Mrs. W. T. Berry, program chairman, presented several members in short talks on narcotics and medical temperance, explaining the progress made in legislation to limit the manufacture and regulate the sale of narcotic drugs. The effects of the use of drugs were also discussed, bringing out the following facts: (1) Every third prisoner in American penitentiaries was put there by drugs. (2) Over 500 dope peddlers are convicted every year in American courts. (3) In 90 per cent of the cases a permanent cure is impossible. (4) Majority of addicts are young men between the ages of 20 and 30 years.
Two fine musical numbers were much enjoyed. "Admiration," by Patricia Short, clarinet, and Doris Lee Anderson, piano, and "Scottish Tone Pictures," a piano solo by Doris Lee.

Board Member Is Guest Speaker at Friday Luncheon

Of major importance in church circles of this city the past week was the luncheon in honor of Miss Ellanore Ewing, field secretary for the Home Mission board at the First Presbyterian church Friday afternoon. A large group of members and friends of the local missionary society greeted Miss Ewing and members from the Ashland, Phoenix and Jacksonville societies who were guests of the occasion.
The program included group singing, two vocal selections by Elsie Carlton Strang, accompanied by Eva Hazelrigg Marsh, and the introduction of Presbyterial officers and officers of various societies represented. Mrs. Beach of Jacksonville, led the devotions, after which Miss Ewing was presented by the program chairman, Mrs. W. F. Brown.
Miss Ewing's address was a message of goodwill and fellowship among Christian people and she presented a vivid picture of her work among the different races and classes with which she comes in contact.
She also spoke on stewardship, the need of funds for the work being carried on, the influence of which is far-reaching, especially among the young people, inspiring them to live better and purer lives, stated the speaker.
Miss Ewing declared that Christian people face a great task and that though individual efforts may seem trivial and donations small, collectively they make it possible for the gospel to reach many people who would otherwise be denied it and through these efforts the world may have less crime and be a better place in which to live.

local chapter of the D. A. R. introduced the plan in the high school last week. In accordance with this plan the students acted as a nominating body, nominating only senior girls. The three girls who placed highest in the vote were Mildred Buckles, Carol Scheffel and Florence Ringo. The faculty then voted to select one of these three as a representative of Medford high school.
There are twenty-eight chapters of D. A. R. in this state and there will be one candidate from each city where these chapters are located. The candidates' names will be sent to C. A. Howard, state superintendent of public instruction and final selection of the winner will be made by lot under supervision of Mr. Howard and a committee of D. A. R. members. The girl whose name is selected in this way will represent Oregon at the National D. A. R. congress in Washington, D. C.
The winner will be announced February 22, and will leave April 19, arriving in Washington, April 17. Four days will be spent in the city attending the D. A. R. congress and visiting points of interest. During the entire trip the girls will be accompanied by members of the D. A. R. who are going to the congress from their respective states.
Miss Buckles has been very active all during her high school career. She was secretary of the sophomore class and during the same year she had complete charge of the Girls' League caddy counter. As a junior she served as Girls' League treasurer and during the present year she is very capable, filling the office of Girls' League student council. She is a member of a student council and commercial club and has served on numerous committees as well as both the Hi-Thimes and Crater staffs.

NAVY BILL WITH RECORD HIGH FOR DEFENSE ON WAY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—A naval appropriation bill that will rocket expenditures for national defense to a new peace-time peak will start its trip through congress Monday.
Chairman Cary (D., Ky.) today summoned the house naval appropriations sub-committee to start hearings on a $549,591,229 measure—$97,639,920 more than the last naval fund.
Combined with $345,226,518 in the war department appropriation bill that skimmed through the house yesterday, the new legislation would boost army and navy spending close to the $1,100,000,000 mark for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.
Of the army's total, however, $168,389,985 was ear-marked for river and harbor improvements and other non-military activities.
Cary said the navy bill, as it now stands, would provide $25,000,000 for 333 new airplanes and $13,950,369 for laying down 13 destroyers and six submarines. The total new appropriation for ship construction would be $182,500,000.
Asserting that Henry L. Roosevelt, acting navy secretary, would be the first witness, the Kentuckian said he hoped to "report the bill out in three weeks."
