Cope were dressed as civil war ladies, their garbs creating much laughter. Then came the "gray 90's" represented by Mrs. L. S. Stenerson as the bloomer girl and Mrs. Lyle Thurman as the bicyclist of those days, riding the "bicycle built for two." Mrs. N. A. Meade impersonated the western girl attired in the riding habit of divided skirts, worn during that period. Misses Katherine Meade and Carl Platt were of the present age and were dressed in the riding pants and slacks of the modern girl and sang "The Music Goes Round and Round." Mrs. Don Platt rendered solos for each period of time and was accompanied by Miss Connie Moore, guest pianist. Mrs. M. E. Coo played piano selections while the refreshments were being served. The social committee consisted of Mrs. H. E. Harrold, Mrs. J. T. Fowler, Mrs. Clinto Vroman and the hostess, Mrs. Dawes. Mrs.

President's Ball Important Event

Everyone, high and low, in all parts of the nation, will participate in the annual President's ball January 30, one of the most brilliant social affairs of the midwinter season and certainly the largest. This year's affair promises to be even more successful than the two preceding ones, which lingered in the minds of those attending for many months as among the pleasantest social evenings of the year, no matter in what private social circles they moved.

Differing from most national affairs of this type, observance of the President's ball is not confined to the larger cities but becomes an event of importance everywhere.

Mothers' Club Mrs. N. Weston will entertain the Mothers' club of the Sacred Heart church at her home, 52 North Peach street, Friday evening at seven-thirty. All mothers of the parish are expected to be present. A social evening will be combined with the business session.
