14 persons to death as it plunged into the Appomatox river at Hopewell, Va. (Associated Press Photo)

STANFORD'S BASKETBALL HOPE

Angelo "Hank" Luisetti, sophomore forward, averaged nearly 17 points a game during his freshman year and in his first varsity appearance this season scored 20 in less than a half game of basketball. He is Stanford's hope for a conference basketball title. (Associated Press Photo)

HIS CAR STRUCK BLIND SENATOR

L. G. Humphries of Hyattsville, Md., with his damaged car after he had struck and seriously injured Thomas D. Schall, blind senator from Minnesota, near Washington, D. C. The senator was crossing a busy highway. Humphries was charged with reckless driving and released on his personal bond for a later court appearance. (Associated Press Photo)

Golfs For Sunbath

Rita Casano, clad in a fetching play suit, gets her sun bath while on a practice round of golf in Los Angeles. (Associated Press Photo)

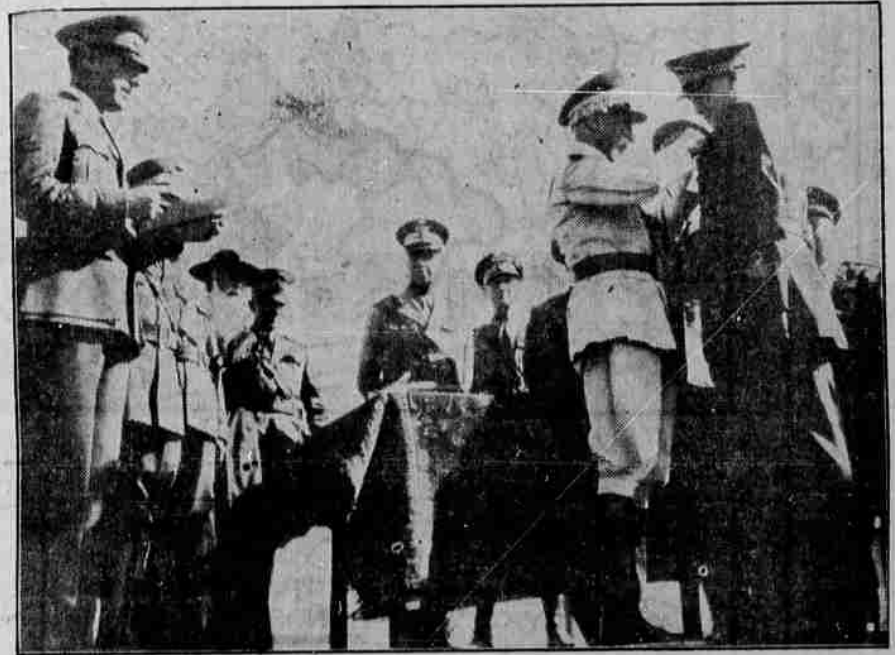

Rolf Wigaard Jr., just 13 months old, shown sitting atop the shoulder of his father at Cisco, Calif., may be the youngest ski rider in the country. The baby rides unconcernedly in this fashion even down steep slopes, and Wigaard says he is breaking his son in early to skis. (Associated Press Photo)

Seeks Jersey Probe

State Representative Crawford Jamieson (above), Mercer county Democrat, stated he would ask the legislature to investigate Gov. Harold G. Hoffman's interview with Bruno Richard Hauptmann, convicted Lindbergh kidnaper, in the New Jersey death house. (Associated Press Photo)

MUSSOLINI'S SON-IN-LAW AWARDED DECORATION

Premier Benito Mussolini was proud to hear how his son-in-law, Count Galeazzo Ciano, was decorated for his "valorous flight" over Mal Messia in the Italian campaign against Ethiopia. Former Italian Commander-in-chief Emilio De Bono shown pinning the medal on the count's breast. (Associated Press Photo)

ACTRESS PETS WINNING STEER

Alex, grand champion Hereford steer of the Los Angeles union stock show, was sold to the highest bidder for $125 a pound. The animal was raised on the Winterton Brothers ranch in Kamas, Utah, and the young woman with the prize winner is Marvel Andre. (Associated Press Photo)

MINNEAPOLIS PUBLISHER IS SLAIN

Police investigating the slaying of Walter W. Liggett, political newspaper publisher in Minneapolis, were without definite clues to the identity of his slayers although one man, believed to have established an alibi, was being held. The scene of the crime with its victim is shown. (Associated Press Photo)

When Col. Carlos Mendieta resigned Cuba's presidency, Dr. Jose Barnet (above), 71-year-old secretary of state, automatically succeeded to the office pending the selection of a successor to Mendieta. (Associated Press Photo)

Testifies At Trial

James W. Ives (above) was one of the first witnesses in the case against Representative John Hoepfel, California Democrat, in federal court in Washington, D. C. The government charged Hoepfel's son offered Ives a West Point appointment for $1000. (Associated Press Photo)

GRANDSON OF 'T. R.' IN CAMBRIDGE TOILS

Cornellus Roosevelt (left), grandson of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, and Peter de Flores, students at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Cambridge, at police headquarters after they had been arrested for allegedly firing at passing motorists, from a fraternity house, with an air gun that discharged leaden pellets. (Associated Press Photo)

MEDICAL CENTER MECHANIC SHOTS 3; KILLS SELF

Maddened by imagined injustices and his discharge as a mechanic at the Columbia university medical center in New York, Victor S. Koussow (left), 35, holder of Russian university degrees, shot and killed two faculty members, wounded a third and then killed himself. Dr. Arthur T. Rowe (right), associate dean of the dental college, and Dr. Paul Wiberg (second from the left) were slain. Dr. William H. Crawford (third from left) was seriously wounded. (Associated Press Photo)