

VANDALS LOOT TOMB OF SAINT, STEALING CHAIN

VIENNA—(UP)—The tomb of St. Joseph, a Roman Catholic saint, in Vienna's St. Barbara church, has been pillaged.

The glass shrine on the altar, containing the relics of the saint, was broken by burglars, and a heavy golden chain with a cross, and the pious donation of Archduke William, was stolen.

Joseph was a Catholic Basilian monk who became archbishop of Polock, eastern Poland, in the early 17th century.

In 1623 he was killed by rival Russian Pravoslavians in a fight between Catholic Ukrainians and Pravoslavians.

The tomb of Joseph, who was beatified 20 years after his death and subsequently canonized, soon became the center of pilgrimage for Roman Catholic Ukrainians.

During the war between Sweden and Russia in the late 17th century, which largely was fought in that region, the bones of the saint had frequently to change their resting place to thwart thieves and desecrators.

After the war they were restored to their original shrine in Polock, but did not remain there long.

When Czar Peter the Great, in his efforts to suppress an uprising of the Ukrainians, threatened to burn the relics of their national saint, a Prince Radzivil secretly transferred them in 1705 to Biala, where he founded a Basilian monastery and a church in honor of the saint.

There they rested for more than a century and a half in a beautiful silver coffin under the main altar.

The coffin disappeared during the Polish uprising against the czars in the early 60s of the last century.

In 1917 when the district was occupied by Austrian troops an old peasant appeared before the Austrian commander and told him that the saint's bones had been immured under the Biala church.

They were found, but without the silver casket, and Emperor Charles had them transferred to St. Barbara's church in Vienna.

A wealthy Canadian family of French extraction by which the saint was held in particular veneration provided the new silver and glass case, and Archduke William, who was a pretender to the throne of Ukraine, gave the golden chain and cross, which were stolen so recently.

PROGRAM FOR PUBLIC TO BE HELD THURSDAY BY YOUNG DEMOCRATS

Plans for a series of social events, active participation in the presidential campaign and methods of raising funds painlessly were adopted tentatively at a meeting of the Young Democratic club of Jackson county at headquarters last night.

The program of the evening play will be presented at the public presentation of a one-act play next Thursday night. It was voted to include the playlet as part of a regular meeting so that the public might be given a picture of the business that is carried on by the young Democrats.

At the business meeting the season's program of activities will probably be outlined, officers indicated, and one or two speakers will give educational talks on some phase of social work being carried on by the Roosevelt administration.

The meeting and play to which everyone is invited, will be held in St. Mark's guild hall at North Columbia avenue and Fifth street.

A rehearsal of the playlet will be held in the hall at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Considerable enthusiasm was shown by the members last night in freely discussing future plans.

Miss Jeanne Fabrick, treasurer and chairman of the membership committee, showed that both funds and members were increasing.

In the absence of Jack Murray, president, Miss Marjorie Kelly, vice president, presided.

GOOD GARDENING

Tomatoes There's hardly a backyard garden from the Great Lakes to the Rio Grande that would be complete without tomatoes — once called "love apples" — and supposed to be very bad for folks until that melancholy myth was exploded. In order to have tomatoes, it's necessary either to sow the seeds in the house or in a hotbed or buy plants from some commercial grower.

Seeds come up in eight or ten days and seedlings usually are ready for transplanting in two weeks.

Once transplanted, the stems should be tied to stakes to keep them alive and upright and the fruit off the ground.

A stake an inch and a half in diameter and four to five feet long will answer. Planting season varies from early March in the far south to early June in the far north.

FUTURE CRAFTSMEN OF HIGH SCHOOL TO STAGE PLAY TUESDAY EVENING

The Future Craftsmen will sponsor a play entitled "Fuller's Fortune," to be presented at the high school auditorium Tuesday, March 10, at 8 p. m.

The play is a three-act comedy written by C. E. Wilcox.

Judge Fuller, having developed a sick complex, was bothered about the disposition of his property. With no children and no close relatives, he hesitated to leave his fortune to distant relatives he had never seen.

He wired a few he had discovered, that Judge Fuller had died and if interested in his fortune, they should appear at his ranch house at a certain time.

With the aid of friends, he poses as a hired man to await the arrival of the five relatives.

The judge finds it a lot of fun being a dead man when he is really alive. Action takes place at Judge Fuller's ranch house in Colorado.

The "Arkansas Kid" and his company will furnish music between acts. The cast includes: Judge Fuller, Jeff Peters; Broncho Bright, the judge's confidential friend, Myron "Red" Walters; Betty Bright, Broncho's daughter, Mary Lou Igo; Mary White, a social worker, Virginia Goodman; Mrs. Scotty, unaccustomed to the west, Betty Dallator; Mr. Scotty, also new to the west, Eldon Tolle; Mrs. Brittlepop, Norma Burdell; Walter Davidson, Phelan Benford; Mrs. Oscar G. Gibson is director; L. A. Mentzer, counselor of Future Craftsmen, and Ray Daugherty, stage manager; Bob and Milton Benford, doormen; Bill Goodman, business manager.

BOURBON LEADERS WILL GIVE TALKS AT MEET MONDAY

A general meeting of Democrats of Jackson county has been called for 8 o'clock next Monday night at which time Frank Tierney, executive secretary of the Democratic state central committee, and Les Gosselin, secretary to Gov. Charles H. Martin, will be leading speakers.

It was announced today by Ralph Stephenson, chairman of the county central committee. Mr. Stephenson received a letter from Tierney today stating that he and Gosselin would be here Monday.

Mr. Gosselin, a leading figure in the development of the party in Oregon, will speak on the general political outlook of the state.

An outline of the coming campaign program will also be presented at the meeting, Stephenson said.

Every democrat in the county, the young democrats as well as the old democrats, should attend this meeting, Stephenson said.

Gosselin is a forceful speaker, and he represents the spirit of progress that we should all have instilled into our minds. Through hard work, he has become secretary to Governor Martin and has made good at his job.

Every young democrat should attend the meeting by all means.

Gosselin has also been prominently mentioned as a possible candidate for governor on the democratic ticket two years from now, in case Governor Martin declines to run again.

Monday's meeting will be held at Democratic headquarters, 133 West Main street.
