

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

At Hiatt Prairie—Harold Wall and Fred Schmidt spent yesterday in skinning over the Hiatt prairie country.

Johnson North—The Rev. Adolph Johnson left yesterday morning for Portland where he will transact business for the next few days.

Spend Week-End Here—Douglas Roach, stockkeeper at Crater lake national park, and Mrs. Roach returned to the park today after spending the week-end in Medford.

Head From Salem—R. H. Southwick, road foreman from Camp Crabbwick near Salem, visited with his family here over the week-end. He was accompanied by L. F. Charamut, assistant leader.

To Crater Lake—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Olem of Talent, Carlisle Crouch, chief ranger, and Miss Jean Steel, United States commissioner for the Crater lake national park, spent yesterday at the mountain resort.

Called By Illness—Mrs. L. Collins Caley of Seattle arrived by plane last night, called here by the serious illness of her daughter, Mrs. Bayard Getchell, who is confined to Community hospital with pneumonia.

Madrigal Club Meets—Madrigal club will meet tomorrow evening at the Girls' Community clubhouse at 7:45. All members are urged to be present to hear what is described as a particularly interesting announcement.

To Conference—Capt. William C. Ryan, district welfare officer, and Eugene P. Golden, district educational coordinator, left today to attend a two-day CCC zone educational conference at Camp Klamath.

Ski At Crater—Thirty-eight craters and 121 persons registered at Crater lake national park yesterday. Most of the visitors spent the day in skiing about the lake.

Missionary Meeting—A missionary circle society of the First Christian church will hold its monthly executive meeting at the home of Mrs. P. C. Latham tomorrow evening at 7:45. Grace Hermanson's division will have charge of the next meeting.

Here Today—Stopping in Medford today were Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Pritchett, en route from their home in Portland to San Francisco, where they will vacation for several days. Mr. Pritchett is associated with the Southern Pacific railway and has many business acquaintances in this city.

Quits CCC Service—Victor E. Sparks, educational adviser of Camp Sitkum, has resigned from the CCC service, effective February 20, to accept outside employment. He is now on leave of absence which he is spending at his home in Corvallis. Prior to going to Sitkum he served at Camp South Fork.

Inspecting Equipment—Carl H. Deffenbaugh, staff engineer at the regional forestry office in Portland, arrived here today to inspect tractors and other heavy equipment of the Rogue river national forest service at the Medford warehouse and the South Fork and Applegate CCC camps. He will be here several days.

More Workers Hired—The Rogue river national forest yesterday increased by 20 the ERA crew at Dead Indian Soda Springs, bringing the total to 65 workers. The men are engaged in improving the camp ground, erecting new buildings and constructing a bridge.

No Concert—The Portland symphony orchestra will be unable to give a concert in Medford this year because it was not successful in procuring a satisfactory booking in Oregon. It was stated in a letter received by the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce today from Mrs. M. Donald Spencer, manager. Mrs. Spencer expressed her appreciation of this city's interest in the orchestra and hoped a concert could be arranged next season.

Tax Returns—Tomorrow and Wednesday will be the last days until February 29 that Eric Gray, deputy collector, will be at his office in the postoffice building here to assist taxpayers in preparing their 1935 federal income tax returns. Mr. Gray will be in Ashland February 27 and 28 and in Medford February 29 and 30.

Vocational Aid—Men at Camp Oregon Cases are being given vocational tests to determine the kind of work they are best qualified to follow after leaving the CCC organization. The examinations were prepared by A. L. Mallory, adviser, who has had wide experience as a vocational counselor. Mr. Mallory uses his own method of rating addition to standard mental ability tests and personality analyses. When the results have been coordinated and interpreted, he talks over the vocational problem with each individual CCC enrollee.

SOUTHERN OREGON JUNIOR SYMPHONY IS FORMED HERE

After several months of planning and organization, formation of a junior symphony orchestra whose membership extends over southern Oregon, has been completed. Rehearsals have been in progress for the past month every Sunday afternoon at the Knights of Pythias hall, use of which for a practice room has been donated by that organization.

Sponsorship of the orchestra has been definitely assured, and will be announced after a business meeting scheduled for this evening. The orchestra is under the direction of John R. Knight, and is to be a non-profit organization, the sole motive in forming it being to bring a fine musical organization to Medford and young people, and to give young musicians an opportunity to exercise their talents, according to Mr. Knight.

