

BALLOT BOXES GO TO FAR PRECINCTS FOR SPECIAL VOTE

The sheriff's office this morning started distributing the ballot boxes and pouches to outlying precincts for the special state election Friday, January 31.

Four measures are on the regular special election ballot. They are the sales tax to provide funds for payment of old age pensions; to change the primary election date from May to September; compulsory student fees; and a bill for raising the pay of members of the legislature.

The little interest so far manifest in Jackson county, rests in the sales tax. Jackson county was one of the two counties in the state favoring a sales tax the last time it was before the voters.

Many old age pension beneficiaries are opposed to the present sales tax, causing many voters to hold "if they are against it, why should we be for it." If the sales tax is defeated, the state will have no source from which to pay the old age pensions.

A light vote is forecast in Jackson county.

ROOSEVELT'S VETO IS OVERRIDDEN BY VOTE OF 76 TO 19

majority, voted 76 to 19 to override the chief executive's veto.

The house had smashed it down last week 324 to 61.

The two ballots, which saw top Democratic leaders go against the President on the 18-year-old issue, put the $2,491,000,000 bond payment plan on the statute books.

They raised also for Mr. Roosevelt and his financial advisers the serious problem of finding funds to meet the new drain on the treasury.

Whether new taxes will be asked to meet this extra budget outlay—estimated to require an immediate expenditure of $1,000,000,000—remained to be seen.

The new law itself merely authorized an appropriation of $2,237,000,000 and makes available $254,000,000 already in the bonus certificate fund to pay the bonus.

President Roosevelt did not mention taxes in his brief veto message, but said his objections were the same now as they were last May when he vetoed the Patman inflation-payment measure.

Loud applause greeted the announcement of the vote by Vice-President Garner who before giving it congratulated the senate on its "good health."

While Democratic leaders in both houses have contended no new taxes would be required, Secretary Morgenthau has cautioned payment of the bonus would increase to perhaps $1,300,000,000 the amount of new treasury financing in the next 17 months.

The bill enacted today was offered after weeks of secret negotiations between bonus leaders in and about congress. Senator Harrison (D. Miss.)

introduced it on behalf of himself and Senators Byrnes (D. S. C.); Stetwer (R. Ore.) and Clark (D. Mo.).

It provides for payment in bonds that could be cashed after June 15 next at local postoffices, or held for 8 per cent interest for nine years.

The bill passed the senate originally 74 to 16 and the house 346 to 59.

The original bonus law—providing for issuance of adjusted service certificates in 1925 and maturing in 1945 based on $1 a day for continental and $1.25 a day for foreign service plus 25 per cent and interest at 4 per cent compounded annually—went on the books in 1924 over President Coolidge's veto.

The house passed it 313 to 78 over the veto and the senate 59 to 16.

Now I know which soap is gentlest for my skin

"I WAS so mixed up, so confused by all the claims, I really didn't know which complexion soap to buy! I spent so much money for soaps that were supposed to be good, but not one of them really helped my skin!

"Then I read about the 'patch' tests doctors were making on the skins of hundreds of women. They proved that Lifebuoy is far and away the mildest of all the well-known soaps tested—actually more than 20% milder than many so-called 'beauty soaps'.

"Of course, I'd been bathing with Lifebuoy to protect against 'B.O.' (body odor). Well, I tried it for a complexion soap—and, believe me, Jane, it's done wonders for my skin! Made it feel so soft, look so much fresher and clearer!

"And Lifebuoy's grand for the hands! I keep a cake handy in the kitchen as well as the bathroom. John says my hands haven't been so smooth and white since before we started housekeeping! I certainly advise every woman who wants nice hands and a nice complexion to use Lifebuoy and Lifebuoy only!"

Watch out! Stuffy rooms, warm clothing make "B.O." (body odor) more noticeable! Bathe regularly with Lifebuoy. It deodorizes the pores. Gives abundant lather in hardest water. Its own clean scent quickly vanishes as you rinse.

Approved by Good Housekeeping Bureau. "It agrees with my skin, say millions."

The grocer who crooned a Lullaby

to a baby left in his store

Her mother "parked" eight weeks old Catherine, napping peacefully in her carriage, in a corner before she began her round of the shelves.

Now she was ready to leave. Across the street a display of millinery beckoned.

Tom Milton volunteered to "keep an eye" on Catherine.

Five minutes later the baby awoke—and voiced a wail of protest. The Safeway man jiggled the carriage. He made funny faces. But the wails mounted in volume.

Resolutely he lifted the pink bundle into his arms and began to softly mumble a lullaby. He kept it up until Catherine's mother returned.

Back once more in her carriage the baby smiled at Tom. "After all," she might have been saying, "it's a gentleman's business to amuse a lady, isn't it?"

This story of a Safeway grocer and the baby he cared for is true. The mother told us about it in a letter. Only the names of this Safeway man and the baby have been changed—to protect their rightful privacy.

YOUR SAFEWAY GROCER welcomes the kind of chance that came to Tom Milton. Such happenings mean new friends for him—and for his store.

He knows that being a good neighbor is just as important as saving his customers money on food (and as important as paying back to the farmer more of each retail food dollar).

You see, your Safeway grocer has tackled a job that the people want done.

That job is to eliminate needless handling charges—to cut down wasteful costs in between farm and market.

Working alone, your Safeway grocer could not get very far with such a job. That's why he has a family to help him—Safeway buyers, warehousemen, truckers and home economists, as well as grocery men.

This team of food experts can save money in food distribution. So your Safeway grocer can sell his foods at lower retail prices.

Thus his customers can afford to buy more. And he can return to the farmer a far bigger share of each food dollar than was possible before the Safeway method was discovered.

Also, he can earn a better income than other men doing similar work... M. L. Bean, Division Manager for Safeway Stores, 239 South East Salmon Street, Portland, Oregon.
