We expect a large crowd Sunday. Be sure and be on time. All are invited.

Business Good—George L. Jantzer, head of the Prospect lumber company bearing his name, left for his home in Trail yesterday after transacting business here. He is running his sawmill at full capacity and anticipates an excellent year for the lumber industry. He backed up an optimism by buying a new four-ton truck for his business.

Dr. Pieter K. Roest, field director of the American Theosophical society, will deliver a lecture on "untouched national wealth," at the local lodge rooms, 220 No. Oakdale, at 3 p. m. March 12. Dr. Roest has spoken here on two occasions and was received with enthusiasm. The public is invited to attend.
Dr. Roest, who carries a cum laude degree in sociology and anthropology from the University of Chicago, has a notable educational background in addition to a real understanding of man, gained through wide travel and study. After fulfilling an invitation for a lectureship in India, he undertook research work in Australia, making a study of national development in one of the world's newest white man's countries. After a study of race-crossing in Java, on behalf of the government, he returned to America in 1930.
He became head of the social science department of the University of Toledo, transferring the next year to Reed college, Portland, Ore., the leading progressive college on the west coast. In charge of the sociology department until September, 1933, he took a leave of absence to undertake educational and cultural work for the American Theosophical society as its field director.
The straightforward sincerity and fine but simple language of his talks arouse enthusiasm wherever he goes, be his audience a group of little children or the fastidious and critical listeners of a cosmopolitan intelligentsia.

Teachers Chorus To Give Concert
The Jackson County Teachers chorus under direction of Esther Church Leake will present their first concert of the year on the evening of March 30. The chorus will be assisted by the Medford Gleemen, a new group of songs. Another interesting feature will be a trio composed of Effie Kurtz, soprano, Floy Young, violinist, and Captain Franklin Cantrell, cellist.

The Jackson County Teachers chorus was organized three years ago last fall under direction of Miss Harriet Baldwin, with the cooperation of Mrs. Una Inch. At that time it was, and today it still is an unusual organization, since its only purpose is to provide musical expression for its members and to bring some enjoyment to the community through its program.

The membership is now thirty-eight, with Miss Floy Young of the Medford senior high school acting as president and Miss Mary Chambers of the Talent school as pianist. This is the second year that the chorus has been under direction of Mrs. Leake.

Bishop Dagwell Speaks Wednesday Episcopal Church

The regular Wednesday evening sermon at St. Mark's Episcopal church at 7:30, March 11, will be delivered by Bishop Benjamin D. Dagwell, new head of the Oregon diocese who succeeds the late Bishop Sumner. The visit by Bishop Dagwell is not to be the regular official visit to this parish, but is of an informal nature, designed to become acquainted with the parishioners in this district. Rev. E. S. Bartram, rector of St. Mark's church, said. The official visit will be made some time later in the spring. Immediately after the church service Bishop Dagwell will be honored guest at an informal reception in the parish house.
