Garden Club Aid To Civic Beauty

Mrs. C. C. Darby, president, was hostess to members of the executive board of the Medford Garden club, at her home Monday afternoon, when plans were formulated for the spring meetings and several important business matters discussed. To be brought before the club meeting February 6, at the Hotel Medford.

Speaking to the club at that time will be C. B. Cordy, county horticulturist, whose subject will be budding and grafting.

An invitation is extended by the club to anyone interested in growing trees, shrubs and vines to attend the meeting.

The club works for civic beauty and is at all times ready and willing to help others in flower garden problems, and feels that beautiful yards help to make a beautiful city, stated the president.

Officers' Club Planning Dance

Members of the local army set, encouraged by the popularity and success of their monthly dances, have announced that the third of these affairs will be an event of February 7, at the Hotel Medford. The dances are arranged and planned by members of the Officers' club who, during the past few months, have become known as among the best hosts in the valley.

Guests of the evening will be all officers, technical agency administrators and technical agency personnel and their civilian friends.

Friends Greet Car Newbuys

A group of old friends and acquaintances of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Newbury, who were house guests yesterday and last night of Mr. and Mrs. Don Newbury honored them with a no-host dinner and dance at the Town club last evening.

The Carl Newburys and their small daughter Nancy left this morning for their home in Minneapolis, Minn., via Klamath Falls. While here they also visited at the Gus Newbury home.

Recent Events

At Normal School

First social event of the new term at the Southern Oregon Normal school was the mixer last Friday evening sponsored by the Jackson County club, under the direction of Errol Miller, president. Decorations were in the school colors of sand and vermilion. A feature of the evening was the prize waltz, won by Miss Billie Brandes and Mark Seeley.

Sunday morning at the Lincoln school, new women students were guests of their Big Sisters at an informal breakfast, planned as a welcome and greeting from the old students.

This Friday evening students will be entertained with a Leap Year dance.

Aldrichs Honor Dannenhower Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Aldrich were hosts Saturday evening in honor of Commander and Mrs. Sloan Dannenhower, who have been house guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Owen since before the Christmas holidays. Twenty-two guests were invited for dinner at the Aldrich home on Valley View drive.

Mrs. Dannenhower is Mrs. Owen's daughter, and the visitors have been much entertained by friends during their stay in the valley.

Change of Place For Class Meeting

Announcement is made that the Missionary Study class of the First Presbyterian church will meet Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. J. Hanby, 485 North Holly street, instead of with Mrs. Earl Turmy as previously announced.

What the Girl Scouts Are Doing

As a fitting climax to the year's work, members of the Roosevelt troop took part in a scout investiture ceremony Monday evening, at which nine girls received their Girl Scout pins, having successfully completed their tenderfoot tests. The program was opened with the scouts standing in horseshoe formation while colors were advanced. The scouts, after repeating their pledge, led by Patricia Dippel, sang "America the Beautiful." The following girls were then presented to their captain for their investment and introduced to the troop: Jo Ann Humphrey, Dixie Davis, Betty Frey, Anne Judy, June Jarmin, Thomasine Swoap, Ruth Stewart, Muriel Pratt and Lois Rusk.

An interesting feature of the program was the investment of Captain Carley and Lieutenant Wood with their scout pins by Miss Vera Humphrey, who commended the leaders on their desire to be Girl Scouts as well as leaders.

Patrol leaders and assistants badges were also presented to the following: Geraldine Bunch, Eagle patrol; Joan Aya, Beaver patrol; Jean Leonard, Cardinal patrol; Anne Judy, Rabbit patrol; Nancy Morrow, Virginia Bradfish, Pat Dippel, Betty Frey, assistants; Jean Leonard, scribe, and Jewel O'Neal, treasurer.

Extra praise was given the Eagle patrol, composed of first class scouts, who had charge of the decorations and entertainment. The scout room was prettily decorated with streamers of green and white, troop colors, with sprays of myrtle and evidence of green candles.

To the mothers present as special guests, home made candy and pop corn were served at the close of the program.

Ducks Counted

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 29.—(AP)—A recent state-wide survey indicated the duck population is around 100,000, W. N. Hush said. Hush, who is regional director of the biological survey, said reports from three-fourths of the state gave the total in that area at 72,510.

include in the report, but not in the bill, an argument by Senator Thomas (D., Okla.), for more and cheaper money to keep up farm prices.

"Smith, an advocate of inflation said: "I rather think this will be included in the report."

