

Local and Personal

In Ashland—Ray Wright was among business visitors in Ashland Monday.

Recruiter Away—Ernest M. West, navy recruiting officer, spent today in Grants Pass on business.

Chimney Fire—The chemical crew of the fire department quickly put out a small chimney blaze at 10 o'clock last night at the home of Mabel R. Ray, 1104 West Main street. No damage was done.

Reported Recovering—Miss Leda O'Neill, who recently underwent an operation at the Osteopathic clinic and hospital, is reported as recovering satisfactorily, by hospital attendants.

Finish Inspection—Capt. Harry May, Jr., personnel adjutant, and Lieut. Phil D. Smith, adjutant of the Medford CCC District, were back at headquarters here today following an inspection of camps in eastern Oregon.

Flue Fire—A stiff wind caused a flue fire at the Henry Currier home on West Tenth street just before 10 o'clock this morning. The blaze was put out quickly by the fire department's chemical crew, without damage.

Teachers' Chorus Meet—The Jackson County Teachers' chorus will meet Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the courthouse auditorium for regular rehearsal. It was announced today that Esther Church Leake is director of the chorus.

Sign of Spring—A cluster of blooming oriental pussywillows today gave a touch of spring to the office of Mrs. J. V. Smith, executive assistant of the Rogue River national forest service. Miss Smith picked the blossoms from a tree at her home.

Attend Funeral—Ashland visitors here Monday included R. E. Detrick, O. F. Carson, H. L. Claycomb, C. H. Thomas, J. S. Jordan, William Schuerman, Millard Grubb, Hal McNeil and Earl Newberry, all of whom attended the funeral of J. D. Thompson.

Reunite at Home—Attorney A. E. Resimes was today recuperating at his home, 818 West Tenth street, after receiving treatment at Sacred Heart hospital for a hemorrhage that developed following extraction of a tooth a week ago. He was weakened considerably by loss of blood and for a time was not permitted to receive visitors. His condition improved rapidly after the hemorrhage was stopped, and yesterday afternoon he was allowed to leave the hospital for his home where it was expected he would rest for the remainder of the week.

The Morning After Taking Carter's Little Liver Pills

To Portland—Mrs. D. J. Steiner left on the evening train last night for Portland.

Nutthead Back—W. H. Nutthead, who has been spending the past several days in San Francisco transacting business, returned on the Shasta this morning.

Check Camp Work—Earl L. Jannouch, supervisor, and C. E. Sunderman, recreation foreman of the Rogue River national forest, made an inspection today of the work being done at the Lead Indian Soda Springs by the ERA crew which is improving roads and the public picnic grounds in the area.

Reserve Officers Shoot—Reserve officers of this district are holding practice shoots twice weekly preparatory to entering the state pistol competition which will be conducted by mail. The officers practiced at the Army range last night and another shoot is scheduled for next Tuesday evening at the same place.

Conductor Retires—William Bonebrake, conductor of the Southern Pacific railway for the past 40 years, has announced that he will retire. Although his home is in Roseburg, he is well known in this vicinity. Mr. Bonebrake will make his last trip south as conductor today. He will return tomorrow.

Narregan Returns—E. G. Narregan, United States deputy marshal, was back at his office in Federal building today following a business trip to Roseburg. He reported seeing the wreck of an orange truck that went off the highway near Canyonville. Passing motorists he said, stepped to help themselves to the fruit which was strewn about the roadside.

To Convention—Mr. and Mrs. W. Howard left by train last evening for Portland where Dr. Howard, president of the Oregon State Osteopathic association, will preside over the mid-winter convention of that organization. Mrs. Howard, vice-president of the women's auxiliary of the association, will attend the convention sessions. Dr. Howard will complete arrangements for the annual state convention of the organization to be held in Medford in June.

Guard Unit Full—Company A, 186th infantry, has attained its full active strength of 60 men. Capt. Carl Y. Tengwall, commander, announced today. Fifty-nine members attended the weekly drill at the Army last night. Company officers, Capt. Tengwall said, are continuing to receive applications for membership in order to build up a waiting list so that vacancies that might arise can be filled quickly. Anyone wishing to join the organization may register with Capt. Tengwall at 125 West Main street, or with Sgt. George F. Lindley at the Army.

Elks Are Checked—Hugh Ritter, district ranger of the Rogue River national forest, was back at his office here today after checking complaints that elks were devouring the haystacks on farms around Crystal. He reported traveling many miles on skis without seeing an elk, though tracks indicated the presence of about 50 in the area. The animals were able to travel fast and keep out of sight because there were only two feet of snow on the ground in the locality, he said. State police informed Ritter that 15 or 16 elks had crossed the divide to winter at the head of the south fork of Rogue river.

