SENATE VOTE MAKES BONUS LAW

News Behind The News
 By Paul Mallon
 (Copyright, 1936, by Paul Mallon)
 NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The big fellows here are not as enthusiastic as they were when they made their new year prophecies.

At a board meeting representative of the bulk of business last week, it was agreed that while the immediate future is bright, it is by no means all sunshine and roses.
 The prospects and effects of a hot political campaign are now seen more clearly than a few weeks earlier. Many businesses and business men will be under fire and firing. More federal taxation requirements also have arisen lately.
 This means only one thing. Industry has had to be wary in spending its safety reserves for expansion since the depression. It has not yet relaxed its caution.

The men here who make the market for government bonds (in a way) are not at all perturbed about the 1936 prospects, but are increasingly apprehensive about the end of it all in the future.
 They know the treasury will have to do a lot more new financing this year than last. It raised about $1,600,000,000 of new money last year. The bonus alone will require more than that this year.

Yet the treasury is still in a position to just about write its own tickets (with reservations) on financing. That coincides with the Washington viewpoint.
 Park avenue political debutante will never get over the way T. R. Jr. handled the predicament of addressing memorial dedication exercises to his father from the same platform as his far, far distant cousin, the president.

Young Teddy was surrounded by political stragglers, including not only President Roosevelt, but Democratic Governor Lehman and unattached Mayor La Guardia. As he started into his own highly non-political address, he bowed only to the chairman, who sat at his left, and then looked straight out at the audience, saying:
 "Mr. Chairman and distinguished guests."
 The president was on the right.

ACTIVE CONVENTION WILL BE HELD HERE

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 27.—(AP)—The annual convention of Active International, parent organization of Active clubs in the Northwest, will be at Medford June 19 and 20, the board announced today.
 William McAllister of Medford, International vice-president, will be in charge of the convention.

SIDE GLANCES BY TRIBUNE REPORTERS

J. H. Fletcher, Kiwanis president, after political discussion at meeting: "Well, I feel sure that none of you know how to vote after that."

Ole Arnsperger, R. B. Hammond and Ted GeBauer listening to Ev Faber's tale of woe spent his reception in Portland, where some kind hearted soul put sugar in his crankcase, "roosting" his motor.

Tiger Taskoff trying to disguise himself by shaving off his mustache, but it revealed him nothing since Otto Frohmayer and a reporter both recognized him.

And Ted Porter also masquerading—under a pork-pie hat, with equally small success.

Nearest comeback of the week—made by a wood salesman in reply to Ed Lamport's charge that his wood wasn't any good: "It ought to be, I just cut it."

Mrs. Alice Huff recalling, with wry smile, the chicken-feeding office that they serve in Louisiana, which will make you dizzy as one of Duke Chick's spins.

ROOSEVELT'S VETO IS OVERRIDDEN BY VOTE OF 76 TO 19

Action Raises Problem of Finding $2,491,000,000—Question of New Taxes Remains to Be Decided

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Shortly after congress made immediate payment of the soldiers' bonus law over his veto, President Roosevelt issued orders to the treasury and veterans' administration to provide for payment "as expeditiously as accuracy will permit."
 Mr. Roosevelt asked that "patience be exercised" because of the "magnitude of the administrative task."
 "The president is advised that more than 7,000,000 interest calculations will be necessary and that it will require between 2500 and 3000 additional personnel working for approximately six months to do this job. It should be remembered that the amount due each individual veteran must be separately worked out for each case. The additional personnel to handle this enormous figuring and clerical job must, under the law, come from the civil service rolls.

"Application blanks will be available in all regional offices of the veterans' administration and in the hands of service organizations within the next two or three days. If the veterans will keep in mind that the bonds are to be issued dated June 15, 1936, and after filing their applications will refrain from wiring follow up letters, they will greatly assist in the prompt administration of the new law."

PRISON WALLS SAFEGUARD KILLER

Fear of possible lynch action caused Fresno, Calif., officials to rush Elton Stone, 30-year-old paroled convict, to Folsom state prison for safekeeping after his announced confession of the slaying of Mary Louise Stammer, 14, while she was reading in her home two months ago. Pictured at the prison are Deputy Sheriff John Ford of Fresno, Stone and Warden Court Smith. (Associated Press Photo)

FRESNO, Calif., Jan. 27.—(AP)—Elton Stone, 31-year-old former convict, was sentenced to death today for the slaying of Mary Louise Stammer, daughter of a prominent Fresno family.
 FRESNO, Calif., Jan. 27.—(AP)—Elton Stone pleaded guilty today to a charge of murdering 14-year-old Mary Louise Stammer.
 The mechanic, who was crowded by armed officers through crowds numbering more than 2,000 which jammed the courtyard and courthouse waived his legal right for a continuance to another date for further proceedings.
 The waiver meant the prisoner undoubtedly would be sentenced during the day by Superior Judge E. T. Thompson and returned to Folsom prison, late this afternoon.
 There was no concerted evidence that citizens intended to try to take Stone from the officers.
 Several shook their fists and a young man, dressed in a leather jacket and nondescript trousers, shouted "let's take Stone." He started moving forward in the crowd but three highway patrolmen stepped up and he subsided without further demonstration.

