PRESIDENT OF EAGLES SPEAKS HERE FEB. 4TH

Former State Senator George Nordlin of St. Paul, Minnesota, national president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, will speak in Medford Feb. 4 at a meeting which will be attended by hundreds of Eagles from this part of the state. The local aerie is in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Nordlin will be met by a committee of which Harry Moore is chairman.

SALEM, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Frank C. McCulloch, public utilities commissioner, will conduct a hearing at Baker Saturday on the application of the Eastern Oregon Light & Power Co. to discontinue its gas service at Baker at the end of three years.

3000 REFER CARS WILL BE ADDED BY SOUTHERN PACIFIC

PORTLAND.—(Spl.)—Plans for the immediate purchase of 3000 new refrigerator cars at a cost of more than $10,000,000 for the Pacific Fruit Express company, jointly owned by the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific, were announced today by A. D. McDonald, president of the Southern Pacific company.

Representing the latest scientific achievements of designers and builders, the new cars will embody important improvements in refrigerator car construction, it was stated. They will go into service in 1936 on the lines of both owner railroads as well as on the Western Pacific, which uses Pacific Fruit Express cars under contract.

The new equipment will effect an improvement in the handling of western perishable shipments and will assure an adequate refrigerator car supply to meet all emergencies This, McDonald noted, is of first importance to far western growers and shippers, who are more dependent upon efficient railroad service to distant markets than those of any other region.

In connection with the forthcoming purchase of new cars, H. Fieldings, vice-president and general manager of the Pacific Fruit Express, points out that his company operates the world's largest refrigerator car service, starting with an initial supply of 3,000 refrigeratoh cars in 1907, the Pacific Fruit Express now has about 46,000 cars.

KLAMATH CONSIDERS HEALTH WORK CHANGE

KLAMATH FALLS Jan. 29.—(AP)—The city council today had under consideration a unified health system for Klamath county. Under the plan advanced by Dr. Frederick Stricker, state health officer, both the city and county would participate in establishing the unit. Each would contribute to its support.

The county court has given its approval.

The present plan calls for separate health offices maintained independently by Klamath Falls and Klamath county.

HOOD RIVER CO-OP TO BALLOT ON EXPANSION

HOOD RIVER, Ore. Jan. 29.—(AP)—The Hood River Fruit association, a closed corporation with 25 members, will vote tomorrow on permitting a membership increase to 40.

The association formed a year ago, limited its cooperative efforts to purchase of supplies Plans for next year call for an allocation of a 50 percent portion of the tonnage of each member for inclusion in pooled sales

Rosicrucians See New Money Basis and Real Estate Boom

Gold, the traditional medium of exchange, will begin its final bow in 1936, giving way to a predecessor that will be decided upon by the major nations of the world. This, declares James Moore of 524 Beasie street, member of the Rosicrucian order, AMORC, is one of a series of prognostications contained in the annual booklet of predictions issued by the Grand Lodge of the philosophic order in San Jose, California.

He states that the declarations of the booklet are not based upon any system of divination, but upon cyclical charts and diagrams showing human and economic tendencies.

The departure from gold, the brochure relates, will be caused by the steady flow of gold shipments to a few large creditor nations, giving them a complete monopoly of the world's supply, and resulting in a decision of the debtor nations to prevent their financial ruination by establishing a new fundamental standard of value and exchange based upon a commodity for which there has not been so great a demand.

For a considerable length of time following the change there will be a clamor on the part of the public of the creditor nations for a return to gold.

Other predictions for 1936, states Mr. Moore, are that real estate will take a great boom in the U. S. A., England and Canada, as more of the "working and saving class" will develop the idea that the best investment is in land—not paper; and final, that war will come throughout the Far East before 1936 goes to rest.

Townsend Plan "Is Cockeyed;" John Nealon Replies to Crews

To the Editor:

If space permits we would like to question Mr. Crews a little on his criticism of Mr Republican. His statement. "The evidence is conclusive that a 2 percent sales tax, with business stimulated by the expenditure of the money as it is received will be amply sufficient to pay the proposed annuity."

We would like to ask the gentleman what evidence and what annuities? We are not necessarily going to dispute this evidence, for we haven't seen any evidence yet. But we presume Mr Crews refers to the $200 per month he mentions at different times in the letter.

We enjoy viewing the grandeur and beauty of a mountain as well as anyone else, but if we are contemplating a trip to its base, or summit, we had better say in this case, we would want to know something about the road leading there

Mr Crews criticizes Mr. Republican for being vague, but nowhere has he or any other Townsendite we have ever met given any concrete figures to show that the 2 percent transaction tax will raise his twenty-four billion dollars a year

We would like to call Mr. Crews' attention to the amount of money a 2½ percent tax raises in California. We will take California because it is close, and also because California has one of the highest incomes in the Union.

