A rummage sale, sponsored by Crater Lake chapter Daughters of the American Revolution, will be held next Saturday, Feb. 1st, in the building at 42 S. Central, formerly occupied by the Handicraft Shop.

The proceeds of this sale will be used for the chapter's share in the restoration of the old John McLoughlin home in Oregon City. The old house, built in 1846, has, for years, been maintained by the John McLoughlin Memorial Assn. and has been removed from its original location to higher ground and restored as a CWA project.

Forty organizations, patriotic, civic and pioneer, throughout the state are actively engaged in this work. Furnishings, articles and relics, used by the McLoughlin family as well as contemporary families, are being collected to refurnish the home as nearly as possible as it was originally. To the Oregon society D. A. R. has been given the refurnishing of the main living room and two small adjoining bedrooms.

It is hoped a good attendance of leaders will attend these meetings, as a very comprehensive program has been planned and it is also felt many of the troop leaders' problems can be discussed and solved during the meetings. Next meeting is announced for February 18 at seven-thirty.

(By Margaret Kerr)

Our national legislative chairman, Mrs. Ernest G. Rarey, in the December issue of our National Bulletin, emphasizes that our only legislative program is that of the American Legion.

Quoted also in the Bulletin are the resolutions adopted at the national convention in St. Louis covering the following subjects:

Federal Child Labor Amendment: That the American Legion reaffirm its 1934 national convention action in support of the federal child labor amendment and that the Legion again work during 1936 to secure ratification of the child labor amendment in such states as have not already ratified

Rehabilitation: (a) A clarification of all veterans' administration issues, and the issuance at appropriate intervals of such interpretations as may be necessary to insure uniform procedure through the veterans' administration. (b) Recommending decentralization of all veterans' claims, including the payment of benefits after the death of a veteran. (c) To include many recommendations as to individual cases and a general supervision of veterans' administration with fair play as the aim.

That the fourth point of the four-point program be reaffirmed. That is, "In no event shall widows or dependent children of deceased World War veterans be without government protection.

That further consolidation of veterans' administration facilities be opposed.

That burial flags be available in every postoffice.

Recommending legislation to validate treasury regulation No. 11, defining total and permanent disability, and making same applicable to converted insurance.

Recommending legislation pertaining to insurance only whereby the government must institute action to have it declared that a veteran once declared permanent and total by a court has recovered.

Recommending legislation providing that no presumption of law in fact, shall arise out of failure of claimant to assert a claim or bring suit upon any insurance contract, provided the claim was made or suit brought within the period provided by law.

Recommending legislation to provide reasonable fees for attorneys who assist veterans in presenting claims on government converted life insurance.

Recommending legislation validating converted insurance policies before July 1, 1935, and cash surrenders.

The Legion has invited the auxiliary members to join them in a joint meeting Tuesday night. The auxiliary will not hold its regular meeting Monday night.

Margaret Kerr, legislative chairman, has arranged for one speaker, George Codding. His subject will be "Legion Legislation." The Legion will have charge of the program and after the meeting there will be cards and refreshments.
