Lobell originated the idea of raising rabbits at detachment headquarters, fair grounds, as a CCG enterprise. Two of the CCG rabbits were entered in the Ashland show and each won a first prize. Richard Fry, mess steward, replaces Lobell as director of the rabbit project.

OREGON BOURBONS TO HONOR WOMAN LEADER ON VISIT

When Miss Mary Dewson, leading feminine power in the Democratic party in the nation, comes to Portland tomorrow for a two-day rally with Oregon Democrats, entertainments in her honor will be in charge of Mrs. Edward C. Kelly (Mary Greiner Kelly), who has been named chairman of the visiting committee.

A special invitation to Jackson county Democrats has been extended by Mrs. Kelly, who is anxious that a number take advantage of the opportunity to meet one of the most influential women in the United States today.

Monday the county leaders of the party will meet in the morning. A luncheon for Democrats will be held at noon and an open forum in the afternoon. A barbecue in the evening will close the first day. Tuesday a rally of the Young Democratic league of the state, and all young Bourbons of Oregon are urged to be present. A highlight of the evening's program will be presentation of a play written by Mrs. Kelly, which will tell the story of the New Deal. The play will also be presented before the meeting of the precinct committees.

Any local people planning to be in Portland, the first of the week are invited to get in touch with Mrs. Kelly or other Democratic leaders and attend the sessions. Feminine New Dealers are particularly urged to be in the Rose City.

Monday the county leaders of the party will meet in the morning. A luncheon for Democrats will be held at noon and an open forum in the afternoon. A barbecue in the evening will close the first day. Tuesday a rally of the Young Democratic league of the state, and all young Bourbons of Oregon are urged to be present.

DEPOSIT OF MARL FOUND NEAR HERE

According to C. J. Haas a large body of marl has been discovered on his ranch, eleven miles north of Medford in the upper Table Rock district. Two outcroppings at "Rattlesnake" on Rogue river and in two places on Constance creek.

In drilling a well on the Haas ranch, the substance was struck at 38 feet, it is said, and although the drilling has been continued to 122 feet the deposit still obtains. Mr. Haas declared he had sent samples to several places for analysis and if reports are up to expectations he may organize a company to place the marl on the market.

Marl is an earthy crumbling deposit consisting chiefly of clay mixed with calcium carbonate in varying proportions. It is used for fertilizing soils deficient in lime.

REMOVE BODY OF RAINIER VICTIM

LONGMIRE IN RAINIER NATIONAL PARK, Wash., Feb. 1.—(AP)—A radio report from the White river entrance to the park said a party of mountaineers arrived there tonight with the body of Delmar Padden.

The party stopped to rest and eat there before continuing toward the open highway where a funeral carriage was ready to meet them and take the body to Seattle where Padden's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Padden waited.

Late in the afternoon, the party left Seattle, Glacier basin, where a fresh relay of mountaineers had taken over the body from the men who recovered it.

One Dalber, Seattle mountain climber who discovered the body from the air and guided the searchers to it about yesterday, pressed on ahead to the White river entrance. He said he believed Padden froze to death after a fall down the precipitous snow capping the 14,600-foot cone.

PAINTERS, DEALERS WILL BE BANQUETTED

Over 70 painters, painting contractors and paint dealers in the Rogue River valley will be banquetted tomorrow night at the National Lead company at the Hotel Medford. The banquet, which starts at 8:30 o'clock, is an annual affair to promote good will between the lead company and the painters of the valley.

R. C. Cook, salesman for this city, will be chairman of the meeting, with W. Herman of Seattle and Floyd Irvin of San Francisco speaking on the program. B. L. Deaton of Portland, manager of the National Lead company in this territory, is also on the program.

HENRY A. PORTER TAKEN BY DEATH

Henry Albert Porter passed away at a local hospital Saturday morning after two months' illness of heart trouble. Mr. Porter was born at Seneca, Newton county, Missouri, June 23, 1878. The family has resided in Medford for the past 24 years. He was a familiar figure about Medford where he followed the occupation of gardener and caretaker of lawns and shrubbery. He was a member of the Baptist church.

Funeral services for Mrs. Howard were held Thursday at Mission Chapel in Sacramento, with the Rev. W. F. Ehmman, of Butteville, Presbyter. services officiating and she was tenderly laid to rest in beautiful East Lawn Cemetery in Sacramento.

MRS. LULU SPATZ PASSES SUDDENLY

Lulu E. Spatz passed away in the Ge Bauer Apartments early Saturday morning after a very brief illness from a heart attack. She was born at Prairie du Chien, Wisconsin, July 18, 1869, and was the widow of the late Dr. Joseph E. Spatz.

Lulu E. Sherwood was married to Dr. Joseph E. Spatz in 1877 at Fairfield, Nebraska.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aden D. Sherwood, were early settlers in Nebraska, coming to that state when she was one year old, long before the Burlington railroad was built.

Mrs. Spatz was prominently associated in club, church, art and music circles in Nebraska, also a member of the Christian church and Reunion chapter of the Order of Eastern Star. The family came to Medford from Nebraska twelve years ago and Dr. Spatz at the time of his death was extensively engaged in the orchard business in which the family has been interested since 1908.

She leaves two sons—Ward B. and Maurice S. of Medford, and one brother, Norman H. Sherwood of Toledo, Oregon.

The remains will lie in state at the Perl Funeral home, Sunday, from 12 to 4 p. m., after which they will be forwarded to Portland, where services and cremation will be held Monday at 2:30 p. m., conducted by the minister of the Christian church.

The sons and brother will accompany the remains to Portland.