Visit Here—Mrs. Don Spencer and daughter Alice of Ashland visited friends here Monday.

Rosenbaum Aways—A. S. Rosenbaum, district passenger and freight agent of the Southern Pacific, left on the morning train today for a brief business visit to Roseburg.

Mrs. Gaddis South—Mrs. Earl Gaddis left for Sacramento by plane yesterday afternoon in response to a message stating that her sister, Mrs. H. D. Howard, was critically ill following an operation at the Sutter hospital in that city.

Bonney Leaves—S. A. Bonney, representative of the United Auto-graphic Register company with headquarters here, left by train today on a business trip to Klamath Falls. Mr. Bonney recently returned from Seattle where the company presented him with a parchment testimonial for attaining the nest 1935 sales record in the northwest district.

Hold Consultation—Dr. Richard P. Dillehunt, orthopedic specialist of Portland, held a consultation at Community hospital last night with Dr. B. C. Wilson over the condition of Miss Mildred Carlson, who has been confined to the hospital for some time. Dr. Dillehunt found that Miss Carlson was showing slow but progressive improvement, expressing satisfaction with her recovery thus far.

Fire in Ashland—Fire partially destroyed the residence of W. H. Wanner, 224 Central street in Ashland, at 10 o'clock this morning. The roof and upper floor of the six-room house were considerably damaged and the lower floor suffered from water used by the firemen. Neighbors removed most of the furniture undamaged. Origin of the blaze was undetermined. The loss was fully covered by insurance.

Banquet Announced—A World Call banquet will be held Friday evening at 8:30 in the recreational hall of the First Christian church, to which all board members Sunday school officers and teachers and members of the Adult Missionary society and their husbands and wives are invited. Those attending are requested to bring a covered dish and one other article of food. A good program is assured. The meeting is to acquaint people better with the brotherhood magazine, "World Call."

Guard Unit Full—Company A, 186th infantry, has attained its full active strength of 60 men. Capt. Carl Y. Tengwall, commander, announced today. Fifty-nine members attended the weekly drill at the Army last night. Company officers, Capt. Tengwall said, are continuing to receive applications for membership in order to build up a waiting list so that vacancies that might arise can be filled quickly. Anyone wishing to join the organization may register with Capt. Tengwall at 125 West Main street, or with Sgt. George F. Lindley at the Army.

James Cagney in "Frisco Kid" Lead

"Frisco Kid," dramatic pictorialization of the thrilling pioneer days of old San Francisco when the Barbary Coast seethed with activity and life within its borders was the wildest adventure, opens its local run tomorrow at the Craterian theater.

The all star cast is headed by James Cagney, who is supported by Margaret Lindsay, Ricardo Cortez and Lili Damita, more than forty persons in the principal roles and thousands in the gigantic mob scenes.

The story centers about the terrific conflict between the denizens of the waterfront and the better class of citizens at a time when there was no effective law except that of the vigilantes.

Barbary Coast, at the time, swarmed with every sort of adventurer, including miners going or returning from the gold fields, tuck-of-leave and fugitive criminals from the penal colonies of Australia, gamblers, dive keepers and women of the underworld from every part of the country.

Murder, arson, crimping, white slavery and every other known vice flourished openly in the shadow of the law whose officers waxed rich from the spoils of their underworld benches. It was under these conditions that the famed vigilantes were organized to hang murderers, miscreants and burn dives that got out of hand.

These flaming events constitute the stirring action of the picture, and it is in this setting that there blossoms a most unusual romance, that of a leader of the city's desperadoes and a beautiful girl, tenderly reared in the luxury and refinement of the highest society.

In Rialto Role

Song, dance, romance and fun rule supreme in the super-charged musical-comedy farce "To Beat the Band," opening at the Rialto theater today where it will also play Thursday.

Hugh Herbert and Helen Broderick have the leading roles. According to advance reports Hugh was never more perfectly cast than as the fuddy-duddy who falls heir to a vast amount of money but cannot get it unless he fulfills a most unusual provision in his benefactor's will. Miss Broderick, fresh from her triumphs in "Top Hat," finds herself grandly at home as the super-cheating female lawyer, Eric Blure, also of "Top Hat" fame, as usual is cast in a way that enables him to cajole many chuckles. Roger Pryor and Phyllis Brooks take the love interest while Joy Hodges, whom you are all familiar with over the radio, is reported to take your heart away with her song.