The orchestra now has a membership of fifty, with complete symphonic instrumentation. Most of the members are young persons, although a few more accomplished musicians are now playing in order that complete instrumentation be possible.

Mr. Knight stated that in view of the fact that no civic musical organization exists for young artists in this section of the state, it is hoped that a fine opportunity for music education will in this way be presented to young people. The orchestra will play only classical music, and while many of those participating have had little experience, Mr. Knight feels that constant progress will be made toward a really fine organization.

The orchestra is now rehearsing for its first concert, to be held about March 15 in the high school auditorium, for which there will be no admission charge. The high school glee clubs will assist the orchestra in programs.

After this first concert, membership in the orchestra will be open to any reasonably competent musician with an understanding of music, until membership reaches seventy-five. Friday night the members will meet for election of officers and regular organization of the orchestra.

Personnel of the orchestra is as follows: First violin: Marcella Van Dyke, concertmaster; Alice Brill, Marcella Fry, John Baird, Billie Baird, Leaelis Williams, Donald Horner, Wilson Church, Virginia Hammond, Lois Firestone, Genevieve Croissant, Jimmy Cooley, Mrs. L. R. Thomas, Verly Thomas, Bonney Jones, Ruth Hedger.

Second violin: Mayne Durke, leader; Viola Clevin, Bruce Wilson, Nancy Firestone, Doris Opp, Tommy Dunnington, Nevin Cope, Ray Calvert, Beth Talbot, Beverly Brooks, Neville Gibson, Clarence Hansen, Louise Osengrube, Norma Piele.

Viola: John Raff, Gerald Murphy, cello: Capt. F. H. Ganlett, Chester Woods, Mrs. J. R. Knight; bass string: Robert Cook; first clarinet, Tom Harvey; second clarinet, Stanley Jones, Jr.; bassoon, Alice Coggins; flute, Lois Fraser, W. T. Bolger; first horn, Billie Wilson.

Second horn: Paul Godward; first trumpet, Paul Hughes; second trumpet, Ted Marshall; trombone, Bob Wilson, timpany, Bob Morris; piano, Chloe Ellenburg.

Wouldn't Talk

Coryell told Severna Morris and Laigo "wouldn't even talk to me" when he called to try to work out a settlement of the case before the trial.

He said he asked his own attorney, Atwood A. Kirby, to leave Morris' office, saying "I would like to make these men a proposition in your absence."

Esterman, who was seated between Morris and Laigo, said Coryell then whipped out his pistol and began firing as soon as Kirby returned to his own office. The bullets missed Esterman and he ran from the room to the nearby office of a physician. When he returned Coryell had gone.

Wall St. Report

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The stock market was quiet today in a wrong guess on the TVA decision and watched gains of 1 to 3 points crash to losses of fractions to more than a point as a partial rebound eased the decline.

Utilities bore the brunt of both the upward and downward swings, but other sections of the market responded similarly. The close was heavy. Transactions approximated 4,900,000 shares.

Traders, over-anxious to buy, jumped the gun before the chief justice finished reading the ruling and forced prices 1 to 3 points higher before the full text was known.

The turn came gradually but gained momentum for the final rush which sent shares from 1 to 2 points lower than the previous close.

Today's closing prices for 32 selected stocks follow:

Table with 2 columns: Stock Name and Price. Includes Am. Chem. & Dye, Am. T. & F., Anaconda, A. T. & G., Beth Steel, California Pack'g., Caterpillar Tract., Chrysler, Coml. Craterian Star

A refreshing new treatment of the conflict between marriage and career is given in "I Dream Too Much" at the Craterian theater today and tomorrow only, debut picture of Lily Pons, world famed diva of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Miss Pons portrays a little French girl whose glorious voice sweeps her to unwanted fame which her young American husband cannot share. The manner in which she escapes the fetters of fame to attain her ambition of being just a wife and mother is said to be as novel and amusing as it is charged with poignant heart appeal.

Youthful Henry Ponds, Hollywood's "man of the hour," is seen as the husband. Osgood Perkins and Eric Blore have other principal roles.

Miss Pons sings not only operatic arias but four popular songs composed especially for the picture by Jerome Kern and Dorothy Fields, with the melodies fitting logically into the plot fabric of the human interest story. The petite and lovely diva also displays talents as an actress which equal her superb gift of song.