Thomas and Louis B. Ward, monetary consultant to father Charles E. Coughlin, urged the committee in secret session to incorporate the quantitative money theory in the report to the senate.

Although Secretary Wallace and Solicitor General Stanley Reed had expressed opinions the bill is constitutional several committeemen still considered it outside the bounds of the supreme court decision invalidating AAA.

The bill vests broad powers in the secretary of agriculture to make grants to farmers for economic use of their lands. It is a temporary two-year measure to serve as a stop-gap until a permanent program is enacted based on federal grants to states.

Burma Missionary Speaks At Baptist Association Meet

Mrs. Richardson returned missionary from Burma gave two very informing addresses at the Rogue River Baptist association meeting yesterday. While her husband was at the head of the theological seminary, training the boys and men to help, she was interested in helping the girls and acted for a school. When the school opened, over 700 boys and 25 girls enrolled. The girls were brought by their brothers, except one, the daughter of a priest who wanted his daughter educated.

In that country, a girl disgraces her family if she is seen on the streets alone, and ruins her own life. The lives of the temple girls are unhappy and short. Some think foreign missions are not needed. According to facts told by Mrs. Richardson, the work is only begun.

J. E. Nichols and Family Surprised At Farewell Party

The J. E. Nichols family was pleasantly surprised by members of St. Peter's Lutheran church with a farewell banquet last Sunday. The banquet was sponsored by the Y. P. S. Sixty-two guests were present. The toastmaster, Rev. Harry H. Young, called upon various guests to furnish entertainment. Frederick Gustafson rendered two baritone solos. A vocal selection was rendered by Mrs. Roland Holmes and Miss Sarah Thiede. Other speakers were: E. C. Tama, W. W. Thiede, Mrs. Marie Ware, Kermit Thiede, George Juener and Mrs. Roland Holmes who expressed regrets at seeing the Nichols family leaving.

The congregation presented the guests of honor with a beautiful crater lake picture as a token of friendship. The banquet was appropriately climaxed by the singing of the song "God Be With You 'Til We Meet Again." The Nichols family is returning to Indianapolis, Ind. They have made warm friends during their two years' residence in Medford and St. Peter's Lutheran church congregation will miss their loyal membership.

SALEM HIGH QUINTEZ TRIMS MCMINNVILLE

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 29.—(AP)—The Salem high basketball team handed McMinnville a 37-to-29 defeat here last night. The capital city five got off to an early led and never was headed. Half-time score was 21 to 15. Blainson, McMinnville forward, was high scorer with 14 points.

GILLETTE GIVEN 2 1-2 YEARS ON LARCENY CHARGE

A letter from a former employer, bespeaking leniency and speaking well of Gillette was presented to the court.

District Attorney George A. Codding opposed the granting of a parole to Gillette.

"The funds embezzled by Gillette were used by the fraternal organization in the payment of sick benefits, and burial expenses of members," the district attorney said. "The lodge now has claims before it. It cannot pay because of the embezzlement. The defendant was bonded, and the lodge has received $1000 from the bonding company. I also understand that new shortages are arising, in further investigation of the books."

The district attorney further stated that Gillette has lived most of his life in this city, and had no previous bad record.

The court informed Gillette that under Oregon law, he would be eligible to apply for a parole.

In passing sentence, the court said: "It is incomprehensible that a young man like you would commit a crime like this. I cannot understand your mental attitude. I always regret sending a young man to the penitentiary, whose record heretofore has been worthy. I am sorry, but in this case, it would be against public policy to extend leniency. The sentence I will pass will be punishment for you, and a warning to others."

No official recommendation for clemency was made by the lodge.

Gillette is well known in this city. His last employment was with the Medford Ice and Storage company, as a refrigerator department engineer. He is the father of two children, in the custody of his divorced wife.

OREGON NORMAL QUINT DEFEATS MOUNT ANGEL

MT. ANGEL, Ore., Jan. 29.—(AP)—The Oregon Normal school Wolves sped ahead of the Mt. Angel college hoop squad in the first half of their game last night, and held the lead for a 44-to-35 win. The Monmouth Teachers led 27 to 11 at the half.

Calro Students Riot

CAIRO, Jan. 29.—(AP)—More than 80 students and five police were injured today during a short-lived riot at Shelta college where police, belabored by rocks, fired on the students. Most of the injuries were minor, and none of the students nor police required hospital treatment.