The court advised Gobie to procure a driver's license as soon as possible if he was to continue driving. He was granted until February 15 to pay the fine and costs.

PERNOLL ABLE TO TAKE SHORT WALK

John W. Pernoll, Applegate postmaster and storekeeper, wounded three weeks ago when shot by a bandit, while fleeing from an attempted holdup, is now able to be up and walk short distances, according to friends. Pernoll was shot in the arm and leg, both bullets miraculously missing bones. He was also beaten over the head by the thug with a pistol.
 Though the state police and sheriff's office are still working on the case, no vital clues have yet been discovered. A score or more of men have been interrogated, Jackson county, through its sheriff, offered a reward of $100 for evidence leading to the arrest and conviction of the bandit.
 The robbery occurred at night, and Pernoll is able to give only a meagre general description of his assailant. No one saw the bandit leave the scene.

SWEDS RED CROSS EQUIPMENT TAKEN BY ITALIAN ARMY

Strategic Town of Neghelli Occupied by Invaders—Ras Demtu's Army Is Completely Disorganized

ADDIS ABABA, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Red Cross officials today confirmed Italian reports that Italian forces have occupied the strategic town of Neghelli in southern Ethiopia.
 The officials said that the Italians had seized all the equipment of Swedish Red Cross units. Rumors that Swedes had been taken prisoners was, however, denied authoritatively.
 The defending Ethiopian army under the command of Ras Defta Demtu was reported completely disorganized since the bombing plane had spread their operations over an area 200 miles north of Wadara, making it impossible to transmit orders.
 The Ethiopian government was represented today as gravely concerned over the lack of resistance to the Italian attack in the south.
 The government ordered all Red Cross officials in contact with the region to cease informing the press as to what was happening in Sidamo province.
 Dr. Hanner, the Swedish consul, returned from an airplane flight to Sidamo but said only: "My lips are sealed."
 An Ethiopian Red Cross unit headed by Austrian and Polish doctors, telegraphed to the capital that it had been bombed twice by Italian airplanes, Jan. 18 near Makale.
 The report said three women and two children who were being treated in an ambulance at the time were injured by the bombs.
 "The Italians," said the message, "aimed especially at our plainly-marked Red Cross emblems."

SMITH'S ATTACK DRAWS HOT FIRE FROM NEW DEAL

Virginia Democratic Solon Addresses House As 'My Fellow Rubber Stamps'—Liberty League Flayed
 By Douglas B. Cornell (Associated Press Staff Writer)
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—New Deal spokesmen sprang to instant and relentless attack on Alfred E. Smith in congress today for his exhortation of Roosevelt by democratic leaders in a press conference that the former New York governor's speech contradicted his record. Representative Woodrum (D., Va.) recalled prediction before the Liberty League dinner that the 1928 presidential nominee would "pay his respects to the President and give particular hell to the Democratic administration."
 Addressing the tense legislators as "My Fellow Rubber Stamps," a characterization used by Smith, the Virginian proceeded with the first of a series of counters to the New Yorker's charge that the 1932 platform had been betrayed.
 "Barring interruptions, Woodrum told the house 'License, not liberty, is the object of the American Liberty league—license to pillage and plunder and control the functions of government."
 "In its membership, he said, 'are Republicans who are always ready to join any honorable activity which will bring confusion to the Democratic party; the second class is a small group of disgruntled, disillusioned

GOVERNOR PLEADS FOR SALES TAX TO FUND AGE PENSION

SALEM, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Governor Martin pleaded for the passage of the sales tax referendum, designed to match federal funds for old age pensions, in a statement issued over the week-end.
 Declaring himself wholeheartedly for the support of the tax measure, the governor said he would not, however, call the legislature back into a special session should the people of the state reject the measure at Friday's election.
 "I have no fondness for a sales tax and for any ordinary purpose would not support it. But we are confronted by a serious human condition and I cannot join with those who would sacrifice the aged in their necessity for the sake of maintaining stubbornly an economic theory," the executive said.
 "Therefore, I support this sales tax wholeheartedly, not because it is a sales tax, but because it is vitally necessary."
 "I would be much distressed if the people of this state should reject the proposed tax measure. . . . The legislature, at its special session, on its own initiative, gave this question the most thoughtful consideration and could find no other means to raise the necessary revenue for old age assistance.
 "The Greeks are at our gates," I appeal to all the people of our beloved state to perform their patriotic duty in the present emergency by voting for the sales tax for old age assistance. Let us not leave the old folks in want."
 In his lengthy statement the governor reviewed the efforts to obtain funds to match federal money in various other ways, stating that no other form of taxation could be devised to raise the money than the one-half of one per cent to two per cent system, as outlined in the proposed sales tax measure.

SPECIAL ELECTION BILLS DISCUSSED AT KIWANIS MEET

Pro and con of the various bills to come before the voters at a special election Friday were discussed at the regular noon luncheon of the Kiwanis club today. Dr. Robert E. Lee opened the political discussion when he spoke, without rebuttal, on the adoption of civil service for firemen, enumerating the various advantages to be derived from that status.
 C. C. Lemmor, and R. B. Hammond took opposite sides on the discussion of the change in primary elections from May 24th September, confining their remarks to humorous comments. Otto Frohmayer and James Howard much the same thing in relation to the matter of raising the compensation of members of the state legislature.