The last figures released by the officials of California showed that the sales tax was bringing in four million dollars a month which is really a lot of money, especially if you haven't got it.

But we find by Uncle Sam's census report of 1930 which we believe should be fairly accurate, that there were 600,000 people in California 60 years of age and over.

If our arithmetic isn't all out of line, this four million dollars per month would give just $6.65 per month for each of these 600,000 people.

If anyone would care to follow this out they will find that the state of Illinois, on a 2 percent tax would yield less than $5 per capita. But we started out with California and we will stay with it.

The chief argument with the Townsendites is the great stimulation of business. Some say the turnover will be stepped up one-third, others 50 percent. We will be optimistic, too, and say it doubles That should give us $13.30 per month

They also say that a transaction tax will yield a great deal more than the present sales taxes as there will be no exceptions We will be liberal again and say the present tax is only yielding one-half of what a transaction tax would yield that would double our $13.30 and give us $26.60 Now we would like to ask Mr. Crews just where he is going to get the other $173.40

We wonder if Mr Crews realizes that for each person of 60 years of age or over in the United States, there are only four people capable of earning an income and that, according to the United States census figures for 1930, the average income of these four persons was only $1,000 per year or a total income of $4,000 per year. Yet, Mr. Crews would seem to expect these four persons with their $4,000 per year income to shoulder a load of $2,400 per year or a little over one-half of their total income.

As water can rise no higher than its source, we believe it just as evident that people can spend no more money than they are receiving, and if these four earning people who are going to have to carry this load are only earning $4,000 per year, how are they going to raise $2,400 on a 2 percent sales tax?

As we don't wish to be misunderstood in this matter, we will say that if the Lord is willing we are going to the polls next Friday and vote for the sales tax, for we are neither opposed to sales taxes or pensions without reason, but we will be frank in saying that we consider this $200 per month idea one of the most cockeyed we have ever heard.

If Mr. Crews and his colleagues would raise their age limit to 65 years and their tax levy to about 3½ percent and lower their sights on their pension to about $30 per month, we might be able to see some practical side to their argument at least.

JOHN L. NEALON.

SCIENCE BLIND SPOT REDUCED HALF WITH INCREASE IN X-RAYS

URBANA, Ill., Jan. 29.—(AP)—The blind spot that has long existed between two of the eyes of science—the microscope and the X-ray—was cut in half today by experiments at the University of Illinois.

The work was done in the X-ray laboratories of Dr. G. L. Clark.

Before Dr. Clark's experiments, research students could carry their studies down to one-ten-thousandth of a millimeter (a millimeter is about four-hundredths of an inch) with microscopes.

From there on they could see nothing until they reached the top range of the X-rays, at one-one-millionth of a millimeter.

Dr. Clark cut down the blind spot more than half by increasing the range of the X-rays upward to four-one-hundred-thousandths of a millimeter.

The record X-ray range was attained during experiments with a collagen, a connective tissue taken from the Achilles heel tendon of the foot.

The unusual results, described by Dr. Clark as "definite and reproducible," were obtained by improved methods of X-ray diffraction, one of which employed a vacuum camera in a magnetic field "to deflect scattered electrons which form diffraction films."

ROGUE RIVER TO SECURE PUBLICITY

PORTLAND.—(Spl.)—The state office of the American Guide plans include in the Oregon section considerable data on Rogue river, giving something of its name, historical associations, its navigability, and its industrial importance. Special reference will be made to Rogue river recreational possibilities, the beauty of its scenery, the thrill of shooting its rapids, angling, and the prominent personalities identified with it. Southern Oregon orchards and gardens dependent upon the river will be given space, the romantic and economic aspect of mining, and no item of interest neglected.

PLAN NEW ROOF ON CHAUTAUQUA

ASHLAND, Jan. 29.—(Spl.) A WPA project for the construction of a roof over the stage in the Chautauqua building may be applied for by the city, according to City Superintendent Elmer Biegel.

An application has been drawn up and will be considered by the city council at its next meeting. The job calls for expenditure of $460.90 by city for materials and supplies, with $847 of federal funds needed for labor.

If approved by the WPA, the project would provide protection for the stage built last summer on which Angus L. Bowmer, director of dramatics at Southern Oregon Normal school, presented three Shakespearean performances during the Fourth of July celebration.

The old roof was condemned and removed three years ago.

RECOMMEND FUND FOR O AND C LAND SURVEY IN INTERIOR MEASURE

WASHINGTON Jan. 29.—(AP)—An appropriation of $1,698,700 for activities of the general land office in the 1937 fiscal year was recommended to the house today in the interior department appropriation bill.

The figure was $112,000 less than the 1936 appropriation, $100,000 of which represents a reduction in the fund for surviving public lands.
