

DRAFT TAX BILL FOR FARM PLAN IN COMING WEEK

 Despite the gain in ordinary internal revenue, the shutting off of processing taxes led to a net drop of $10,600,000 in January, 1936, as compared to the previous January.
 Most legislators expect Mr. Roosevelt to recommend taxes, perhaps totaling $300,000,000, to succeed the new farm program expected to pass the house this week. But many are hopeful that he will not go beyond that. There have been indications that he may send his recommendations to Capitol Hill next week.
 Democrats Caucus
 An unannounced caucus of Democrats on the house ways and means committee was held yesterday. Chairman Doughton (D., N. C.) said it dealt with "routine matters" although other congressional sources said the January revenue report, showing improved business, was discussed. Legislators heard with interest that treasury experts figure on a 25 per cent gain in income tax collections next month compared with March, 1935.
 Despite a wide sentiment in congress against tax moves now, there was no indication that senate "liberals" would abandon their plan to seek new levies. Senator LaFollette (I., Wis.) plans to demand further widening of the income tax structure, to tax the wealthy more, and levy on several million smaller incomes now exempt.
 In January, total internal revenue collections were $183,765,037, as compared with $194,263,650 in the same month a year ago. The comparative processing tax receipts were $780,295 and $52,097,134 respectively.

COUNTY FARMERS DRAFTING REPORT ON 10-YEAR PLAN

The Jackson county agricultural outlook conference details this morning pondered the final details of reports, they will submit this afternoon to the general conference for approval, to be forwarded to Washington, D. C., for consideration by the department of agriculture.
 The report of the grain crop group committee shows that "wild morning glory," a weed, is appearing in the grain fields of Jackson county, and recommends that steps be taken for its eradication before the grain becomes a greater nuisance.
 A. S. Burrier, land planning expert addressed the conference on soil conservation and fertility.
 The session opened yesterday with 150 farmers in attendance, with H. E. Conger, of Jacksonville, as general chairman.
 Purpose of the conference is to map a ten-year program for Jackson county farmers, all branches of farming being represented.
 Concerted marketing of livestock was shown to have yielded good results the past eight years, and returns from shipments of hogs and cows to Portland were cited as proof.
 County Agent R. G. Fowler reported that 700 new farms had been added in Jackson county in the past six years. Truck gardening was shown to be on the increase, tomato culture leading. Cultivation of onions, lettuce, and potatoes was urged, for future crops.
 Orchard fruits and nuts yield half the farm income, it was shown.