RETIRED OFFICER OF NAVY SPEAKS HERE ON TUESDAY

Lieutenant Commander Stewart F. Bryant, U. S. N., retired, outstanding lecturer and writer on international problems will give three talks in Medford next Tuesday, at the high school at 10 a. m., the Rotary club at noon and the Presbyterian church at 8:15 p. m. His visit is sponsored by the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs.

The naval officer is a brilliant and witty speaker whose keen analysis of the international situation is so clear and lucid that all who hear him are impressed. His observations are based on a most interesting career and experience dating from his graduation from Annapolis in 1913. He was commander of the presidential yacht Mayflower during Wilson's administration, did some relief work in Turkey, attended the peace and disarmament conference as a naval adviser and has traveled in practically every country in the world and served in official capacities in many.

Since retirement he has done further graduate work at Stanford, has contributed articles on international problems to current magazines and met heavy demands as a speaker.

YOUNG BOURBONS SLATE ELECTION MONDAY EVENING

A meeting of the Young Democrats club of Jackson county, together with all young democrats interested in the club, has been called for Monday night, to elect officers for the coming year. Young Democrats club membership is open to persons between the ages of 18 and 35, but persons of all ages are urged to attend the meeting.

The Jackson county club was active during the last presidential campaign, but has been rather inactive for the past 2 years. Leonard Hall, vice-president, and Mary Greiner Kelly, secretary-treasurer, have both moved away, and Moore Hamilton, president, is ineligible to serve again as president. Under by-laws of the organization, a president can serve but one term.

The name of Jack Murray has been advanced as president of the group. Dr. Joseph E. Spatz is secretary-treasurer. Marshall has been active as secretary of numerous organizations, and is known to be efficient. Murray is well known among the younger groups, is a democrat, and is interested in the work.

Joe Winkler, of Ashland, has been mentioned as one of the vice-presidents. It is customary, in county Young Democrats clubs, to name vice-presidents from cities other than the one of the president. Winkler is an engineer, active, and enthusiastic.

Nominations will be made from the floor, however, and the nominations are open.

The meeting will be held in the hall above the Marshall-Smith-Leonard Printing company. Joe Marshall, prominent democrat, has turned the hall over to the Young Democrats for Monday nights. The meeting will be called to order at 8:30 o'clock.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSES IN BI-MONTHLY MEET

Public health nurses and social workers of Klamath, Josephine and Jackson counties met yesterday in the second bi-monthly session of a sociology extension course conducted by Dr. Robert Martin, of the University of Oregon, as part of a state-wide program of improved methods and knowledge being conducted for health and social workers throughout Oregon.

Following the class session in the morning the afternoon was given over to separate staff conferences, the nurses meeting with Olive Whitlock, of the state board of health in Portland, and the social workers being directed by Miss Marion Bowen, assistant director of social service for Oregon, from the state relief office in Portland.

Next meeting will be held in Medford in April.

MILL OWNER'S BODY FOUND IN WILLAMETTE

OREGON CITY, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The body of William Johnson, 52, dairy owner of the Milwaukee shingle mill, was found in the Willamette river near Milwaukee yesterday. Johnson had been missing since December 26. He is believed to have stumbled as he walked along the river toward his home the night of December 28.

STEADMAN GIVEN DRAMATIC LEAD

Bob Steadman, thespian of note at the Southern Oregon Normal school has been awarded the leading role in Eugene O'Neill's "Emperor Jones" to be presented soon by Angus L. Bowmer, head of the dramatic department at the school.

The well-known and highly dramatic story of the Harlem negro who made himself emperor of a group of what he believed his inferior race, disclosed between the lines, the pathos of a youthful heart that had suffered for more than a year over a wrong that ordinarily would be dismissed by the boy's elders as a juvenile prank.

Director Bowmer has done a great deal of experimenting in make-up for the production, and believes that several weeks of study on the problem will be well repaid by results. Rehearsals have been under way for some time, both actors and director making every effort to produce a smooth and competent performance.

YOUTH PAYS DEBT OF JUBILEE GYP; HONESTY LAUDED

The basic honesty of American youth was demonstrated again yesterday in a letter received by the Jackson County chamber of commerce. The note, written by a Medford boy whose name was not revealed, disclosed between the lines, the pathos of a youthful heart that had suffered for more than a year over a wrong that ordinarily would be dismissed by the boy's elders as a juvenile prank.

And it was established once again that honesty is the best policy, as will presently be seen. First the letter with its original spelling, it said: "During the Diamond Jubilee I, with some other boys, sneaked in to the Pagent and Rodeo without paying the admission fee. I am trying to straighten up my bad tracks so am mailing you two dollars to straighten up this matter."

The two dollars were enclosed for the features of the jubilee which was held here in June, 1934.

When Ben E. Hagedorn, president of the chamber of commerce, was informed of the incident, he said: "For his honesty, the boy will get his two dollars back. We cannot let such honesty go unrewarded. I admire that youngster. His determination to make amends for his error of judgment gives support to my faith in the

EAGLE PRESIDENT COMING TUESDAY

George Nordlin, grand worthy president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, will be the main speaker at a meeting of southern Oregon aeries to be held here Tuesday, February 4. It was announced yesterday by Harry Moore, committee chairman of the local lodge.

Preceding the business meeting, which will be held at the Knights of Pythias hall, commencing at 8, a dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Nordlin will be held at Valentine's cafe at 6 p. m., and those who can attend are urged to immediately notify the secretary of the local lodge, O. H. Bengtson, 126 E. Main.

The big initiation of members in President Nordlin's honor, will commence promptly at 8, and members with new candidates are asked to be at the Knights of Pythias hall at 7:30 p. m.

Following the business meeting, an informal dance will be held. The ladies' auxiliary of the local lodge plans to hold open house in the Eagles hall Tuesday afternoon, in order to permit members to meet Mrs. Nordlin.
